MANY DIE IN EUROPEAN FLOOD

CITY OFFICIALS-ELECT QUALIFY JAN. 1

Science Marches On.
Italy Is Not Tired.

About Mustaches.

While modernists and fundamentalists fight, science never ceases its fight against falsehood, superstition and ignorance.

Dr. Scott of Princeton college, says that, beyond a doubt, Pithecanthropus, the "mokeey-shaped man," was a human of low grade. Believe it or not. Dr. Bunker of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology finds a substitute for white of egg, made from beef serum.

Harvard scientists read the ancient Mayan calendar and learn that in Central America, 600 years before Christ there were excellent astronomers able to calculate time by the movements of the planet Venus.

Fascism says Italy doesn't want any "limitation of arms." Complete disarmament might appeal to Italians, but they have learned lessons in the last year, and will not put themselves in the hand of paternal regulating powers.

Italy lost many men and a good deal of money, but not her fighting spirit, and proposes to keep in shape to fight for her rights if necessary. There is no nervous breakdown about Mussolini.

El Sol of Madrid hopes and believes that America "will not annex Cuba." That's a reasonable hope. The United States people would not care to brand themselves thieves and murderers to add a little to the [illegible]ory. And it would take much fighting and killing to make the brave Cubans give up. What America wants is to see Cuba prosper as a good neighbor. And the United States ought by law and reasonable tariffs encourage Cuban prosperity.

Now the mustache returns, and German moving picture actors complain that actresses, more important than men, will not have actors with mustaches in love scenes, because the mustache scratches.

If Germans want to imitate a soldied, why not imitate Alexander the Great? He never ran away, and had he been alive in 1914 he would have taught imitation modern generals something about war. It was he who made the smooth face fashionable. Caesar and Napoleon imitated him. That tri ought to be good enough.

A poor old woman, aged 71, is found dead in a wretched tenement, no furniture, a few dry crusts and six thousand dollars to her credit in three banks. Unjustly this old lady is called "miser." Interest on six thousand dollars would give her less than 80 cents a day. You can't live on that, although you can keep going if you rummage in garbage cans and pick up fruit dropped by peddlers as Mrs. Deutscher did.

CEREMONIES WILL BE HELD IN MUNICIPAL COURT ROOM

Mayor Brown Will Administer Oath to Successor.

PROGRAM READY

Labor, Employers, Pastors and Civic Leaders Invited.

Elaborate ceremonies, attendant upon the opening of East Liverpool's new municipal court which abolishes five justice of the peace places, and the induction into office of Mayor-elect Ralph C. Benedum, Democrat, and other members of the city administration, will be held here New Year's day.

Invitations Issued.

The ceremonies will take place in the home of the new court on the third floor of the Thompson building, Fourth and Market streets, at 10 o'clock Friday morning.

Invitations have been addressed to Trades and Labor Council, the Ministerial Association, Chamber of Commerce, National Brotherhood of Operative Potters, Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions clubs, United States Potters association, county officials, retired city and township officials and State Senators Harry Carpenter, Steubenville, and John D. Hayes, Martins Ferry, and State Representative Ralph W. Emmons, East Rochester, asking them to take part in the exercises.

Judge Farr To Speak.

Attorney Blaine H. Cochran, president of the bar association, will preside at the ceremonies. The invocation will be pronounced by Rev. W. H. Clark, pastor of the Emmanuel Presbyterian church, after which Mr. Cochran will outline the history and work of the new court.

Retiring Mayor Charles Brown will then administer the oath to his successor. Mayor-elect Benedum will then swear in other municipal and township officials, including members of council, city auditor, treasurer, solicitor, members of the various boards and commissions and township trustees.

Judge L. T. Farr, Lisbon, appellate court jurist, will then make a short address, after which Common Pleas Judge James G. Moore, Lisbon, will administer the oath of office to Municipal Judge-elect Jesse C. Hanley. Mr. Hanley will then qualify the court bailiff, clerk of courts, court steno-

Bandits Wound Man, Seize $2,000 as 35 Are Held at Bay

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—Three bandits, each toting two guns, shot and probably fatally wounded Manuel Fernadez, 40, owner of a boarding house for Spanish seamen early today. They escaped with $2,000. Thirty-five men in the dining room were held at bay.

Killers Wash Body Of Victim, Garb it In Fresh Clothing

CHICAGO, Dec. 30.—Killers who, after battering to a pulp the head of Albert Nusbaum, 65-year-old carpenter-contractor, are believed to have washed the body, garbed it in and carried it a quarter of a mile from the scene of the murder, were being sought by police here today.

Two hours after the body was found in a lonely spot on the prairies south of the city near where Loeb and Leopold killed little Bobby Franks, in 1924, Floyd Nusbaum, grandson of the victim, was under arrest and a dragnet was spread for his chum.

RIVERMEN FEAR LOSS WHEN ICE GORGE BREAKS

Sand Company Moves Dredger, Launch and Barges.

SURFACE SOLID

Many Walk From Ohio to West Virginia Shores.

Fears for the safety of the wharfboat and other craft were expressed today by rivermen as a result of a gorge, which may develop when the ice, which is said to cover the Ohio river from Cincinnati to Pittsburgh, breaks.

Ice is about four inches thick—heavy enough to support a team of horses. Many persons crossed the frozen surface from East Liverpool to Chester yesterday.

The river has been closed to navigation since Monday morning when a tug boat with a number of empty barges went up the river. Three Ohio river packet boats are tied up at Pittsburgh.

Anticipating the freeze, the East Liverpool Sand company last week moved a dredge boat, barges and other floating equipment to a point just below Babb's Island, where they will be protected in case of a gorge. The river channel is on the south side of the island, little water coming down the narrow stretch between the island and the Ohio shore.

Below Zero Early Today.

The wickets at Dam No. 8, below here, were lowered Monday and Tuesday to prevent damage when the ice breaks. Had the wickets been lowered before the cold snap developed there is little liklihood that the water would have frozen as the current would have acted as a deterrent.

Chinese Government Official Slain to Avenge Execution

PEKING, Dec. 30.—Hsu-Shu-Chang, who recently returned from a trip through the United States as Chinese government commissioner, was assassinated at Langfang, China, today.

The assassin, Luchengwu, admitted the killing. He said he did it to avenge his father who was executed seven years before by Hsu-Shu-Chang.

One Hundred Twenty-five Attend Birthday Party.

DANCE FEATURED

W. E. Wells Toastmaster at Country Club Affair.

With Jess W. Pugh, noted Chicago lecturer and humorist, as the speaker, the East Liverpool Rotary club celebrated its fifth anniversary with a dinner-dance at the Country club last evening. Approximately 125 guests, including Rotarians, their wives and friends, attended the meeting.

Mr. Pugh came here as a substitute for Ralph W. Bingham, widely known humorist, who dropped dead at his home in Philadelphia Monday morning. For approximately an hour he spoke, entertaining his audience with his monologues and stories.

A turkey dinner was served by the club steward. The tables were decorated with bouquets of winter flowers. The corus singing was led by Attorney Blaine H. Cochran, with Mrs. Danks Cochran as the accompanist.

Tribute Paid Secretary Barth.

In the absence of President F. L. Wells, Vice President Malcolm Thompson presided. Mr. Cochran sang a solo, "Out of the Dusk to You." W. E. Wells, Newell, introduced Mr. Pugh, who is a member of the Rotary club at Rushville, Ind., his home town.

Mr. Wells in his introductory remarks lauded Secretary H. B. Barth of the local club as "the most efficient, most energetic secretary that glorified Rotary in the wide, wide world." He declared that because of the jealous feeling Ohio and West Virginia bear toward Indiana, which has furnished the country with its greatest statesmen, educators, writers, poets and Democrats, the committee had done its best to secure a speaker

KIWANIS CLUB MEETS TOMORROW

The Kiwanis club will meet in the Larkins' Annex, Market street, at noon tomorrow. This will be the last session at which Dr. George E. Lewis, retiring president, will preside. The attendance prize will be furnished by James J. Reese, Dresden avenue jeweler.

Attorney Graham Will Make Address At Masonic Meet

Attorney Lewis E. Graham, Beaver Falls, ex-prosecuting attorney of Beaver county, and now head of the liquor enforcement division of the attorney general's office at Harrisburg, will address a meeting of Masons in the Masonic temple, Broadway, at 7:30 o'clock tonight. His subject will be, "Our Masonic Heritage."

Attorney Graham, who is spending the holidays with his family in Beaver Falls, was invited by Robert H. Perry.

Tonight's affair is under the auspices of East Liverpool lodge No. 681, F. & A. M., although all master Masons of the local district are invited.

Community Watch Night Service in Northside Church

A community watch night service will be held at the Orchard Grove Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, beginning at 9:40 o'clock Thursday evening.

A program of old hymns, folk lore and similar selections will be rendered. There will be solos and duets and a special consecration service, with a social intermission.

The service, which will continue until midnight, will be in charge of Rev. S. Lee Whiteman, pastor of the church.

NEWELL SCHOOL TEACHER DIES OF GUN WOUND

YULE TRAGEDY

John W. D. Ammons, 25, eighth grade teacher in the Grant district school at Newell, is dead at his home in Fairview, a suburb of Fairmont, W. Va., today, as the result of an accidental shooting during a family reunion on Christmas Day.

Ammons, who came to Newell in October, was spending his holiday vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Ammons. On Christmas Day, his parents and other members of the family were guests at the home of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar O. Jones, near Fairmont.

After dinner, members of the family went to the barn yard to engage in target practice. Young Ammons later joined the party.

Earl Jones, his eight-year-old nephew, is said to have attempted to lift a loaded shotgun from a buggy standing in the barn yard, just as young Ammons approached. The trigger of the gun caught on the vehicle and the gun was discharged.

The full force of the shot caught the young man in the left side, causing a gaping wound. He was taken to the Cook hospital at Fairmont, where he died.

Ammons attended Chicago university last year but before that had taught school near Fairmont. He is a graduate of the Fairmont Normal school. Besides his parents he is survived by three sisters, and one brother.

Coolidge-Pershing Break Over Boundary Plebiscite Denied

CHICAGO, Dec. 30—Secretary of State Kellogg, passing through Chicago today, denied rumors of a break between President Coolidge and General Pershing over the Chile-Peru plebiscite.

Mr. Kellogg, who is enroute to Washington from Minneapolis, was accompanied by Mrs. Kellogg. He is returning early to the capital principally to confer with President Coolidge and congressional leaders on the proposed league of nations disarmament conference.

RIVERS ON RAMPAGE AS GALES DRIVE SHIPS TO SHORE; ONE S. O. S. CALL

STEAMER CORONADO, CARRYING 162 SOULS, IS REPORTED IN DISTRESS

Hundreds of Lives Are Reported Lost, While Property Destruction Will Run Into Many Millions of Dollars as Floating Ice Chokes Streams, Causing Them to Overflow.

Europe is suffering heavy damage and loss of life, due to swollen rivers caused by unseasonable thaws and heavy rains.

In Rumania there are reports of many lives lost. Thorenburg is reported to have been under water for several days, with the loss of a number of lives and great property damage. Other districts of Rumania and Hungary have suffered greatly.

Germany's rivers are rapidly rising and already Cologne has been partially flooded. At Coblenz and other points along the Rhine there are grave fears. Traffic on the Rhine has been suspended.

The Seine in France is badly swollen and floods are reported from many towns and villages.

Heavy gales are doing extensive damage in England and shipping is fleeing for port. One unconfirmed S. O. S. is reported from the steamer Coronado, and a Belgian steamer has been driven ashore at Eastbourne.

Houses, Factories Abandoned.

Holland's lowlands are under water, High winds swept a motor-boat from a ferry and drowned six persons.

Throughout Belgium rivers and canals have swept over their banks. Houses and factories have been flooded and abandoned. Railway traffic is interrupted and shipping is menaced.

The total loss of life cannot be estimated. The reports of heaviest toll came from Rumania where it is believed hundreds of lives have been lost.

The damage will mount into many millions of dollars. From Rumania and Hungary it is reported that it will be many weeks before normal life can be resumed and property restored.

The dangers of the floods have not subsided. Floating ice chokes many rivers, causing them to dam and overflow.

London reports that a gale is blowing in from the Atlantic give hopes that a cold wave and an end of the thaw will accompany it.

Government agencies in flood zones are doing their utmost to render relief. In districts of Rumania and Hungary the military are in complete control and local martial law has been declared in the flooded areas.

Merchant Robbed Of $7,500 Cash and Auto By Bandits

HAMMONTON, N. J., Dec. 30.—Anthony P. Macrie, 30, hardware manufacturer, was held up by four masked bandits early today, robbed of $7,500 in cash and his automobile.

Bruised from the attack made by the bandits and suffering from the intense cold, Macrie staggered into the headquarters of the state police here, and collapsed after informing the police of his losses.

Two Die In Police-Bandit Battle.

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 30.—Police Sergeant Michael Lawrence, 67, and Stanley Sieban, 37, bandit, were killed and two others were wounded in a battle between three policemen and the bandit, pursued after he had wounded a grocery keeper in a hold-up attempt.

Attention, Pastors! Mail Your Church Notices Tonight

Inasmuch as Friday, New Year's Day, is a holiday for newspaper workers, all church announcements, to insure publication Saturday, must be on the church editor's desk not later than noon Thursday.

Pastors should mail announcements tonight, or send copy to office Thursday morning.

Two Men Held as Roommate Dies of Gaping Head Wound

CLEVELAND, Dec. 30.—Charles Plachter's two roommates were being held by police today in connection with Plachter's death, caused by a gaping head wound, presumably caused by an ax blow.

One of the roommates, Joseph Schmeidel, told police a story about the three men playing cards and drinking and an argument. George Novak, the other roommate of Plachter, was said to have snatched up an ax and struck Plachter over the head with it. Novak denies this version.

Plachter is 40.

Train and Trolley Car Crash; Seven Persons are Hurt

HOMESTEAD, Pa., Dec. 30.—Seven persons were injured and 20 passengers miraculously escaped death today when a Pittsburgh and Lake Erie freight train crashed into a street car.

Motorman Joseph Fahnerath sustained cuts and bruises on the head, and was removed to his home. The others injured were hurt in the panic that ensued following the crash, when the street car nearly overturned.

The accident occured in a dense fog.

BUCKEYE STATE BUILDING AND LOAN STOCKHOLDERS AND DEPOSITORS WILL CUT $21,250,000 MELON

COLUMBUS, Dec. 30.—Stockholders and depositors in buildng and loan associations throughout Ohio will be paid a total of $21,250,000 in interest and dividends within the next few days, according to a prepared statement issued today by James A. Devine, secretary of the Ohio Building Association league.

A similar payment was made in July, last, bringing the amount paid by the institutions in 1925 up to a grand total of $42,500,000.

"If easy money makes a prosperous ondition, then Ohioans will be busy folks during 1926," Devine declared following a survey which he conducted among 10,000 Ohio business men who are directors in building and loan associations. The 936 building and loan companies in Ohio today have total assets of $900,000,000 a gain of $100,000,000 during the last 12 months.

Farmers' Earnings Increase.

Devine's business survey shows that the past year was one of the most prosperous in the history of Ohio building and loan associations, the per capita savings in building and loan associations increasing from $133 to $150. The average deposit in these associations during the past year increases from $500 to $562.

According to Devine in his survey of building and loans, Ohio farmers bettered their financial position decidedly during the year just ending. Not only were most of the 50,000 farm borrowers able to meet their interest payments, but they also cut down their loans.

"Ohio farmers may have had decreased earning power during the last few years, but due to thrift and economy a period of many years, agricultural workers in Ohio have accumulated $465,000,000 in Ohio building and loan associations.' In other words, according to Devine's survey, Ohio farmers have more than one half the total resources of Ohio building and loan associations.

Financed 50,348 Homes.

The building and loan survey further shows that these instiutions during 1925 financed 75 per cent of the home building in Ohio, or a total of 50,348 new homes or improvements upon old homes.

The composite viewpoint of 10,000 directors in Ohio building and loan associations indicated that building during 1926 would be confined mostly to residential construction by people who will build homes to live in them. Advance requests for home loans indicate the building of many small homes during the coming year, homes costing from $4,000 to $8,000. Building and loan men believe that speculative building will be materially less than during 1925.

Devine said Ohio building and loan associations now have more available cash than at any similar time during the last five years.

70,000 New Homes Needed.

"We shall not urge home building during 1926 because we have no desire to overbuild any city in the state," Devine declared. "There are cities in Ohio which are now over-built and building and loan associations in these centers will make loans sparingly until this condition is overcome.

"However, we find there are at least 70,000 new home necessary to meet the demand of those who would have homes of their own and if we can finance 75 per cent of this number during 1926, building and loan associations will again be able to keep the building industry prosperous in Ohio."

Devine predicted that the total resources of building and loan associations in Ohio during 1926 would reach the billion dollar mark, thereby putting Ohio in first place among the states of the United States with respect to the assets and resources of its building and loan associations. It is now second only to Pennsylvania.

Five Race Horses Burned to Death In $19,000 Blaze

NEW ORLEANS, La., Dec. 30.—Damage estimated today at $19,000 was caused by a fire which destroyed a barn at the fair grounds race track and burned five horses to death.

The horses destroyed were: Bulbul, valued at $2,000, and Sunny Ducrow, $3,000, owned by R. H. Drew of Chicago; Blue Stone, $5,000, and Require, $3,000, owned by William H. Hall, Latonia, Ky., and Helen G., $2,500, owned by Charles Wilson, of Chicago.

High Prince, owned by Hall and Martha Moore, and Red Squirrel, owned by Wilson, were burned.

THURSTON HERE FOR TWO DAYS

Thurston, that name with which thousands have conjured, and as many more have been mystified, who is now making his 20th annual tour, will appear at the Ceramic theatre for Monday and Tuesday, January 4th and 5th, with matinee Tuesday.

With his bewildering array of mysteries, illusions, sleight-of-hand magic prestidigitation and what not, Thurston is presenting a program that is said to be the climax of profoundest achievement in modern magic. His performance is always fascinating, especially a second or third time. In fact, one gets better acquainted with his mysteries but no nearer their elucidation. The many feats he performs continue to be mysterious, and the calm master of all these magical glories remains in the background directing his invisible forces with a quiet play of his hands, or the magic of his large solemn eyes.

Thurston carries a company of 35 people, many of which are pretty girls, and three 60-foot baggage cars are used for the transportation of the huge amount of paraphernalia, animals, scenery and effects that go to make up the best program of his career, and include such bewildering mysteries as "The Great East Indian Rope Trick," "Broadcasting a Woman," "Beauty, the Vanishing Horse," "Disintegration of a Human Form," "The Mystic Follies," "The Vanishing Donkey," "The Human Pin Cushion," "The Elastic Lady," "The Phantom Princess" who floats out over the stage into the orchestra then vanishing like a cloud in thin air, and one hundred other mysteries.

Automobile Is Modern Juggernaut

Columbiana county fatality records, published yesterday by the Review-Tribune, indicate that the automobile is the modern Juggernaut, for 20 of the 61 lives snuffed out under the "sudden death" classification during 1925 were claimed by the automotive vehicle.

The motor car's toll in the entire country is increasing by leaps and bounds just as it is in Columbiana county, judging from the estimate of the department of commerce at Washington that 6,100 lives will be the price paid in 78 large cities for the recklessness of American drivers.

Total deaths due to autos in cities of 100,000 poulation and over in the United States during 1924 were 5,331, while on December 5, this year, the 1925 total was 5,768, and was steadily mounting. At this rate, the total big city slaughter will reach 6,175 before the New Year is ushered in.

And if figures from cities of less than 100,000 population—and this statistical report would include the 20 lives sacrificed in Columbiana county—were available, at least 10,000 would be added to the death toll. Last year, automobiles caused 15,528 of the 75,745 accidental deaths in the United States.

The appalling cost in human life exacted by the speed maniac is driven home by federal reports which show that the national death rate from all causes in 1924 was 11.9 for 100,000 population, compared with 16.8 in automobile fatalities.

Motorists as well as pedestrians should learn a lesson from these figures. And it is observance of common sense traffic regulations.

Water Disputes

Chicago is getting plenty of support for her Lakes-to-Gulf waterway plan. A recent dispatch from that city says that attorneys general of six states have agreed to back her demand for 10,000 cubic feet of water a second from Lake Michigan, for the canal to the Mississippi.

They represent Illinois, Kentucky, Tennessee, Arkansas, Mississippi and Louisiana. They will help defend the suit brought in the United States Supreme Court by Michigan, Wisconsin and other states bordering the Great Lakes, to keep lake water from being diverted in large quantity into the Mississippi.

They need 10,000 feet a second from Lake Michigan, they say, "to maintain permanent water levels in the lower Mississippi and assure year-round navigation."

On the other hand, several northern states say they need that water to maintain permanent water levels in the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence. Also that it is theirs, given them by nature, and other states have no right to it, no matter what their needs may be.

Manifestly it is a case for the highest court to settle, and it has been wise to carry it there and ask for prompt determination.

It is, moreover, the latest and most striking example of the value that water is coming to have in this country for transportation purposes, as well as irrigation, and the conflicting claims that are bound to arise in turning it to public use. The West has had its big dispute over the waters of the Colorado. The Middle West is now disputing about the water of the Great Lakes. Where will the next controversy arise?

Save Rubber

The saving to the American people affected by reducing federal taxes will be eaten up, twice over, by the increased cost of rubber. Present prices are said to be $700,000,000 a year more than the market ought to pay.

Our rubber consumption is mostly in the form of automobile tires. The alleged extortion costs the automobile owner $30 to $70 a year.

The consumer cannot beat this game, but he can help himself to a considerable extent. Secretary of Commerce Hoover says:

"We can reduce our consumption of rubber 25 per cent without decreasing the use of our cars by a single mile, if we will simply repair our tires in time and use them carefully."

Any repair man will save money for the automobilist if the latter can't make the necessary repairs himself, or doesn't want to. Any tire dealer will give general directions for getting the most wear out of tires.

Fast driving overheats tires and wears them out prematurely. Sudden starting and stopping is bad for them. Over-inflation encourages blowouts; under-inflation may break the fabric and ruin them. Moderate and careful driving, and filling holes or cracks in the outer layer of rubber as they develop, may double the life of any tire.

The idea that aristocracy dies out is all nonsense, if kings are aristocrats. You don't find much race suicide in royal families.

Congress always grants relief sooner or later, and so it is in order for a grateful nation to thank its lawmakers for voting to untax mah-jongg sets.

Speaking of feminine rule, "Ma" Ferguson blocks a special session of the Texas legislature and will do all the talking herself.

Mussolini has a heart, at any rate. He let the Italian royal family have a Christmas tree.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY
By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—Gotham's most famous citadel of the hang-over is no more. The Murray Hill baths on Forty-second street have been ravaged, looted and knocked down under the auctioneer's hammer, even to the nude statue that stood in the foyer.

It was a soothing haven for the back wash of endurance poker siestas, farewell bachelor dinners and sundry high flings of social clubs. Men, bloated and unsteady, retired to the marble slabbed depths and were pummeled and sweated into pink of first class respectability.

No one was ever paged at the Murray Hill baths nor for an inquirer was anyone ever there. Once one left his clothes behind he might disappear as magically as a wraith of steam in one of the cubicle parlors of perspiration.

Every dawn in the old days showed a row of snoring revelers in winding sheets laid out with morgue-like precision. It could never be imagined that only a few hours before many had been the life of the party—little rays of sunshine illuminating the darkened corner of a grill.

For years stimulation oozed from the dexterous fingers of Bill Guldensuppe, a true Knight of the Bath, and best known among the army of rubbers. Then Bill became chief figure of an historic murder. He was slain by a woman and her lover and the lover was electrocuted at Sing Sing.

No one ever took his place, and the gradual decline of the Murray Hill baths set in. A new set of bloods sprung up and sought other baths and old patrons began to battle with their chronic neurosthenia at the fashionable European spas.

It was in front of the Murray Hill baths the famous "gray murder car" waited while Gyp the Blood, Whitey Lewis and Lefty Louie went forth to pistol the gambler Rosenthal as he stood in a garish rift of light at the entrance of the old Metropole.

No picturesques names now adorn gangland. The old timers—Big Jack Zelig, Kid Dropper, Louis the Lump, Kid Twist and Tanner Smith—died crop of gunmen, with the exquisite as they lived, by the gun. The new manners of their guild, use names that would snugly fit a dancing fop. They do not pounce in with a "Stick 'em up," but a "Pardon the intrusion." Their locks are Valentinoed and gestures are likely to be Brummelish and faces Byronic. They carry pistols and use them, too, but they are no more like the old time gangster than Chicago Red resembles Admiral Crichton. It is told that one in shirted turquise blue was picked up in a smart cafe while perusing "The Dial." He had that morning cleaned out a jewelry shop and shot two in the subsequent chase.

Monk Eastman, a species of the human fungi that grew in the dank East Side cellars, embarked early on a gangster career. He later "went straight" and made a record in the war, but old vices called him and he returned. Primed with drugs and on a sinister errand, he was found near Fourteenth street in a pool of his own blood—shot to death.

Some years ago I interviewed Big Jack Zelig for a New York paper. He as no other had thrown the gang terror into the hearts of stuss dealers and small fry merchants on the East Side. He seemed far removed from the gangster I imagined. He was neatly dressed and had the crisp and aggressive manner of the eminent Herbert Bayard Swope—Swope of the World.

I wished today for the murder lust of a gangster. A limousine rolled over a confused little dog on Park avenue and raced away without stopping.

HASKIN'S LETTER
By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

The New Marvin Calendar

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 30.—The Gregorian year will lose eight days by the year 13,000. By the year 3600, one day will be irretrievably lost, and each year that passes sees the present method of reckoning time losing time at a definite rate. So, in order to prevent this and to standardize the calendar forever, Dr. Charles F. Marvin, of the United States weather Bureau, has proposed a new calendar which, he says, will stop the practice of wasting days and create a simpler arrangement of time keeping than now is in vogue.

Dr. Marvin's new day and year schedule will be an advancement over the Gregorian calendar, just as that was an improvement over the old Julian calendar. And the Julian calendar was a rather confusing thing. It was better than what had been used before, but it left much room for improvement. So Pope Gregory took advantage of the mistakes made by Caesar and made his own calendar. And now Dr. Marvin thinks Pope Gregory left room for improvement and proposes to correct matters.

The Julian calendar was not accurate. The fundamental purpose of any calendar is to measure and simplify the reckoning of the passage of time. It must be easy to understand, accurate, and convenient, for people will up not long tolerate inaccuracies in a calendar. Life is too short and too precious to have the passage of its days confused.

The Julian calendar, if it had not been discarded, would have produced, to say the least, a singular state of affairs. The merry Yuletide and New Year's would eventually have found themselves where the Fourth of July ought to be, while the glorious Fourth, displaced by the winter holidays, would have fled around the circle until it would have shivered and sky-rocketed in the wintry blasts of January. All this would prove rather annoying to tradition and department stores and Christmas verse writers.

Eleven Days Lost

The Gregorian calendar has been in use in England and America for less than 200 years. When George Washington was a stripling he celebrated his birthdays on the eleventh of February, as the Julian calendar was then in use. Just before he was 21, on the third of September, 1752, Great Britain changed calendars and her honest subjects found they were eleven days older and perhaps that many behind the rent. No one could die or be born on the eleven dates omitted, but Washington, at least, made it up, for he was not 21 until the twenty-second of February, 1753, so his year was just the same.

The Gregorian calendar came into almost universal use in 1923, when, on the fourteenth of October, the Greek Orthodox churches threw away the Julian system and adopted the more advanced style. They did this by calling the first of October the fourteenth, thus eliminating the 13 days of excess erroneously introduced by the Julian leap year rule. The Eastern churches, always strongly opposed on religious grounds to the adoption of the Gregorian calendar, have set up a new and different rule which provides that all years divisible by four are leap years, except that only those centuries remain leap years when the century numbers divided by nine yield a remainder of two or six. This rule, according to Dr. Marvin, is slightly more accurate than the Gregorian rule, but not so accurate as the one he proposes, namely to omit four leap years in 500 years. Three leap years are now omitted in 400 years.

With these changes, for the first time since 1582, when the Gregorian calendar was introduced, 700,000,000 Christians are celebrating Christmas and Easter on the same days.

But Dr. Marvin declares that the calendar is not yet accurate enough. His scheme would standardize the year according to dates and would make this a universal system.

He has his opponents on religious grounds. These people are opposed to his plan because of the verse in the Bible which reads: 'Remember the Sabbath day, to keep it holy. Six days shalt thou labor and do all thy work." But to persons who voice such opposition, he answers that he intends to keep inviolate the seven day week, and that such antagonism usually arises from not understanding what he is trying to do.

Gives Us An Extra Month

Dr. Marvin's calendar would equalize the length of the months by making each of 28 days duration and adding an extra month to the year. By starting on the first of January, 1928, which falls on Sunday, this calendar could be brought into use without affecting the regular order of things. He would not attempt to compute the exact tally of days since the first Sabbath, since that is impossible, and the dates are hopelessly lost in the centuries that have elapsed, but by starting on New Year's Day, 1928, his result could be accomplished with little or no trouble to anybody.

According to this schedule each month would be of exactly four week's duration, thereby doing away with the extra two or three days in the months and in the case of leap year, one extra day in the year. The year 1928 is a leap year and must have 366 days. The new calendar, divided into thirteen months would provide for 364 days. But the two extra days that occur in leap year and the one extra day that occurs every common year would be taken care of by setting them aside and not giving them any week day name. They would be made public holidays and therefore would not interfere with any schedule. They would be skipped, or disregarded, as it were.

The 365th day of the year would fall in the same order as December 31 does now, and would not make any difference in the year. The extra day of leap year would not fall in the same order as February 29 does now, but would be intercalated between the sixth and seventh months of the new calendar.

The extra month of the new calendar would be the seventh month. Dr. Marvin's reason for so placing it is that it would cause less trouble in the matter of displacement of familiar dates. By his new system, he says, "mankind will be spared the constantly shifting day names in the different years now experienced."

To Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home

Has no equal for prompt results.
Takes but a moment to make.
Saves about $2

You know that pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several peculiar elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest. Pine is famous for this purpose.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup.

To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make a full pint—more than you can buy ready-made for three times the money. It is pure, good and very pleasant—children take it eagerly.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—inflamed membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment.

Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

from another state but finally as a last resort were compelled to take a Hoosier.

"If there were more toastmasters like Mr. Wells and less speakers like me, banquets would be more popular," began Mr. Pugh in his address. "I am here tonight as a substitute for Ralph Bingham. A substitute is never popular.

Pities Man Who Can't Laugh.

"I like the introduction which I received tonight. Whenever I hear an extravagant introduction before I am to speak, I look carefully around to see if there is any one in my audience who recognizes me.

"I pity the man, who can't laugh—the man who never has a good time except when he is attending a funeral. I heard of a man up in Michigan the other day, who broke his arm trying to pat himself on the back.

"When I get ready to tell a story I never let a little thing like antiquity stand in the way. Stories are peculiar things. You can't tell this year's crop from last year's."

"There's no harm in telling a fish story," the speaker contined. "It's no sin, it's a gift. When you have stiff competition in story telling its a good policy to let the other fellow shoot first. My only reason for telling a mother-in-law story is that they come under the head of entertainment."

Advice to Public Speakers.

Mr. Pugh then gave a burlesque entertainment on "How to Become a Public Speaker."

"All you need to be a public speaker is the public. When you have a different audience each time it makes it easier, for the audience. A public speaker must have gestures to drive home his points. The first gesture is to shake your index finger and say, 'I view with alarm.' That will arouse the interest of your audience to its highest pitch.

"Then the next gesture is to twist your watch chain with your left hand and say, 'We are standing on the brink.' This will also prove a strong point. When you try to bring out a strong point in your address run your fingers through your hair, but be careful that you don't get splinters in them. Always remember, however, that the people you address are human beings.

"God forbid that I should ever tell a woman how to speak. They know how without being told. A woman can make a better speech with a 400-word vocabulary than the average man with 4,000 words at his command. I never alibi; I am married.

Returns To Indiana

"In Mexico, a man who runs for president runs twice—before he's through—once for office and once for his life.

"The measure of a man is the fight he shows when his back is against the wall in the face of difficulties. It takes a man to cheer when the other fellow stars."

The speake, closed his talk with a monologue, reciting a telephone conversation between a Negro servant and his employer over the subject of a balky mule.

Mr. Pugh left East Liverpool on a late car for Steubenville last evening, returning to Rushville, where he will spend New Year's day.

The committee in charge of the anniversary meeting included W. E. Wells, James S. Hilbert and T. E. Lewis.

LONDON, Dec. 30.—Distress signals were received today from the steamer Coronado, caught in a violent gale off Landsend. The Coranado, with 60 passengers and a crew of 102, was bound for Jamaica.

Efforts to reach the Coronado later in the day have thus far been in vain.

Owners of the vessel said this morning that they had last heard from the vessel on Tuesday afternoon. There was nothing to indicate at that time that there was trouble.

Possibility that the distress call might have come from a United States shipping board vessel also named Coronado was suggested after owners of the Jamaica-bound vessel of that name reported they were unable to obtain confirmation of the call for help.

It was stated at the owners' office that the call might have come from the American ship.

AMSTERDAM, Holland, Dec. 30.—Six persons were drowned today when a violent wind swept a motorbus off a ferryboat.

A fierce gale was blowing throughout the kingdom today. Almost all the rivers have overflowed.

RUSSELS, Dec. 30.—Factories and private residences were reported under water as a result of the overflowing of rivers and canals under the heavy rainfall today.

Rhine Is Rising.

LONDON, Dec. 30.—The Belgian steamer Comtesse De Flanders has been driven ashore at Eastbourne. The crew has been taken off with great difficulty.

BERLIN, Dec. 30.—Extensive damage has been done by the flooding of the Rhine and all of its main tributaries.

Traffic along the Rhine has been suspended. Numerous bridges are blocked.

No lives are reported lost but it is estimated that the economic damage will mount into millions of marks.

LONDON, Dec. 30. — Heavy rains continuing, rivers were overflowing their banks throughout England today. Many towns were isolated by the floods. Thousands of acres were reported under water.

WATCH NIGHT MEETING HERE

Services Will be Held in Nazarene Church Thursday Night.

Rev. Lulu Kell, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, announced today that watch night services would be held in the church Thursday evening following the close of the revival meeting.

The regular meeting will open at 7:30 when the sermon will be given by Rev. M. M. Bussey, of South Vineland, N. J. Special selections in songs will be rendered. The watch night program will begin with an old fashioned love feast after which several short talks will be given by various speakers. The closing moments of the old year will be spent in prayer by members of the congregation.

Rev. M. M. Bussey.

Evangelistic meetings are being held nightly in the church in charge of Rev. M. M. Bussey. They will close on January 10. Three services will be held Sunday.

MANY TO ATTEND LAUGHLIN PARTY

Newell will be largely represented this evening at the Christmas party to be given in the East Liverpool high school auditorium under the auspices of the employes of the Homer Laughlin China company. Children of the McCullough home at Yellow Creek will be special guests and a number will take part in the program.

No admission fee will be charged, but a silver offering will be taken for the children. Parents are especially urged to bring their children.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS REOPEN MONDAY

Newell and Grant district school will re-open following the Christmas vacation period Monday, January 4. Many of the teachers who have been spending the holidays with relatives and friends in other places are expected to return here the latter part of the week.

Members of the Grant district board of education will probably hold a special session before the regular meeting to fill the vacancy in the teaching staff of the Newell school caused by the death of John William Ammons, who was accidentally killed late last week while visiting at the home of his parents near Fairmont.

CHURCH BODIES TO HOLD SESSION

Election of officers for the Sunday school and Epworth League of the First Methodist Episcopal church will be held Thursday evening in the church.

Following the election song and praise service will be held which will probably continue until the new year is ushered in at midnight.

Watch Parties Arranged.

Number of young people here have arranged to hold watch night parties Thursday evening to usher in the opening of 1926. Music and games will be the chief diversions at these events.

Mock Trial Held Here.

Prayer Services.

Pastors will be in charge of the regular mid-week services this evening in the various local churches.

COUNTY SCOUTS' JAMBOREE AT SALEM TONIGHT

Seven Events Listed in Mid-winter Circus.

AUTO CARAVAN

Affair Under Direction of County Executive Wilson.

Boy Scouts from Columbiana county council will assemble in the high school gymnasium at Salem at 8 o'clock tonight for their second annual mid-winter jamboree and circus.

Seven events have been listed, points to be awarded for first, second, third and fourth places. The Golden Eagle store of Salem will provide a silver cup for the troop making the largest number of points in the contest.

While the various contests will not start until 8 o'clock, roll call will take place at 7:30 o'clock. The affair will be directed by Harry Wilson, county scout executive, of this city. The public is invited to attend.

Most of the East Liverpool troops will make the trip in automobiles.

Among the guests will be the St. Aloysius Campfire Girls. They will be entertained at a party in the John H. McNicol home in Salem following the jamboree.

The events making up the program are: Inspection, knot tying, signaling, fire by friction, tug of war, dressing race and handicraft display. Five questions are to be asked each troop. Two entries may be made by each troop in the knot-tying contest. In signaling each team will be composed of four members. Teams in the tug-of-war must weigh less than 1,000 pounds, one entry to a troop is provided in the dressing race.

SOLONS ORDER FUND TRANSFER

Purchase Two Traffic Lights as They Sing Swan Song.

Singing their swan song, city councilmen last night passed an ordinance transferring $2,500 from the general to the safety fund to meet an outstanding bill for traffic lights and to purchase two additional lights. They also recommended that the incoming solons consider the request of residents of Pleasant Heights that a shed be built and a reel of hose purchased for fire prevention in that district.

The fund transfer measure, brought up for second reading, was passed unanimously under suspension of the rules. No remarks were made on the measure which had been held up at the last session pending conference with the city auditor regarding disposition of other funds.

Councilman Kerr informed council that he had been visited by a delegation from Pleasant Heights who urged better fire prevention. He said the hilltop residents were willing to supply a volunteer force of men if the city would erect a shed and furnish a hose reel. His motion that a recommendation be made to the new council was unanimously adopted.

Minutes of the meeting were read at the close and the solons adjourned sine die.

Smith, moored near Gallipolis, which is said to be in the pathway of the ice were also expressed today. An ice gorge, more than four miles long, is said to be forming just above the town.

The last time the Ohio river was frozen from shore to shore occurred in 1917. Many craft, including river packets, were torn from their moorings and destroyed by the gorges which followed the breaking up of the ice.

Except along the shore, the ice is rough. Several youths, taking advantage of the smooth surface near the wharf-boat, were skating there today.

The mercury last night dropped below zero, registering two and three degrees below early this morning. Rising temperatures are promised today or tomorrow.

Mother's Prayer Answered As Son's Opera Wins Success

BOSTON, Dec. 30.—Three o'clock on a wintry afternoon and a mother knelt in her modest Brookline home and offered up this prayer:

"Oh, God, be with Frank and let his opera be the success that he wants it to be."

At the same hour, half across the continent, in Chicago, (2 p. m. there) W. Frank Harling watched the start of his jazz opera, "A Light From St. Agnes"—saw that it was a mighty success.

Mrs. Joseph E. Harling, mother of the composer, told today of her prayer—told how a few hours later there came a telegram from Frank. "It was like a direct answer to my prayer," she said.

Unlike the proverbial mother-in-law, Mrs. Harling generously assigned all honor to her daughter-in-law, the former Lu Garda Mayer, concert soprano, now in Chicago sharing her husband's triumph. She said:

"I knew the whole opera almost by heart from hearing Frank and his wife—"Siwash" we call her—going over and over the score here in this very house. "Siwash" has been my boy's inspiration from the first."

Papa Harling, sexton in a Brookline church, rose to remark:

"Frank had it in him all the time."

Billy Harling, the composer's son, was a proud lad today. He exhibited a telegram from his father, telling of the success of "A Light From St. Agnes," mentioned that he had been given "A" in music at school and displayed a check for services as chorister at a Brookline church.

Harling, his folks revealed today, began the study of music here when he was a boy on 35 cents set aside each week by his parents.

grapher and jury commissioners and will also speak briefly.

The court bailiff—Carmen Hissam—will then open court for the "January term."

Afternoon Court Session.

No cases will be tried by Judge Hanley during the forenoon. He will adjourn court at the conclusion of the inaugural cermonies until 1:30 o'clock New Year's afternoon when police court offenders will face him. These will be the only cases to require his attention on New Year's day, which is observed as a holiday in all courts of justice.

Carpenters are at work on the new court headquarters this week, placing it in readiness for sessions.

In the south-east corner of the main court room has been built the judge's bench. Another small platform for the witness chair has been erected. Opposite the judge's bench is the jury box.

Minor alterations are also being made on the second floor of the building where office for the judge, clerk and possibly other municipal officials will be established.

BUT 1,442 GET AUTO LICENSES

Less than 1,500 of the approximate 6,000 automobile owners in the East Liverpool district have secured 1926 licenses, Deputy Commissioner J. S. Hilbert announced today.

At noon 1,242 licenses had been issued for pleasure cars and about 200 taks for trucks. There has been a steady stream of applicants during the week, but because of the complicated form of the applications only a limited number can be handled each day.

Word from Columbus is to the effect that no time extension will be allowed. Drivers, who appear on the streets January 1, with 1925 plates will be subject to arrest and a fine. License plates have been on sale here since December 10.

The local license office is collecting bills of sale and filing them with the county auditor upon payment of the recording fee by the owner. No licenses will be issued without a bill of sale.

TODAY

Our standard of living has changed. About 100 years ago only one workman in the United States could earn $1 a day all the year around.

Mr. Green of the American Federation of Labor predicts an early end of the coal strike, now distressing the east and other parts of the country. The thermometer at zero may help. Americans are "docile," as Northcliffe said. You must pinch their fingers with the cold or pinch their pockets hard to make them take action. And, unlike mine workers and owners, the people are not organized.

Wise officials of Silesia order cats, as well as dogs, muzzled. A good idea, but it isn't enough. Cats and dogs should be shaved, as well as muzzled, to make them safe for children that play with them.

If a mother, allowing her child to play with a cat, had microscopic eyes, and would see the disease germs that thrive in the cat's fur, she would shave that cat and wash it in a weak solution of carbolic acid.

Joseph S. Donovan of Boston, when young, vowed he would some day be worth a million. He is now worth the million and retires.

He won't find it easy in his retirement to be as much interested in it as those that still have their million to make. It is striving that is worth while.

DEATH ROLL

Mrs. Adolph Kennedy.

Funeral services for Mrs. Adolph Kennedy, 44 years old, former resident of East Liverpool, were held at her home in Minerva Monday afternoon. Burial was made there.

She is survived by her husband, one daughter, Beatrice, and three sisters: Mrs. Eva Thompson, Clarksburg, W. Va.; Mrs. Thomas Kennedy and Mrs. Walter Sexton, both of this city.

John Boyd.

He is survived by one sister, Mrs. Milton Cline, of Sebring.

The body will arrive here tonight and will be taken to the Miller funeral home, West Sixth street, where funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon.

Hissom Funeral Services.

Funeral services for Doris Rebecca Hissom, six years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hissom, will be held at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the home, 1444 Globe street. Rev. Frederic A. Dean, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, will be in charge. Burial will be made in Riverview cemetery.

CHURCHES PLAN WATCH MEETS

Pastors to Give Short Talks at Services Thursday Night.

Watch night services will be held tomorrow evening in the First United Presbyterian, Nazarene and First Christian churches.

Meeting in the former church will begin at 8 o'clock. There will be a song service and a number of addresses by the pastor, Rev. W. J. H. McKnight, and members of the congregation.

Rev. Samuel Howell, of East Liverpool, will preach in the Nazarene church. Testimony meeting will be one of the principal features. Song and praise services will form part of the program.

Members of the Epworth League will have charge of the meeting in the First Christian church. An address will be given by the pastor, Rev. A. E. Sims. Short talks will be given by other members of the church.

The new year will be ushed in by various groups of young people in the city who have arranged for watch parties. Music and games will be featured.

SUNDAY SCHOOL OFFICERS NAMED

At the meeting of the Sunday school board of the Church of the Nazarene held Monday evening reports showed that there had been an increase of 60 per cent in attendance during the year. The cradle roll had an increase of 50 members with a total enrollment of 74. Finances increased on the same ratio.

The following officers were elected: Superintendent, Jackson Virden; assistant superintendent, Charles Wood; cradle roll superintendent, Mrs. Nelsie Murray; secretary, E. E. Brown; assistant secretary, C. A. Silverthorn; treasurer, E. E. Brown; librarian, Charles Carpenter; assistant librarian, Doll Doty; pianist, Gladys Wood; assistant pianist, Mrs. Pearle Carpenter.

"FATHER AND SON" BANQUET HERE

Approximately 80 persons attended the annual "Father and Son" banquet held last evening in the First Presbyterian church. Dinner was served by women of the congregation.

The principal address was given by Rev. L. J. Davison, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church of East Liverpool. Short talks were given by Rev. W. T. McKee, pastor of the church, and W. T. Parsons, superintendent of the Sunday school. J. L. Mayhew presided as toastmaster.

OFFICIAL BOARD TO HOLD MEETING

There will be a special meeting of the official board of the First Methodist Episcopal church this evening at the close of the mid-week prayer services.

Plans will be made at this session for the revival meetings which will open in the church the latter part of January.

"PASSION FILMS" WILL BE SHOWN

Rev. A. W. Bonnacci, pastor of the Italian mission, Wellsville, will show the "Passion Play" here this evening in the First United Presbyterian church beginning at 8 o'clock. This will be the first showing of the film in Chester and a large crowd is expected.

STATE TAX BOARD TO HOLD SESSION

A meeting of the state tax commission will be held in the next few days, Governor Gore said yesterday. There has been an exchange of views between the governor and members of the commission, resulting in an understanding that they would assemble here this week to perfect an organization and to plan their inquiry into the state's tax problems.

The commission is composed of D. A. Burt, Wheeling, chairman; Virgil L. Highland, Clarksburg; J. M. Crawford, Parkersburg; James Ellwood Jones, Switchback; J. Harvey Long, Huntington; Senator H. P. Henshaw, Berkeley county; Eugene H. Arnold, Elkins.

Floor Game Scheduled.

Large crowd is expected to witness the opening game of the basketball season here Saturday night on the Rock Springs park floor between Chester high and a team composed of former high school players. There will be a preliminary game starting at 7:30.

Revival Plans Completed.

Plans have been completed for the series of special meetings which will begin in the First Presbyterian church Sunday evening. Rev. C. G. Jordan, of New Castle, will give the sermons.

Many Attend Banquet.

Large crowd attended the high school banquet last evening in the Masonic temple, First street. Music was furnished by Sayre's orchestra.

Missionary Meeting.

Members of the Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church will meet at 7:30 tomorrow evening with Mrs. E. C. Caughey at her home in Indiana avenue. Regular program will be carried out during the evening.

WARNING GIVEN MACHINE OWNERS

Automobile owners who do not receive their license plates by tomorrow night will be unable to operate their cars beginning with the new year.

C. E. Hiner, member of the state road commission, stated yesterday that it would be impossible to grant any extension of time this year to car owners. There is a provision in the law, Mr. Hiner explained, that will not permit even Governor Gore to extend the time.

To Open Office Here.

Dr. Howard E. Matthew will open an office for the practice of dentistry next Monday in the office formerly occupied by Dr. Miller Wells. He is a graduate of the University of Cincinnati and has been in the office of Dr. J. A. Beiser at Marietta, O. Dr. Wells left several months ago for Florida.

Dr. Howard E. Matthew announces that he will open the office of Dr. Miller Wells, Chester, W. Va., for the general practice of Dentistry, January 6, 1926.

Ben Lyon in Star Role in Picture at American Theatre

Those who mourn the loss to the screen of the late Wallace Reid and the wholesome type of pictures in which he was starred should welcome Bn Lyon's newest picture, "The Pace That Thrills"—a First National production which opens tomorrow at the American theater.

Ben Lyon, who in less than two years has emerged from obscurity to high screen popularity, is considered the real successor to Wally Reid as a portrayer of exuberant youth.

In "The Pace That Thrills," Ben is co-featured with Mary Astor in a lively, rapid-fire comedy-drama which centers around the romance of a Hollywood sheik and the daughter of a film producer. A pampered and petted idol, the screen actor wakes to a realization that the world is laughing at his apparent cowardice. To prove that he isn't yellow, he jumps into a prize-fighting ring and wallops a champion, takes part in a bull fight, and then winds up by driving his car against professionals in an automobile race.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Company, Atlanta, Ga. (adv.)

Added Attraction On "Buzzin Around" Program at Strand

As an added attraction of Claude Long's Buzzin Around company presenting "Sweet Cookie," at the Strand tonight, there will be an old time auction run in conjunction with the regular performance. When the company appeared here several weeks ago they presented this auction and at the popular demand of the Strand patrons it will be repeated tonight after the first performance.

An entire spring outfit for a lady will be auctioned off to the highest bidder. One of the young ladies of the Buzzin Around company will appear as the model. As the articles are sold, the model will remove it from her person and hand it to the purchaser. The articles are of the highest grade merchandise, purchased from the city's leading stores. The money derived from the auction goes to the model and not to the management of the company or the theatre.

"Sweet Cookie" will be presented for the last time tonight. Starting with matinee tomorrow the company will be seen in an entire new bill, "Love Will Find Away." There will be all new specialties and musical numbers. The company will give a special midnight show tomorrow night.

MACLEAN HEADS LOCAL ALUMNI

Named at Graduates' Annual Dinner-Dance.

Approximately 170 Wellsville high school alumni and friends attended the annual dinner-dance held by the graduates last night in the high school auditorium and gymnasium.

Raymond MacLean was named president of the association, for the coming year, during a brief business session. Other officers named by the graduates are: Vice president, John Grafton; secretary, Ruby Turner; treasurer, Eileen Todd.

Edward T. Fogo was toastmaster. Talks were given by Dr. R. E. Brenneman, of Pittsburgh; Loree Miles, of Paris, France; A. Dale Riley, of the Philippine Islands; Rev. J. K. Pollock, Sharpsburg, Pa.; Mrs. Naomi Forner and Miss J. J. Dickson. Mrs. Dorcas Rusher sang a solo.

CONLEY BROGAN HURT IN CRASH

Bruised and Cut When Autos Collide in Cambridge.

Conley Brogan, 35, former resident of Wellsville, is in a serious condition in the Cambridge hospital as a result of injuries he sustained Monday morning when a truck he was riding in collided with another truck in one of Cambridge's downtown streets.

Brogan, who is employed by the Orr Plumbing company of Cambridge, was in a semi-conscious condition when he was removed from the wreckage and taken to the hospital.

An examination by Dr. George Swan revealed a severe bruise on the left side of his head, a three-inch gash on top of his head and minor cuts and bruises about the head and body. Unless complications develop he is expected to recover, however.

The preliminary examination, according to the attending physician, failed to disclose evidence of a fractured skull.

McKINNON TAKEN TO COUNTY JAIL

William McKinnon, of East Liverpool, charged jointly with Lester Rowley, Anthony Dash and Raymond Carroll with second degree murder following the death of Charles Devle, of Pittsburgh, was taken to the county jail yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Lawrence Kindsvatter, in default of bail.

Bonds of McKinnon, Dash and Carroll were fixed at $3,000, and Rowley's at $5,000.

With the exception of McKinnon, the youths were released when bond was furnished by friends and relatives.

CHILD BURNED BY GRATE FIRE

Backs Into Flames While Playing With Toys.

Robert Sommers, aged 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Sommers, of Washington avenue, was badly burned about his body and legs yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock when he fell against a grate while playing with Christmas toys.

Although his condition was said today by relatives to be serious, the accident is not expected to prove fatal.

The child, apparently, stumbled in front of the fire and was thrown backward into the flames. His screams attracted the attention of his sister, Martha, who was in the room.

The girl, displaying presence of mind in the emergency, seized the youngster, threw him on the floor and rolled him over and over, extinguishing the flames, which almost burned the clothing from his body.

The mother, who was in the house at the time, immediately summoned Dr. J. M. King, who dressed the burns.

WOMAN BURNED BY EXPLODING GAS

Mrs. George Fassett, Sixth street, is suffering from the effects of burns sustained last night at 6 o'clock when gas, accumulated in a kitchen range, exploded in her face.

Mrs. Fassett had returned from East Liverpool and was getting ready to prepare the evening meal.

She struck a match to light the gas range and the explosion occurred. The gas, apparently, had been accumulating in the oven during the afternoon. Her head, face and arms were severely burned. Dr. M. C. Tarr dressed the wounds.

COTERIE PARTY TOMORROW NIGHT

Members of the Calendar Coterie of the Second Presbyterian church will meet tomorrow evening at the home of Mrs. John Lewis, Clark avenue. The affair will take the form of a watch party, the hours being 9 to 12.

The hostesses will be Mrs. John Lewis, Tom Grimes, Mrs. J. C. Davidson, Mrs. John Dustman and Mrs. Ida Patterson.

Mrs. A. J. Gloss will lead the devotionals.

A business session will open the meeting. A musical program will be given from 11 to 12.

Mrs. John Roberts Hostess.

Mrs. John Roberts will be hostess to members of the Cloverleaf Fancy-work club this evening at her home in 1810 Danbury avenue. The regular business session and social hour will be followed by luncheon.

JAMES LOVE, 93, SERIOUSLY ILL

James Love, 93 years old, one of Wellsville's oldest citizens, is said to be in a serious condition in the East Liverpool City hospital following a three weeks' illness.

Mr. Love, a Civil war veteran, was taken to the hospital three weeks ago following a hemorrhage of the lungs.

He was a veteran railroad detective following his retirement from the service which he followed for over 40 years.

LOSES CLOTHING, CASH IN FLAMES

T. A. White, of Irondale, teacher in the New Somerset school, lost a trunk containing clothing and money in a fire which Monday razed a two-story fram dwelling owned by Mrs. Anna Cronin, of New Somerset. White roomed at the Cronin home.

The fire, which originated in the kitchen, destroyed the entire house and its contents.

ARREST WOMAN ON LIQUOR CHARGE

Mrs. Harvey Blackwell, arrested Monday by Marshal-Elect Maffett, of Toronto, after an all-night and all-day hunt in the Hollow Rock district, has been jailed in Toronto on a prohibition charge.

The Toronto officers are said to have discovered a still, one hundred gallons of mash, 20 quarts and four gallon jugs of liquor in the woman's house in Hollow Rock.

METHUSELAH'S WIFE

THE STORY OF A WIFE WHO WAITED FOR MONEY — BY EDGAR FRANKLIN ADKINS

THIRTY-SIX.

Darkness had poured down the hill and engulfed all of Central City except Main street's brilliant "White Way" when Mrs. Gus Long issued from her half of the double-house and sat down in the squeaky porch swing, lightly humming. Her ear was tured to hear anything that might escape the slightly raised window on the Roester side of the house. Muffled sounds she had been hearing all day indicated that Mr. and Mrs. Roester were in disagreement upon some vital point. After a strained silence she heard the crack of the opening front door, and Mrs. Roester's head appeared.

"Pretty cool to sit out, ain't it?"

"Well, no, not if you've got on traps enough. I just had to git some air. Com'n out.'

"I guess I will." After an appropriate interval, she appeared wearing the shawl that she liked so much to show off, grand extravagance of a drinking husband.

"How's Mr. Roester?" Mrs. Long asked guilelessly.

"He's feelin' pretty poorly. Bin sick today. Didn't work. It's his back, I guess. He's taken all kinds of bottles of stuff, but it don't seem to do him no good. I tell him he ought to go to a doctor, but he won't."

"When a body's sick, they oughta have something done for themselves."

"That's what I think. I tell him he oughtta go to see a doctor, but he won't. The doctor could tell him what's wrong with him. That's why I want him to go and see a doctor."

"When a body's sick they oughta have something done for themselves," Mrs. Long repeated.

They sat in silence for a moment or two, the swing creaking an accompaniment to the asthmetic breathing of "Poppy," the fat, indolent poodle that had followed Mrs. Roester from the house.

Mrs. Long and Mrs. Roester were acquainted with al the gossip of Central City. What they did not acquire from direct observation, they learned through the delivery boys and ice man, or over the clothes-line in the backyard from their more aristocratic neighbors' servants. Neither of these women was blessed with offspring; neither of them boasted any special connections. They had, however, each other. They were sufficient unto themselves. The double house in which they lived was situated midway up the two-block strip of Washington street that rises abruptly from Main street to High avenue and establishes class consciousness in Central City. The front porch of the double house was a reviewing stand from which Mrs. Long and Mrs. Roester watched Central City's social processes.

"Y'know 'twill. Probably have an orchestra."

"Of course they'll have an orchestra, maybe two. And good things to eat."

"They'll have things to eat all right."

"Yes, they'll have things to eat, but it won't be no dinner. I guess it'll be a sort of lunch-stand fixed up."

"Yes, with butlers standing around to hand you a sandwich or a cup of coffee."

"They won't drink no coffee. You know they'll have wine."

"Yes, champagne."

They lapsed into silence momentarily to watch an automobile go by.

"I wonder if he's invited his first wife?" Mrs. Long giggled, wringing an appreciative response from her companion.

"They say he's been tryin' to send his daughter away to school, but she won't go. I guess he's trying to get her out of the way before her mother comes."

"Yes, and they'll be orchestras and wine. Won't be no prohibition raiders there." Mrs. Roester accompanied her remark with a laugh.

"I bet they won't either."

"Beer, too, I suppose. Well, as far as I'm concerned, I'd rather have beer any time than any wine or anything like that. My husband makes awful good beer.'

"I never have liked beer—except that beer that your husband made that you gave me. I'd rather have ice cream soda any time."

Fat "Poppy's" elaborate scratching held their attention for a moment in which both were quiet.

"They say this young wife of hisn ain't doin' so well. I never did think they'd get along. And people has seen that Wyman Holt around there. . . . You know she don't love no man old enough to be her father.'

"Well, his daughters will watch her. You know they want to get somethin' on her. That married daughter of hisn is oldern she is, y'know."

"Seems like he'd get wise if that Wyman Holt was around there too much."

"Well, if he hadn't been an old fool, he wouldn't have married her."

"His first wife will have a thing or two to say when she gits here."

"You KNOW she will." They laughed ominously.

YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE ANSWERED.

Answers to Questions

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

The answer to questions printed here each day are specimens picked from the mass of inquiries handled by the great information bureau maintained by The Review-Tribune in Washington, D. C. This valuable service is for the fre use of the public. Ask any question of fact you may want to know and you will get an immediate reply. Write plainly, enclose two cents in stamps for return postage, and address The East Liverpool Review-Tribune Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C.

Q. How many telephones are there in the world? C. W. G.

A. The American Telephone and Telegraph company says that according to data at hand they estimate the total number of telephones in the world on January 1, 1925, as 25,982,000, and the total telephone wire mileage as 76,114,000. Since some figures are not yet available the figures given are subject to revision.

Q. Does the Dipper really revolve around the North Star? D. J. T.

A. The Naval Observatory says that the motion of the Dipper is only apparent, the real motion being that of the earth. The axis on which the earth rotates points nearly to the North Star, which therefore appears to remain nearly stationary with the other stars circling it.

Q. Can a submarine send a radio message when the boat is submerged? H. A. B.

A. There is a limit to the depth at which messages can be sent satisfactorily. This depth is about 30 or 40 feet.

Q. How do the distances over which the record throw of a lacrosse ball, cricket ball and baseball compare? A. C. M.

A. T. S. Andrews' World's Sporting Annual Record Book says that a lacrosse ball was thrown 497 feet 7½ inches by B. Quinnn, Ottawa, in September, 1902; a cricket ball was thrown 422 feet by R. Percival, Durham Sands, England, April, 1884; a baseball was thrown 426 feet 9½ inches by Sheldon LeJeune, October, 1910.

Q. When a bee stings an insect will the bee die? E. D.

A. The Department of Agriculture says that when a bee stings another insect it can, as a rule, withdraw its stinger, thereby doing no harm to itself.

Q. Where is the pearl essence obtained that is used to cover pearl beads? M. E. R.

A. Pearl essence is obtained by rubbing off a substance from the scales of certain fish, freeing from foreign matter and suspending in water or other suitable liquid. In this country the scales of herring and menhaden are used.

Q. Is the expression, "flaming youth," a quotation? C. E. M.

A. It is a quotation from Shakespeare's Hamlet, Act III, scene 4, occurring in the clause "To flaming youth let virtue be as wax and melt in her own fire."

Q. Is Texas considered a fig producing state? A. R. T.

A. The fig industry in southeastern Texas is growing rapidly and possibly not more than half of the trees have yet come into bearing. Thousands of acres have been planted during the last two years and several large plantings will be put in this coming winter, according to local reports. This seems to be the crop best adapted to the fertile, level, coastal-plain country of Texas.

Q. Can you suggest a way of cleaning a violin? M. P.

A. To clean guitars, violins, etc., mix equal quantities of linseed oil, turpentine and water. Shake well to form an emulsion or cream. Rub the instrument with a cloth dampened in this cream, wipe dry and polish with a woolen cloth, chamois or velveteen.

Q. Can an architect's plans be protected by a patent? N. R.

A. Not by a patent. However, they are entitled to protection under the copyright laws.

Q. Are any of the Bonapartes living in France? C. G. R.

A. Various members of the Bonaparte family are still living in France. Among them is Prince Roland Bonaparte, the great nephew of Napoleon I.

When Your Furnace Fire Falls Down on the Job

THE surest, cleanest, cheapest way to get abundant warmth any hour of the day or night at a moment's notice is a Welsbach Radiant Heater. You have merely to twist the self-lighter—no matches are required—and a broad expanse of ember-like glowers leaps into flame and floods your room with healthful, high-powered, instant warmth.

What a difference such heating service will make on icy mornings before the furnace gets on the job, or through long, cold winter evenings. Once installed in your home and working for your comfort, day by day, you'll wonder how you ever got along without it.

GRAND JURY TO MEET NEXT WEEK

More Than 60 Cases to Be Investigated by Jurors.

Preparation for work that will be laid before the grand jury when it convenes next Monday morning has created unusual activity about the office of Prosecuting Attorney Robert M. Brookes, who with his assistant John E. Banuknecht of East Palestine will present probably 60 cases to the jury. This means the heaviest grand jury in this county in recent years.

Transcripts from lower courts continue to be received by Clark of Courts Frank Ballantine.

More than 100 witnesses will be summoned to appear before the grand jury from present indications. There may be more. Up to the close of business Tuesday afternoon 53 transcripts had been filed from lower courts, and at least six more are known to be ready for filing.

Sheriff George Wright, who left Lisbon Monday night for the east to conduct a probe concerning in important case that has been brought to the attention of Prosecutor Brookes will not return until Thursday.

Charges vary from the robbing of poultry houses to the furnishing of liquor that resulted in a death. One charge of arson is to be probed. Cases against W. C. Beverly and Edward Postal charged with shady stock transactions will be probed. Beverly is out on $5,000 bail, while Postal is in jail under $25,000 bond.

One of the last transcripts to be filed came from the court of Mayor Galen Lodge, Leetonia.

In this instance John Fagan has been arranged on a charge of arson, being charged with the buring of a coal house owned by Camella Mauro of Leetonia, and valued at $100. He is now held in default of $1,000 bond.

Charges of highway robbery have been filed against others now being held in the county jail.

Several cases wherein different men have been charged with complicity in the same crimes have been consolidated, and this will tend to relieve the work of the grand jury.

It is the desire of Prosecutor Brookes to have the grand jury report to the court Thursday afternoon of next week if possible, but there is no assurance at this time that such a fast schedule will be maintained, owing to the volume of cases that are to be investigated.

Final Sheep Claims Approved by Board Of Commissioners

Last sheep claims for the current year have been approved for payment by the county commissioners. Records in the office of County Auditor Charles E. Hamilton show that 417 sheep were killed during the last year and 90 were injured. One hog was killed and two cows. Between $3,000 and $4,000 in claims have been approved for payment.

Ralph Myers of West township had 22 sheep killed during 1925, which is the record single claim filed. Several claims for 18 sheep killed appear on the record.

Hereafter all sheep claims will be paid annually in December as provided by a recent law and which is now in effect.

All of the sheep claims were paid on the basis of the valuation placed upon them by their owners at the time personal tax returns were sworn to and filed last April. Where the valuation of a sheep was placed at $5 and it was killed, and the claim was put in at $10, it was paid on the basis of the $5 valuation.

Where the valuation was placed at $10 and the claim was for $10, such claims were also approved. Sheep claims were paid twice during the current year, but here after the claims will be paid in December only. Money for these claims is taken from the dog and kennel fund, which is created by the payment of the dog license tax

Bulletin Received.

County Agent Floyd Lower has received from the state department of Agriculture a bulletin entitled "Potato Growing in Ohio," of which N. W. Glines, extension specialist in vegetable gardening is the author. This bulletin is an exhaustive study of potato culture in this state, and goes into detail relative to the culture.

The bulletin is for free distribution to those who are interested in potato growing, and a copy may he had by filing an application with the county agent.

Bank Meets Called.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Firestone National and the People's State bank of Lisbon will be held the afternoon of January 13, it was announced at both banks Wednesday.

At these meetings boards of directors will be chosen for the new year, and organization meeting will likely follow. On account of the death of H. F. Wilson, another will be chosen to succeed him on the board at the Firestone bank.

Plant Opening Delayed.

On account of the delay in the receipt of new machinery, operations will not be resumed at the plant of the Summitville Brick company until probably February, it was announced by J. L. Johnson, general manager. The capacity of the plant has been increased by a larger brick machine being installed, and a larger dry press. Orders continue to be received, and the company will be in a position to operate steadily when all machinery is received and installed.

DEEDS FOR LAND STILL UNFILED

"No deeds have been filed with the county commissioners for land for right of way purposes for the proposed highway from Stop 55 at the Lincoln Highway south to join with Intercounty highway 502 or the East Liverpool-Youngstown intercounty highway," announced Clerk L. H. Johnson Wednesday.

Several months ago property owners along this proposed road filed with the commissioners an offer to deed a 60-foot right of way paralleling the Y. & O. road from Stop 55 south, and this agreemnt was accepted by the board. Recently the commissioners in sonsidering the grading program for 1925 mentioned this road, but as no deeds have been filed the matter has been placed on file.

Seeks Citizenship.

George Theiss, aged 19, a laborer, and a native of Rumania, has filed his declaration of intent to become a citizen of the United States. He resides at 118 Fair street, Salem, and arrived in the United States June 18, 1907.

A similar declaration has been filed by John Rushton, aged 21 years, a laborer, residing on the Lincoln highway, Liverpool township. He is a native of Burslem, England, and arrived at New York March 4, 1925.

Dr. Church to Retire.

Dr. T. T. Church, of Salem, county health commissioner, will retire from office Thursday after completing two years' service. He will be succeeded by Dr. C. H. York, a recent medical graduate, and who will enter upon a new phase of work.

Mrs. Helen O'Brien, of Lisbon, will continue as clerk to the board for the next fiscal year, while Miss Nellie Masters will continue as public health nurse. Dr. Church will continue the practice of medicine at Salem, in addition to his activity with the Salem board of health.

Filing Sale Bills.

With the filing of 265 automobile bills of sale with Clerk of Courts Frank Ballantine Tuesday, all previous filing records were broken. The previous peak was 193 attained last week.

Should the activity continue, Clerk Ballantine is of the opinion that the record for the month will go between 2,500 and 3,000 bills, which will be the heaviest recording since the law became effective.

Alumni and High Basketball Teams Set For Clashes Tonight

Double Bill Will Ring Down Curtain On 1925 School Athletics Here

Strength of Both Graduate Teams Indicates Pair of Hard Fought Contests; Feminine Athletes to Play at 7 O'clock; "Slim" Bromby, Mt. Union Star, Unable to Get Into Lineup as Result of Injured Knee.

THE Blue and White will bid adieu to sport activities of the year 1925 tonight on the school gymnasium in their annual clash with graduate stars of E. L. H. S.

A two-ply card has been arranged for the occasion with both girls' teams and boys' fives in action, the feminine contingents being slated for the preliminary engagement, which, Athletic Director Boone announced today, will start promptly at 7 o'clock, quarter of an hour earlier than customary. And, as a result, the main go will be launched at 8 o'clock.

Saying it with baskets, Coach Lorah's lads realize, will be no easier tonight than it was a couple of weeks ago against Franklin & Marshall, for the Alumni quintet lined up for the occasion is composed of performers who, save possibly one or two exceptions, are in top trim as a result of basketball activities with other teams.

Bob Pusey, heavier and faster than a year ago when he was in school here, and with his experience at Franklin & Marshall as an additional aid, will be stationed at one of the Alumni forwards. Don DeBolt, of W. & J., one of the most brilliant scorers turned out by the school in recent years, will be at the other. Pusey is a bear on floor work and DeBolt is equally as good at counting up the points. Firth Smith, who lost his chance to star for high school a year ago when he injured an arm in football, will be jumping center. Smith has been working with Denison college cage teams and will be capable of holding up his end of the assignment.

Little comment is needed for the guards — "Chuck" McConville, also one of Sam Taylor's F. & M. lads, and Dale Liebschner—they speak for themselves, and they also play scholastic basketball in a way that's hard to criticize.

Bromby Unable to Play.

Colin "Slim" Bromby, of Mt. Union, former scholastic star here, has been aching to get into the tussle but he won't be physically able.

Bromby was a member of last year's Ohio Conference team turned out at Mt. Union by Raymond Detrick, former Wittinberg luminary, and, prior to going to Mount, athletic director at Wellsville.

Last football season he injured a knee. Ligaments were torn loose and other physical damage caused. Bromby, anxious to get back into harness, in face of a stiff conference schedule, did not give the injured knee sufficient time to heal and it was hurt again, with the result that he was taken out for the season. And, besides, he has been unable to work out with the Mount basketball squad.

Tom Pusey and either Elmer English or Wilson will start at forwards for Lorah, with Bough at center. Paul English will draw one of the guard assignments with Vincent or Allison at the other. Vincent is a new recruit this fall. He comes from Germantown high, near Philadelphia, where he was a first string performer last year. Although he has been slow in getting started with the Blue and White he finally unlimbered last week and displayed enough stuff to warrant Lorah giving him a tryout against the kind of basketball they play in eastern Ohio.

McElravey, D. Cooper, Kannall and G. Weaver of last year's girl's team will be with the Alumni lassies tonight, along with Hoffman and Leona McConville, captain two years ago.

Bill Watkins, noted Tri-State referee, will handle the main go.

M'GRAW FAILS TO MAKE ANY CLUB CHANGES

Announces Practically Same Players Pirates Beat.

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—Headed south for Florida where spaces are sub-divided and men are reltors, John McGraw left in his immediate rear a list of 38 ball players who will be taken to the training camp of the Giants and the general impression that either he has conceded the 1926 pennant to the Pittsburgh Pirates or that he has an advantageous deal in prospect. The roster made public contains virtually the same personnel that finished second to the Pirates in 1925.

McGraw cannot afford to stand pat. Yet, ostensibly, that is what he is planning to do. He said he would return to New York for the February baseball meetings, at which, he intimated, something might happen. He gave the bland impression of one who didn't care whether anything did or not.

It was hardly the attitude of a manager who has allowed his club to grow old in spots.

Banks on New Catcher.

He seemed to think that Hugh McMullen, a young man who poined the club late in the 1925 season, will add the necessary sparkle to the catching staff, the remainder of which is made up of Frank Snyder and Grover Hartley. These worthies are somewhat aged.

So is Heine Groh, slated to start at third base unless young Lindstrom shows a return of his 1924 form. Lindstrom was more or less of a flop last year. A new centerfielder to replace Bill Southworth, who seems definitely to have lost the ability he knew in Pittsburgh and Boston, also is needed. Al Tyson was a riot in Louisville but full many a small time wonder has proved a big time Boloney.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

BY NORMAN E. BROWN

The boxing game is made up of many types of fighters—the "smart" fighters, the "hit and get away" type, the haymakers, the "shadow boxers" and others. There is one class, too, which is referred to commonly as the "tough birds."

Ask any of the leading fighters in any division to meet one of the "tought birds" and he'll balk. Pressed for a reason he'll assume a very intelligent air and tell you: "Well, you see, he's just a dummy. He swings wildly and without any knowledge of boxing, and it's hard to dope him out."

JOHN RISKO

Now the real reason for the hesitancy is, however, an inborn fear that one of those wild, unorthodox swings will land flush on the leading light's jaw and leave him in a very undignified albeit an entirely orthodox position on the canvas.

These hard boys, as a rule, entered boxing in the belief that one's ability to sock an opponent for a goal in the shortest possible time was the measure of his success in the ring.

And, having started out with that idea, to the mutual advantage of himself and his manager, he has failed to acquire the knowledge that this good old K. O., while a money maker, is more exacting than other methods of fighting which, properly applied, will draw a gate. The more shrewd boxer, meanwhile, has come to the realization that fancy footwork, proper pressagenting and skillful matching can be employed to kid the public as to his real worth.

John Risko, Cleveland heavyweight, is an example of a "tough bird." Risko is so tough that most of the leading heavies and light heavies want none of his stuff. This includes Paul Berlenbach, light heavyweight champ, who turned down a chance to meet him.

Sully Montgomery, looming up big at the time as a heavy possibility, was signed with Risko at the time Berlenbach had the chance. Montgomery's reach, weight and speed (for a young heavy) made him a heavy favorite, except with those who knew Risko.

Montgomery outboxed, outstepped and outgeneraled Risko, but the latter kept hammering back and was still up and at Sully at the final bell.

Jack Renault, Canadian heavy and once rated at least as a "logical successor" to Jack Dempsey, accepted a bout with Risko. The former's rep had traveled ahead of him and impressed everyone in Cleveland but Risko, who proceeded to give the Canadian all he had for 12 rounds.

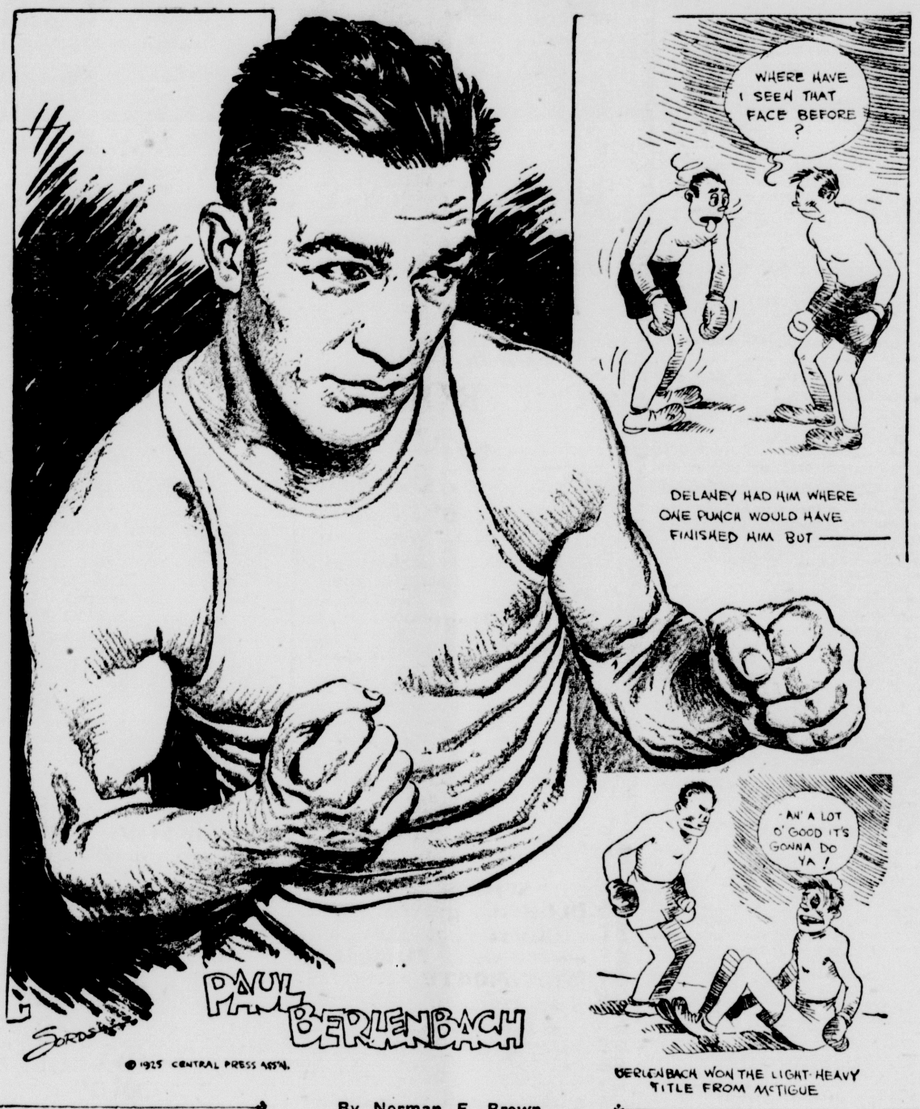

No one in Risko's town had ever viewed him in the light of a championship contender when he was matched with Gene Tunney, one of the outstanding challengers for Dempsey's title. To Tunney the bout loomed like a workout. As it turned out Gene had 12 rounds of splendid opportunity to perfect his defense—if you want to be kind to Gene. For Mr. Risko apparently hadn't heard about Gene's victory over Gibbons et al. He just waded in and was still wading at the end of 12 rounds. Tunney, not in the best of shape, made a sorry showing.

When Promoter Paul Hamilton signed Risko to meet Young Bob Fitzsimmons (son of old Bob, of course) in Cleveland Jan. 4, the bout wasn't made with the idea of selecting someone Risko could lick. It was a case of getting someone who would fight Risko. Not because Risko is a great fighter. Not because he is a championship contender. Not because he is a heady, brainy boxer with a wallop. But simply because he is one of the "tough birds"—and the wise boys want none of his stuff. He makes 'em all look bad.

More miles of federal-aid roads were completed in 1925 than in any other year, 11,329 miles.

Berlenbach's Greatest Victory of The Year

Was Over Joe Precedent and He Won by a Punch

By Norman E. Brown.

The most active man in the boxing "400" in 1925—that exclusive circle which includes major and minor champions and near champs who are worth more to the game than some of the kings—was Mr. Paul Berlenbach.

Paul not only grabbed off one of the minor headpieces for himself—the world's light heavyweight crown—but fought in defense of his title, which is more than any other honest-to-goodness champ did during 1925. One or two others dawdled around a bit, of course, but the fights were little play hours.

Paul won his title by defeating the smiling, willing, crafty, beautiful defensive fighter, Michael Dublin McTigue. Whatever luck should have accrued to Mike through winning the title from a black man on St. Patrick's day deserted him on the night he fought Paul. The green tights meant not a thing to Paul, who proceeded to make Mike's tummy a brilliant pink with body punches.

This is Paul's Second Start.

Berlenbach started a couple of years ago to seek the light heavy title. He was going great guns when Delaney stepped into the ring against him. Jack, a French Canadian, started talking lumber camp Latin to him and while Paul was trying to parse some of the verbs Delaney sunk him.

Now it is tradition that an up and coming youngster, socked on the button at the critical period in his career, never regains the confidence, the complete absence of fear, that he had in his first spurt. Thus handicapped he begins to fight cautiously. He carries a tendency to dog it when the going gets rough.

Jimmy Slattery was aware of that when the Buffalo youngster was offered a match with Berlenbach. But Berlenbach fooled him and his adherents. The Jersey lad fought a confident, heady battle throughout the bout, which ended with Slattery sleeping on the floor.

Despite this surprising showing Jack Delaney laughed a bit when offered a return bout with Berlenbach. That laugh, lingering a bit until the late rounds of the fight, was his undoing.

Delaney was in poor shape when the chance was offered him to meet Pushing Paul. The former had been ill with pneumonia. His friends advised him that three months was a short period in which to regain his health and tune himself for a battle.

"But I can lick him. I've got his number," said Delaney.

When the two met it seemed for a time as though Delaney was right. In the fourth round, for example, he floored Berlenbach with the same punch which had spelled disaster in the first encounter. Berlenbach was groggy. His knees caved. His brain was fogged. One more punch, timed perfectly, would have brought the end. But Delaney must have been too confident of the result unless dumb to take advantage of the opening. Whatever the reason Jocko failed to shove over that last punch. He fiddled around—while Berlenbach shook his brain clear and gathered a bit of strength in his legs.

From that point on Berlenbach turned the tables against Delaney. It was Jack and not Paul who fought on the defensive. And now Paul is on the high road again. The year 1926 should bring him a large bundle of coin, if he is properly handled. If he retains his present willingness to mix it with the best of them he should be one of the busiest men in the ring game.

Heavens knows the sport needs someone who can fight.

14-Year-Old Enters Fourth Round of Net Play.

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—Warren F. Coen, Jr., 14-year-old entry from Kansas City, was one of the notable survivors today when the fourth round of the National Junior Tennis championship and the third round of the boys' event started at the Seventh Regiment armory. The youthful middle westerner won two matches in each of the championships yesterday and has come to be regarded as a serious contender in both.

Among the other survivors of the boys' championship this morning included Judson Morris, Hartford, Conn.; Le Roy Voorheis, Cincinnati; Donald Frame and Fred Roll, local entries; Frank Shields, runner-up in 1924, and Walter Thomas, Elmore, N. J., the favorite.

Some of those who remained in the junior championship, in addition to Coen, were Edward Jacobs, Baltimore City college; John Millen, University of Pennsylvania; Donald Strachan, Philadelphia; Caesar Cone, University of North Carolina; Gregory Mangan and Lemoine Heuser, Montclair, N. J., and Edward Jenkins and Julius Seligson, of New York.

FORECAST BANNER YEAR FOR HOCKEY

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—Although definite forecast is impossible because the full season overlaps into 1926, early indications are that hockey will enjoy its greatest year. Tex Rickard has organized a team in New York and nightly crowds of 15,000 have been no novelty. The team is a member of the National Hockey league, which also has clubs in Pittsburgh, Boston, Ottawa, Montreal and Toronto.

Muldoon and Farley To be Reappointed

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—Reappointment of James E. Farley and William Muldoon as members of the New York State Athletic commission by Governor Smith is freely predicted in sport and political circles here. Their terms expire tomorrow. The term of George E. Brower, third member of the board, has another year to run.

CAGE CHAMPS EASY VICTORS

M. P. Quint Runs up 75-19 Score on Penn Ave. Five.

M. P. quint of the Sunday school cage circuit added another victory last night on the M. P. court when they swamped the Penn Ave. passers by the count of 75 to 19.

The avenue outfit offered little opposition to the league champions, who cinched the game in the first half with a 36 to 13 score. The second period was a repetion of the first, the M. P.'s running up the record score, thus far, of the season.

Mackey found the baskets for 16 double pointers and four foul goals, breaking the individual scoring record for the season. Ankrim and Todd followed Mackey in scoring, while the work of Carey and Weikart at the guards was of high order.

Staley, E. Rose, McKim and H. Rose performed the best for the avenue lads. The lineup:

First M. P.		Penn Ave. M. E.
C. Mackey	F	Staley
Ankrim	F	Sanford
Todd	C	E. Rose
Weikart	G	McKim
Carey	G	H. Rose

Substitutions — Boyd for Ankrim, Bailey for Boyd, Heath for Sanford.

Referee—Canne.

PARK PASSERS RALLY TO BEAT BAPTIST QUINT

PARK BOULEVARD basketballers were too strong for the Baptists in a church league contest last night on the I. O. O. F. court, winning by the decisive count of 33 to 17.

The Boulevard lads outclassed the opposition in general team work but they were off in their shots for the basket during the first three periods of the game, and, as a result, the Baptists were in the lead for the majority of the engagement. The Parks found the hoops in the final period to win.

The Baptists were ahead at the end of the first period, 5 to 3, and increased it to 11 to 6 at the half. The Boulevard five rallied in the third quarter and deadlocked the score at 15 to 15.

Barnes was first to count in the final canto. Hall tied it up with a field goal. F. Kirkham's double decker put the Parks in the lead again and after that they never lost it, raining shot after shot through the Baptists' basket. In all around performance, O. Kirkham starred for the winners and G. Mackey, Hall and Kittridge were the chief performers for the losers.

The lineups:

Park Boulevards		Baptists
Barnes	F	G. Mackey
Azdell	F	Hall
O. Kirkham	C	Parsons
F. Kirkham	G	Kittridge
Crawford	G	Fugate

Foul goals—O. Kirkham 4, F. Kirkham 2, Crawford 2, Barnes, Hall.

Referee—McConville.

Presby. Jrs.		Baptist Jrs.
Burbick	F	Fugate
Doe	F	Lane
Orr	C	Kittridge
Blake	G	O'Brien
Ward	G	Serafy

Foul goals—Burbick.

Referee—Guyton.

First Half must be paid not later than January 20th, 1926. Last Half must be paid not later than June 20th, 1926.

The correct way to pay a full year's tax without penalty is to pay in December for December and the following June.

Penalty on delinquent Real Estate and Personal Property is 10 per cent.

When writing for a statement of your taxes, remember property appears on the Treasurer's books in the name of the person having title on April, 12, 1925, and that the law requires the Treasurer's books and receipts to be made out in the name of the party owning property when the lien took effect.

Lisbon, Ohio, 1925.

In writing for statement of taxes, always send last receipt, or give name to owner in April, 1925, stating plainly in what city, town or township located, and whether real or personal property.

When you write for statement or pay by mail, enclose a self addressed stamped envelope for reply.

Examine your receipts and see that they are correct before you leave the Treasurer's Office.

Treasurer's Office will be open from 7:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m.

JO PIKE,
County Treasurer,

'No, No, Nanette,' World-Wide Musical Hit, Here Tomorrow

John Hyams and Leila McIntyre Head Notable Cast at Ceramic Theatre.

"No, No, Nanette" in its conquering sweep around the world, comes to East Liverpool Thursday night at the Ceramic theatre.

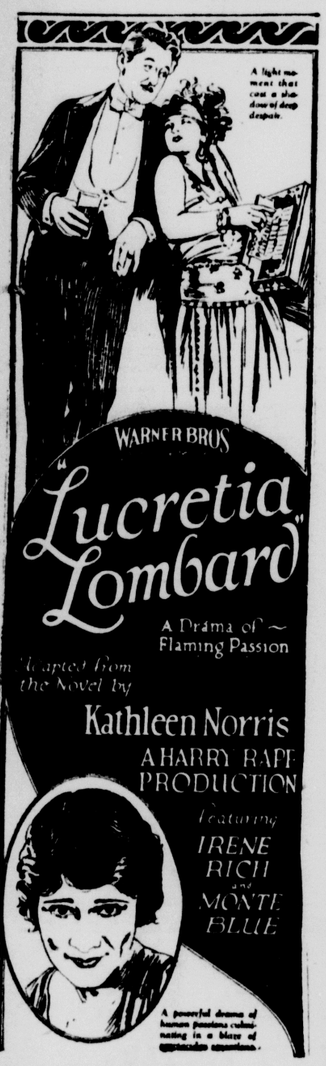

This musical comedy sensation, sparkling with the life and joyousness of youth, has far surpassed the success of any other musical production of this generation. It is something to have a production so new and fresh and merry as "No, No, Nanette" in all the splendor and enthusiasm of its first performance, untouched and unmarred by the wearing process of the road.

Rarely have critics everywhere spoken with such enthusiasm of a new play; and everywhere the response on the box office is overwhelming. The lines and situations of Mr. Mandel and Mr. Harbach's book are received with unceasing laughter; the well tuned lyrics of Irving Caesar have caught the popular fancy; while in the songs the youthful composer, Vincent Youmans, has rivalled even his own "Bambalina" and other hits in "Wildflower." Scarcely is there a number that does not win from two to four encores. The various comedians and other principals spring into instant favor and beauty and skill of Mr. Frazee's "Gorgeous garden of girls" will challenge any ever introduced by Mr. Zeigfield. Best of all is "No, No, Nanette" in its evident good taste in every moment of the performance. There is no attempt at the undraped costumes or other appeal to the sense; its one reason for being in the cast of this delightful musical play, is expressed in its chief song hit, "I Want To Be Happy."

While modernists and fundamentalists fight, science never ceases its fight against falsehood, superstition and ignorance.

Dr. Scott of Princeton college, says that, beyond a doubt, Pithecanthropus, the "mokeey-shaped man," was a human of low grade. Believe it or not. Dr. Bunker of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology finds a substitute for white of egg, made from beef serum.

Harvard scientists read the ancient Mayan calendar and learn that in Central America, 600 years before Christ there were excellent astronomers able to calculate time by the movements of the planet Venus.

Fascism says Italy doesn't want any "limitation of arms." Complete disarmament might appeal to Italians, but they have learned lessons in the last year, and will not put themselves in the hand of paternal regulating powers.

Italy lost many men and a good deal of money, but not her fighting spirit, and proposes to keep in shape to fight for her rights if necessary. There is no nervous breakdown about Mussolini.

El Sol of Madrid hopes and believes that America "will not annex Cuba." That's a reasonable hope. The United States people would not care to brand themselves thieves and murderers to add a little to the [illegible]. And it would take much fighting and killing to make the brave Cubans give up. What America wants is to see Cuba prosper as a good neighbor. And the United States ought by law and reasonable tariffs encourage Cuban prosperity.

Now the mustache returns, and German moving picture actors complain that actresses, more important than men, will not have actors with mustaches in love scenes, because the mustache scratches.

If Germans want to imitate a soldied, why not imitate Alexander the Great? He never ran away, and had he been alive in 1914 he would have taught imitation modern generals something about war. A poor old woman, aged 71, is found dead in a wretched tenement, no furniture, a few dry crusts and six thousand dollars to her credit in three banks. Unjustly this old lady is called "miser." Interest on six thousand dollars would give her less than 80 cents a day. You can't live on that, although you can keep going if you rummage in garbage cans and pick up fruit dropped by peddlers as Mrs. Deutscher did.

CEREMONIES WILL BE HELD IN MUNICIPAL COURT ROOM

Mayor Brown Will Administer Oath to Successor.

PROGRAM READY

Labor, Employers, Pastors and Civic Leaders Invited.

Elaborate ceremonies, attendant upon the opening of East Liverpool's new municipal court which abolishes five justice of the peace places, and the induction into office of Mayor-elect Ralph C. Benedum, Democrat, and other members of the city administration, will be held here New Year's day.

Invitations Issued.

The ceremonies will take place in the home of the new court on the third floor of the Thompson building, Fourth and Market streets, at 10 o'clock Friday morning.

Invitations have been addressed to Trades and Labor Council, the Ministerial Association, Chamber of Commerce, National Brotherhood of Operative Potters, Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions clubs, United States Potters association, county officials, retired city and township officials and State Senators Harry Carpenter, Steubenville, and John D. Hayes, Martins Ferry, and State Representative Ralph W. Emmons, East Rochester, asking them to take part in the exercises.

Judge Farr To Speak.

Attorney Blaine H. Cochran, president of the bar association, will preside at the ceremonies. The invocation will be pronounced by Rev. W. H. Clark, pastor of the Emmanuel Presbyterian church, after which Mr. Cochran will outline the history and work of the new court.

Retiring Mayor Charles Brown will then administer the oath to his successor. Mayor-elect Benedum will then swear in other municipal and township officials, including members of council, city auditor, treasurer, solicitor, members of the various boards and commissions and township trustees.

Judge L. T. Farr, Lisbon, appellate court jurist, will then make a short address, after which Common Pleas Judge James G. Moore, Lisbon, will administer the oath of office to Municipal Judge-elect Jesse C. Hanley. Mr. Hanley will then qualify the court bailiff, clerk of courts, court steno-

Bandits Wound Man, Seize $2,000 as 35 Are Held at Bay

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—Three bandits, each toting two guns, shot and probably fatally wounded Manuel Fernadez, 40, owner of a boarding house for Spanish seamen early today. They escaped with $2,000. Thirty-five men in the dining room were held at bay.

Killers Wash Body Of Victim, Garb it In Fresh Clothing

CHICAGO, Dec. 30.—Killers who, after battering to a pulp the head of Albert Nusbaum, 65-year-old carpenter-contractor, are believed to have washed the body, garbed it in and carried it a quarter of a mile from the scene of the murder, were being sought by police here today.

Two hours after the body was found in a lonely spot on the prairies south of the city near where Loeb and Leopold killed little Bobby Franks, in 1924, Floyd Nusbaum, grandson of the victim, was under arrest and a dragnet was spread for his chum.

RIVERMEN FEAR LOSS WHEN ICE GORGE BREAKS

Sand Company Moves Dredger, Launch and Barges.

SURFACE SOLID

Many Walk From Ohio to West Virginia Shores.

Fears for the safety of the wharfboat and other craft were expressed today by rivermen as a result of a gorge, which may develop when the ice, which is said to cover the Ohio river from Cincinnati to Pittsburgh, breaks.

Ice is about four inches thick—heavy enough to support a team of horses. Many persons crossed the frozen surface from East Liverpool to Chester yesterday.

The river has been closed to navigation since Monday morning when a tug boat with a number of empty barges went up the river. Three Ohio river packet boats are tied up at Pittsburgh.

Anticipating the freeze, the East Liverpool Sand company last week moved a dredge boat, barges and other floating equipment to a point just below Babb's Island, where they will be protected in case of a gorge. The river channel is on the south side of the island, little water coming down the narrow stretch between the island and the Ohio shore.

Below Zero Early Today.

The wickets at Dam No. 8, below here, were lowered Monday and Tuesday to prevent damage when the ice breaks. Had the wickets been lowered before the cold snap developed there is little liklihood that the water would have frozen as the current would have acted as a deterrent.

Chinese Government Official Slain to Avenge Execution

PEKING, Dec. 30.—Hsu-Shu-Chang, who recently returned from a trip through the United States as Chinese government commissioner, was assassinated at Langfang, China, today.

The assassin, Luchengwu, admitted the killing. He said he did it to avenge his father who was executed seven years before by Hsu-Shu-Chang.

One Hundred Twenty-five Attend Birthday Party.

DANCE FEATURED

W. E. Wells Toastmaster at Country Club Affair.

With Jess W. Pugh, noted Chicago lecturer and humorist, as the speaker, the East Liverpool Rotary club celebrated its fifth anniversary with a dinner-dance at the Country club last evening. Approximately 125 guests, including Rotarians, their wives and friends, attended the meeting.

Mr. Pugh came here as a substitute for Ralph W. Bingham, widely known humorist, who dropped dead at his home in Philadelphia Monday morning. For approximately an hour he spoke, entertaining his audience with his monologues and stories.

A turkey dinner was served by the club steward. The tables were decorated with bouquets of winter flowers. The corus singing was led by Attorney Blaine H. Cochran, with Mrs. Danks Cochran as the accompanist.

Tribute Paid Secretary Barth.

In the absence of President F. L. Wells, Vice President Malcolm Thompson presided. Mr. Cochran sang a solo, "Out of the Dusk to You." W. E. Wells, Newell, introduced Mr. Pugh, who is a member of the Rotary club at Rushville, Ind., his home town.

Mr. Wells in his introductory remarks lauded Secretary H. B. Barth of the local club as "the most efficient, most energetic secretary that glorified Rotary in the wide, wide world." He declared that because of the jealous feeling Ohio and West Virginia bear toward Indiana, which has furnished the country with its greatest statesmen, educators, writers, poets and Democrats, the committee had done its best to secure a speaker

Attorney Graham Will Make Address At Masonic Meet

Attorney Lewis E. Graham, Beaver Falls, ex-prosecuting attorney of Beaver county, and now head of the liquor enforcement division of the attorney general's office at Harrisburg, will address a meeting of Masons in the Masonic temple, Broadway, at 7:30 o'clock tonight. His subject will be, "Our Masonic Heritage."

Attorney Graham, who is spending the holidays with his family in Beaver Falls, was invited by Robert H. Perry.

Community Watch Night Service in Northside Church

A community watch night service will be held at the Orchard Grove Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, beginning at 9:40 o'clock Thursday evening.

A program of old hymns, folk lore and similar selections will be rendered. There will be solos and duets and a special consecration service, with a social intermission.

The service, which will continue until midnight, will be in charge of Rev. S. Lee-Whiteman, pastor of the church.

NEWELL SCHOOL TEACHER DIES OF GUN WOUND

YULE TRAGEDY

John W. D. Ammons, 25, eighth grade teacher in the Grant district school at Newell, is dead at his home in Fairview, a suburb of Fairmont, W. Va., today, as the result of an accidental shooting during a family reunion on Christmas Day.

Ammons, who came to Newell in October, was spending his holiday vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Ammons. On Christmas Day, his parents and other members of the family were guests at the home of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar O. Jones, near Fairmont.

After dinner, members of the family went to the barn yard to engage in target practice. Young Ammons later joined the party.

Earl Jones, his eight-year-old nephew, is said to have attempted to lift a loaded shotgun from a buggy standing in the barn yard, just as young Ammons approached. The trigger of the gun caught on the vehicle and the gun was discharged.

The full force of the shot caught the young man in the left side, causing a gaping wound. He was taken to the Cook hospital at Fairmont, where he died.

Ammons attended Chicago university last year but before that had taught school near Fairmont. He is a graduate of the Fairmont Normal school. Besides his parents he is survived by three sisters, and one brother.

Coolidge-Pershing Break Over Boundary Plebiscite Denied

CHICAGO, Dec. 30—Secretary of State Kellogg, passing through Chicago today, denied rumors of a break between President Coolidge and General Pershing over the Chile-Peru plebiscite.

Mr. Kellogg, who is enroute to Washington from Minneapolis, was accompanied by Mrs. Kellogg. He is returning early to the capital principally to confer with President Coolidge and congressional leaders on the proposed league of nations disarmament conference.

RIVERS ON RAMPAGE AS GALES DRIVE SHIPS TO SHORE; ONE S. O. S. CALL

STEAMER CORONADO, CARRYING 162 SOULS, IS REPORTED IN DISTRESS

Hundreds of Lives Are Reported Lost, While Property Destruction Will Run Into Many Millions of Dollars as Floating Ice Chokes Streams, Causing Them to Overflow.

Europe is suffering heavy damage and loss of life, due to swollen rivers caused by unseasonable thaws and heavy rains.

In Rumania there are reports of many lives lost. Thorenburg is reported to have been under water for several days, with the loss of a number of lives and great property damage. Other districts of Rumania and Hungary have suffered greatly.

Germany's rivers are rapidly rising and already Cologne has been partially flooded. At Coblenz and other points along the Rhine there are grave fears. Traffic on the Rhine has been suspended.

The Seine in France is badly swollen and floods are reported from many towns and villages.

Heavy gales are doing extensive damage in England and shipping is fleeing for port. One unconfirmed S. O. S. is reported from the steamer Coronado, and a Belgian steamer has been driven ashore at Eastbourne.

Houses, Factories Abandoned.

Holland's lowlands are under water. High winds swept a motor-boat from a ferry and drowned six persons.

Throughout Belgium rivers and canals have swept over their banks. Houses and factories have been flooded and abandoned. Railway traffic is interrupted and shipping is menaced.

The total loss of life cannot be estimated. The reports of heaviest toll came from Rumania where it is believed hundreds of lives have been lost.

The damage will mount into many millions of dollars. From Rumania and Hungary it is reported that it will be many weeks before normal life can be resumed and property restored.

The dangers of the floods have not subsided. Floating ice chokes many rivers, causing them to dam and overflow.

London reports that a gale is blowing in from the Atlantic give hopes that a cold wave and an end of the thaw will accompany it.

Government agencies in flood zones are doing their utmost to render relief. In districts of Rumania and Hungary the military are in complete control and local martial law has been declared in the flooded areas.

Two Men Held as Roommate Dies of Gaping Head Wound

CLEVELAND, Dec. 30.—Charles Plachter's two roommates were being held by police today in connection with Plachter's death, caused by a gaping head wound, presumably caused by an ax blow.

One of the roommates, Joseph Schmeidel, told police a story about the three men playing cards and drinking and an argument. George Novak, the other roommate of Plachter, was said to have snatched up an ax and struck Plachter over the head with it. Novak denies this version.

Plachter is 40.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., Dec. 30.—Seven persons were injured and 20 passengers miraculously escaped death today when a Pittsburgh and Lake Erie freight train crashed into a street car.

Motorman Joseph Fahnerath sustained cuts and bruises on the head and was removed to his home. The others injured were hurt in the panic that ensued following the crash, when the street car nearly overturned.

The accident occured in a dense fog.

BUCKEYE STATE BUILDING AND LOAN STOCKHOLDERS AND DEPOSITORS WILL CUT $21,250,000 MELON

COLUMBUS, Dec. 30.—Stockholders and depositors in buildng and loan associations throughout Ohio will be paid a total of $21,250,000 in interest and dividends within the next few days, according to a prepared statement issued today by James A. Devine, secretary of the Ohio Building Association league.

A similar payment was made in July, last, bringing the amount paid by the institutions in 1925 up to a grand total of $42,500,000.

"If easy money makes a prosperous ondition, then Ohioans will be busy folks during 1926," Devine declared following a survey which he conducted among 10,000 Ohio business men who are directors in building and loan associations. The 936 building and loan companies in Ohio today have total assets of $900,000,000 a gain of $100,000,000 during the last 12 months.

Farmers' Earnings Increase.

Devine's business survey shows that the past year was one of the most prosperous in the history of Ohio building and loan associations, the per capita savings in building and loan associations increasing from $133 to $150. The average deposit in these associations during the past year increases from $500 to $562.

According to Devine in his survey of building and loans, Ohio farmers bettered their financial position decidedly during the year just ending. Not only were most of the 50,000 farm borrowers able to meet their interest payments, but they also cut down their loans.

"Ohio farmers may have had decreased earning power during the last few years, but due to thrift and economy a period of many years, agricultural workers in Ohio have accumulated $465,000,000 in Ohio building and loan associations.' In other words, according to Devine's survey. Ohio farmers have more than one half the total resources of Ohio building and loan associations.

Financed 50,348 Homes.

The building and loan survey further shows that these institutions during 1925 financed 75 per cent of the home building in Ohio, or a total of 50,348 new homes or improvements upon old homes.

The composite viewpoint of 10,000 directors in Ohio building and loan associations indicated that building during 1926 would be confined mostly to residential construction by people who will build homes to live in them. Advance requests for home loans indicate the building of many small homes during the coming year, homes costing from $4,000 to $8,000. Building and loan men believe that speculative building will be materially less than during 1925.

Devine said Ohio building and loan associations now have more available cash than at any similar time during the last five years.

70,000 New Homes Needed.

"We shall not urge home building during 1926 because we have no desire to overbuild any city in the state," Devine declared. "There are cities in Ohio which are now over-built and building and loan associations in these centers will make loans sparingly until this condition is overcome.

"However, we find there are at least 70,000 new home necessary to meet the demand of those who would have homes of their own and if we can finance 75 per cent of this number during 1926, building and loan associations will again be able to keep the building industry prosperous in Ohio."

Devine predicted that the total resources of building and loan associations in Ohio during 1926 would reach the billion dollar mark, thereby putting Ohio in first place among the states of the United States with respect to the assets and resources of its building and loan associations. It is now second only to Pennsylvania.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Dec. 30.—Damage estimated today at $19,000 was caused by a fire which destroyed a barn at the fair grounds race track and burned five horses to death.

The horses destroyed were: Bulbul, valued at $2,000, and Sunny Ducrow, $3,000, owned by R. H. Drew of Chicago; Blue Stone, $5,000, and Require, $3,000, owned by William H. Hall, Latonia, Ky., and Helen G., $2,500, owned by Charles Wilson, of Chicago.

High Prince, owned by Hall and Martha Moore, and Red Squirrel, owned by Wilson, were burned.

Science Marches On.

While modernists and fundamentalists fight, science never ceases its fight against falsehood, superstition and ignorance.

Dr. Scott of Princeton college, says that, beyond a doubt, Pithecanthropus, the "mokeey-shaped man," was a human of low grade. Believe it or not. Dr. Bunker of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology finds a substitute for white of egg, made from beef serum.

Harvard scientists read the ancient Mayan calendar and learn that in Central America, 600 years before Christ there were excellent astronomers able to calculate time by the movements of the planet Venus.

Fascism says Italy doesn't want any "limitation of arms." Complete disarmament might appeal to Italians, but they have learned lessons in the last year, and will not put themselves in the hand of paternal regulating powers.

Italy lost many men and a good deal of money, but not her fighting spirit, and proposes to keep in shape to fight for her rights if necessary. There is no nervous breakdown about Mussolini.

El Sol of Madrid hopes and believes that America "will not annex Cuba." That's a reasonable hope. The United States people would not care to brand themselves thieves and murderers to add a little to the [illegible]. And it would take much fighting and killing to make the brave Cubans give up. What America wants is to see Cuba prosper as a good neighbor. And the United States ought by law and reasonable tariffs encourage Cuban prosperity.

Now the mustache returns, and German moving picture actors complain that actresses, more important than men, will not have actors with mustaches in love scenes, because the mustache scratches.

If Germans want to imitate a soldied, why not imitate Alexander the Great? He never ran away, and had he been alive in 1914 he would have taught imitation modern generals something about war. RIVERS ON RAMPAGE AS GALES DRIVE SHIPS TO SHORE; ONE S. O. S. CALL

Unseasonable Thaws and Heavy Rains Inundate Sections of Rumania, Hungary, Germany, France, Holland and Belgium, While Storm Does Extensive Damage in England.

STEAMER CORONADO, CARRYING 162 SOULS, IS REPORTED IN DISTRESS

Hundreds of Lives Are Reported Lost, While Property Destruction Will Run Into Many Millions of Dollars as Floating Ice Chokes Streams, Causing Them to Overflow.

Europe is suffering heavy damage and loss of life, due to swollen rivers caused by unseasonable thaws and heavy rains.

In Rumania there are reports of many lives lost. Thorenburg is reported to have been under water for several days, with the loss of a number of lives and great property damage. Other districts of Rumania and Hungary have suffered greatly.

Germany's rivers are rapidly rising and already Cologne has been partially flooded. At Coblenz and other points along the Rhine there are grave fears. Traffic on the Rhine has been suspended.

The Seine in France is badly swollen and floods are reported from many towns and villages.

Heavy gales are doing extensive damage in England and shipping is fleeing for port. One unconfirmed S. O. S. is reported from the steamer Coronado, and a Belgian steamer has been driven ashore at Eastbourne.

Houses, Factories Abandoned.

Holland's lowlands are under water. High winds swept a motor-boat from a ferry and drowned six persons.

Throughout Belgium rivers and canals have swept over their banks. Houses and factories have been flooded and abandoned. Railway traffic is interrupted and shipping is menaced.

The total loss of life cannot be estimated. The reports of heaviest toll came from Rumania where it is believed hundreds of lives have been lost.

The damage will mount into many millions of dollars. From Rumania and Hungary it is reported that it will be many weeks before normal life can be resumed and property restored.

The dangers of the floods have not subsided. Floating ice chokes many rivers, causing them to dam and overflow.

London reports that a gale is blowing in from the Atlantic give hopes that a cold wave and an end of the thaw will accompany it.

Government agencies in flood zones are doing their utmost to render relief. In districts of Rumania and Hungary the military are in complete control and local martial law has been declared in the flooded areas.

Merchant Robbed Of $7,500 Cash and Auto By Bandits

HAMMONTON, N. J., Dec. 30.—Anthony P. Macrie, 30, hardware manufacturer, was held up by four masked bandits early today, robbed of $7,500 in cash and his automobile.

Bruised from the attack made by the bandits and suffering from the intense cold, Macrie staggered into the headquarters of the state police here, and collapsed after informing the police of his losses.

Two Die In Police-Bandit Battle.

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 30.—Police Sergeant Michael Lawrence, 67, and Stanley Sieban, 27, bandit, were killed and two others were wounded in a battle between three policemen and the bandit, pursued after he had wounded a grocery keeper in a hold-up attempt.

Attention, Pastors! Mail Your Church Notices Tonight

Inasmuch as Friday, New Year's Day, is a holiday for newspaper workers, all church announcements, to insure publication Saturday, must be on the church editor's desk not later than noon Thursday.

Pastors should mail announcements tonight, or send copy to office Thursday morning.

Two Men Held as Roommate Dies of Gaping Head Wound

CLEVELAND, Dec. 30.—Charles Plachter's two roommates were being held by police today in connection with Plachter's death, caused by a gaping head wound, presumably caused by an ax blow.

One of the roommates, Joseph Schmeidel, told police a story about the three men playing cards and drinking and an argument. George Novak, the other roommate of Plachter, was said to have snatched up an ax and struck Plachter over the head with it. Novak denies this version.

Plachter is 40.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., Dec. 30.—Seven persons were injured and 20 passengers miraculously escaped death today when a Pittsburgh and Lake Erie freight train crashed into a street car.

Motorman Joseph Fahnerath sustained cuts and bruises on the head and was removed to his home. The others injured were hurt in the panic that ensued following the crash, when the street car nearly overturned.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Dec. 30.—Damage estimated today at $19,000 was caused by a fire which destroyed a barn at the fair grounds race track and burned five horses to death.

The horses destroyed were: Bulbul, valued at $2,000, and Sunny Ducrow, $3,000, owned by R. H. Drew of Chicago; Blue Stone, $5,000, and Require, $3,000, owned by William H. Hall, Latonia, Ky., and Helen G., $2,500, owned by Charles Wilson, of Chicago.

High Prince, owned by Hall and Martha Moore, and Red Squirrel, owned by Wilson, were burned.

Socialist Leader Is Dead.

BUCKEYE STATE BUILDING AND LOAN STOCKHOLDERS AND DEPOSITORS WILL CUT $21,250,000 MELON

COLUMBUS, Dec. 30.—Stockholders and depositors in building and loan associations throughout Ohio will be paid a total of $21,250,000 in interest and dividends within the next few days, according to a prepared statement issued today by James A. Devine, secretary of the Ohio Building Association league.

A similar payment was made in July, last, bringing the amount paid by the institutions in 1925 up to a grand total of $42,500,000.

"If easy money makes a prosperous ondition, then Ohioans will be busy folks during 1926," Devine declared following a survey which he conducted among 10,000 Ohio business men who are directors in building and loan associations. The 936 building and loan companies in Ohio today have total assets of $900,000,000 a gain of $100,000,000 during the last 12 months.

Farmers' Earnings Increase.

Devine's business survey shows that the past year was one of the most prosperous in the history of Ohio building and loan associations, the per capita savings in building and loan associations increasing from $133 to $150. The average deposit in these associations during the past year increases from $500 to $562.

According to Devine in his survey of building and loans, Ohio farmers bettered their financial position decidedly during the year just ending. Not only were most of the 50,000 farm borrowers able to meet their interest payments, but they also cut down their loans.

"Ohio farmers may have had decreased earning power during the last few years, but due to thrift and economy a period of many years, agricultural workers in Ohio have accumulated $465,000,000 in Ohio building and loan associations.' In other words, according to Devine's survey, Ohio farmers have more than one half the total resources of Ohio building and loan associations.

Financed 50,348 Homes.

The building and loan survey further shows that these institutions during 1925 financed 75 per cent of the home building in Ohio, or a total of 50,348 new homes or improvements upon old homes.

The composite viewpoint of 10,000 directors in Ohio building and loan associations indicated that building during 1926 would be confined mostly to residential construction by people who will build homes to live in them. Advance requests for home loans indicate the building of many small homes during the coming year, homes costing from $4,000 to $8,000. Building and loan men believe that speculative building will be materially less than during 1925.

Devine said Ohio building and loan associations now have more available cash than at any similar time during the last five years.

70,000 New Homes Needed.

"We shall not urge home building during 1926 because we have no desire to overbuild any city in the state," Devine declared. "There are cities in Ohio which are now over-built and building and loan associations in these centers will make loans sparingly until this condition is overcome.

"However, we find there are at least 70,000 new home necessary to meet the demand of those who would have homes of their own and if we can finance 75 per cent of this number during 1926, building and loan associations will again be able to keep the building industry prosperous in Ohio."

Devine predicted that the total resources of building and loan associations in Ohio during 1926 would reach the billion dollar mark, thereby putting Ohio in first place among the states of the United States with respect to the assets and resources of its building and loan associations. It is now second only to Pennsylvania.

THURSTON HERE FOR TWO DAYS

Thurston, that name with which thousands have conjured, and as many more have been mystified, who is now making his 20th annual tour, will appear at the Ceramic theatre for Monday and Tuesday, January 4th and 5th, with matinee Tuesday.

With his bewildering array of mysteries, illusions, sleight-of-hand magic prestidigitation and what not, Thurston is presenting a program that is said to be the climax of profoundest achievement in modern magic. His performance is always fascinating, especially a second or third time. In fact, one gets better acquainted with his mysteries but no nearer their elucidation. The many feats he performs continue to be mysterious, and the calm master of all these magical glories remains in the background directing his invisible forces with a quiet play of his hands, or the magic of his large solemn eyes.

Thurston carries a company of 35 people, many of which are pretty girls, and three 60-foot baggage cars are used for the transportation of the huge amount of paraphernalia, animals, scenery and effects that go to make up the best program of his career, and include such bewildering mysteries as "The Great East Indian Rope Trick," "Broadcasting a Woman," "Beauty, the Vanishing Horse," "Disintegration of a Human Form," "The Mystic Follies," "The Vanishing Donkey," "The Human Pin-Cushion," "The Elastic Lady," "The Phantom Princess" who floats out over the stage into the orchestra then vanishing like a cloud in thin air, and one hundred other mysteries.

THURSTON HERE FOR TWO DAYS

Master of Magic at Ceramic Theatre Jan. 4 and 5.

Thurston, that name with which thousands have conjured, and as many more have been mystified, who is now making his 20th annual tour, will appear at the Ceramic theatre for Monday and Tuesday, January 4th and 5th, with matinee Tuesday.

With his bewildering array of mysteries, illusions, sleight-of-hand magic prestidigitation and what not, Thurston is presenting a program that is said to be the climax of profoundest achievement in modern magic. His performance is always fascinating, especially a second or third time. In fact, one gets better acquainted with his mysteries but no nearer their elucidation. The many feats he performs continue to be mysterious, and the calm master of all these magical glories remains in the background directing his invisible forces with a quiet play of his hands, or the magic of his large solemn eyes.

Thurston carries a company of 35 people, many of which are pretty girls, and three 60-foot baggage cars are used for the transportation of the huge amount of paraphernalia, animals, scenery and effects that go to make up the best program of his career, and include such bewildering mysteries as "The Great East Indian Rope Trick," "Broadcasting a Woman," "Beauty, the Vanishing Horse," "Disintegration of a Human Form," "The Mystic Follies," "The Vanishing Donkey," "The Human Pin Cushion," "The Elastic Lady," "The Phantom Princess" who floats out over the stage into the orchestra then vanishing like a cloud in thin air, and one hundred other mysteries.

EAST END

PLANS ARRANGED FOR WATCH MEET

Plans have been completed for the watch night service to be held tomorrow evening in the Pennsylvania Avenue Methodist Episcopal church. Pastors of the various other churches and members of their congregations are invited to attend.

The program will open with an old-fashioned spelling bee at 8 o'clock, closing an hour later. This will be under the auspices of the Epworth League of the church. "Let's Be Friendly Hour" will follow. Love feast is scheduled from 10 to 11 o'clock, while the closing hour will be devoted to watch service.

There will be no mid-week prayer services in the church tonight.

Automobile Is Modern Juggernaut

Columbiana county fatality records, published yesterday by the Review-Tribune, indicate that the automobile is the modern Juggernaut, for 20 of the 61 lives snuffed out under the "sudden death" classification during 1925 were claimed by the automotive vehicle.

The motor car's toll in the entire country is increasing by leaps and bounds just as it is in Columbiana county, judging from the estimate of the department of commerce at Washington that 6,100 lives will be the price paid in 78 large cities for the recklessness of American drivers.

Total deaths due to autos in cities of 100,000 poulation and over in the United States during 1924 were 5,331, while on December 5, this year, the 1925 total was 5,768, and was steadily mounting. At this rate, the total big city slaughter will reach 6,175 before the New Year is ushered in.

And if figures from cities of less than 100,000 population—and this statistical report would include the 20 lives sacrificed in Columbiana county—were available, at least 10,000 would be added to the death toll. Last year, automobiles caused 15,528 of the 75,745 accidental deaths in the United States.

The appalling cost in human life exacted by the speed maniac is driven home by federal reports which show that the national death rate from all causes in 1924 was 11.9 for 100,000 population, compared with 16.8 in automobile fatalities.

Motorists as well as pedestrians should learn a lesson from these figures. And it is observance of common sense traffic regulations.

Water Disputes

Chicago is getting plenty of support for her Lakes-to-Gulf waterway plan. A recent dispatch from that city says that attorneys general of six states have agreed to back her demand for 10,000 cubic feet of water a second from Lake Michigan, for the canal to the Mississippi.

They represent Illinois, Kentucky, Tennessee, Arkansas, Mississippi and Louisiana. They will help defend the suit brought in the United States Supreme Court by Michigan, Wisconsin and other states bordering the Great Lakes, to keep lake water from being diverted in large quantity into the Mississippi.

They need 10,000 feet a second from Lake Michigan, they say, "to maintain permanent water levels in the lower Mississippi and assure year-round navigation."

On the other hand, several northern states say they need that water to maintain permanent water levels in the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence. Also that it is theirs, given them by nature, and other states have no right to it, no matter what their needs may be.

Manifestly it is a case for the highest court to settle, and it has been wise to carry it there and ask for prompt determination.

It is, moreover, the latest and most striking example of the value that water is coming to have in this country for transportation purposes, as well as irrigation, and the conflicting claims that are bound to arise in turning it to public use. The West has had its big dispute over the waters of the Colorado. The Middle West is now disputing about the water of the Great Lakes. Where will the next controversy arise?

Save Rubber

The saving to the American people affected by reducing federal taxes will be eaten up, twice over, by the increased cost of rubber. Present prices are said to be $700,000,000 a year more than the market ought to pay.

Our rubber consumption is mostly in the form of automobile tires. The alleged extortion costs the automobile owner $30 to $70 a year.

The consumer cannot beat this game, but he can help himself to a considerable extent. Secretary of Commerce Hoover says:

"We can reduce our consumption of rubber 25 per cent without decreasing the use of our cars by a single mile, if we will simply repair our tires in time and use them carefully."

Any repair man will save money for the automobilist if the latter can't make the necessary repairs himself, or doesn't want to. Any tire dealer will give general directions for getting the most wear out of tires.

Fast driving overheats tires and wears them out prematurely. Sudden starting and stopping is bad for them. Over-inflation encourages blowouts; under-inflation may break the fabric and ruin them. Moderate and careful driving, and filling holes or cracks in the outer layer of rubber as they develop, may double the life of any tire.

The idea that aristocracy dies out is all nonsense, if kings are aristocrats. You don't find much race suicide in royal families.

Congress always grants relief sooner or later, and so it is in order for a grateful nation to thank its lawmakers for voting to untax mah-jongg sets.

Speaking of feminine rule, "Ma" Ferguson blocks a special session of the Texas legislature and will do all the talking herself.

Mussolini has a heart, at any rate. He let the Italian royal family have a Christmas tree.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—Gotham's most famous citadel of the hang-over is no more. The Murray Hill baths on Forty-second street have been ravaged, looted and knocked down under the auctioneer's hammer, even to the nude statue that stood in the foyer.

It was a soothing haven for the back wash of endurance poker siestas, farewell bachelor dinners and sundry high flings of social clubs. Men, bloated and unsteady, retired to the marble slabbed depths and were pummeled and sweated into pink of first class respectability.

No one was ever paged at the Murray Hill baths nor for an inquirer was anyone ever there. Once one left his clothes behind he might disappear as magically as a wraith of steam in one of the cubicle parlors of perspiration.

Every dawn in the old days showed a row of snoring revelers in winding sheets laid out with morgue-like precision. It could never be imagined that only a few hours before many had been the life of the party—little rays of sunshine illuminating the darkened corner of a grill.

For years stimulation oozed from the dexterous fingers of Bill Guldensuppe, a true Knight of the Bath, and best known among the army of rubbers. Then Bill became chief figure of an historic murder. He was slain by a woman and her lover and the lover was electrocuted at Sing Sing.

No one ever took his place, and the gradual decline of the Murray Hill baths set in. A new set of bloods sprung up and sought other baths and old patrons began to battle with their chronic neuresthenia at the fashionable European spas.

It was in front of the Murray Hill baths the famous "gray murder car" waited while Gyp the Blood, Whitey Lewis and Lefty Louie went forth to pistol the gambler Rosenthal as he stood in a garish rift of light at the entrance of the old Metropole.

No picturesques names now adorn gangland. The old timers—Big Jack Zelig, Kid Dropper, Louis the Lump, Kid Twist and Tanner Smith—died crop of gunmen, with the exquisite as they lived, by the gun. The new manners of their guild, use names that would snugly fit a dancing fop. They do not pounce in with a "Stick 'em up," but a "Pardon the intrusion." Their locks are Valentinoed and gestures are likely to be Brummelish and faces Byronic. They carry pistols and use them, too, but they are no more like the old time gangster than Chicago Red resembles Admiral Crichton. It is told that one in shirted turquise blue was picked up in a smart cafe while perusing "The Dial." He had that morning cleaned out a jewelry shop and shot two in the subsequent chase.

Monk Eastman, a species of the human fungi that grew in the dank East Side cellars, embarked early on a gangster career. He later "went straight" and made a record in the war, but old vices called him and he returned. Primed with drugs and on a sinister errand, he was found near Fourteenth street in a pool of his own blood—shot to death.

Some years ago I interviewed Big Jack Zelig for a New York paper. He as no other had thrown the gang terror into the hearts of stuss dealers and small fry merchants on the East Side. He seemed far removed from the gangster I imagined. He was neatly dressed and had the crisp and aggressive manner of the eminent Herbert Bayard Swope—Swope of the World.

I wished today for the murder lust of a gangster. A limousine rolled over a confused little dog on Park avenue and raced away without stopping.

HASKIN'S LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

The New Marvin Calendar

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 30.—The Gregorian year will lose eight days by the year 13,000. By the year 3600, one day will be irretrievably lost, and each year that passes sees the present method of reckoning time losing time at a definite rate. So, in order to prevent this and to standardize the calendar forever, Dr. Charles F. Marvin, of the United States weather Bureau, has proposed a new calendar which, he says, will stop the practice of wasting days and create a simpler arrangement of time keeping than now is in vogue.

Dr. Marvin's new day and year schedule will be an advancement over the Gregorian calendar, just as that was an improvement over the old Julian calendar. And the Julian calendar was a rather confusing thing. It was better than what had been used before, but it left much room for improvement. So Pope Gregory took advantage o he mistakes made by Caesar and made his own calendar. And now Dr. Marvin thinks Pope Gregory left room for improvement and proposes to correct matters.

The Julian calendar was not accurate. The fundamental purpose of any calendar is to measure and simplify the reckoning of the passage of time. It must be easy to understand, accurate, and convenient, for people will uplnot long tolerate inaccuracies in a calendar. Life is too short and too precious to have the passage of its days confused.

The Julian calendar, if it had not been discarded, would have produced, to say the least, a singular state of affairs. The merry Yuletide and New Year's would eventually have found themselves where the Fourth of July ought to be, while the glorious Fourth, displaced by the winter holidays, would have fled around the circle until it would have shivered and sky-rocketed in the wintry blasts of January. All this would prove rather annoying to tradition and department stores and Christmas verse writers.

Eleven Days Lost

The Gregorian calendar has been in use in England and America for less than 200 years. When George Washington was a stripling he celebrated his birthdays on the eleventh of February, as the Julian calendar was then in use. Just before he was 21, on the third of September, 1752, Great Britain changed calendars and her honest subjects found they were eleven days older and perhaps that many behind the rent. No one could die or be born on the eleven dates omitted, but Washington, at least, made it up, for he was not 21 until the twenty-second of February, 1753, so his year was just the same.

The Gregorian calendar came into almost universal use in 1923, when, on the fourteenth of October, the Greek Orthodox churches threw away the Julian system and adopted the more advanced style. They did this by calling the first of October the fourteenth, thus eliminating the 13 days of excess erroneously introduced by the Julian leap year rule. The Eastern churches, always strongly opposed on religious grounds to the adoption fo the Gregorian calendar, have set up a new and different rule which provides that all years divisible by four are leap years, except that only those centuries remain leap years when the century numbers divided by nine yield a remainder of two or six. This rule, according to Dr. Marvin, is slightly more accurate than the Gregorian rule, but not so accurate as the one he proposes, namely to omit four leap years in 500 years. Three leap years are now omitted in 400 years.

With these changes, for the first time since 1582, when the Gregorian calendar was introduced, 700,000,000 Christians are celebrating Christmas and Easter on the same days.

But Dr. Marvin declares that the calendar is not yet accurate enough. His scheme would standardize the year according to dates and would make this a universal system.

He has his opponents on religious grounds. These people are opposed to his plan because of the verse in the Bible which reads: 'Remember the Sabbath day, to keep it holy. Six days shalt thou labor and do all thy work." But to persons who voice such opposition, he answers that he intends to keep inviolate the seven day week, and that such antagonism usually arises from not understanding what he is trying to do.

Gives Us An Extra Month

Dr. Marvin's calendar would equalize the length of the months by making each of 28 days duration and adding an extra month to the year. By starting on the first of January, 1928, which falls on Sunday, this calendar could be brought into use without affecting the regular order of things. He would not attempt to compute the exact tally of days since the first Sabbath, since that is impossible, and the dates are hopelessly lost in the centuries that have elapsed, but by starting on New Year's Day, 1928, his result could be accomplished with little or no trouble to anybody.

According to this schedule each month would be of exactly four week's duration, thereby doing away with the extra two or three days in the months and in the case of leap year, one extra day in the year. The year 1928 is a leap year and must have 366 days. The new calendar, divided into thirteen months would provide for 364 days. But the two extra days that occur in leap year and the one extra day that occurs every common year would be taken care of by setting them aside and not giving them any week day name. They would be made public holidays and therefore would not interfere with any schedule. They would be skipped, or disregarded, as it were.

The 365th day of the year would fall in the same order as December 31 does now, and would not make any difference in the year. The extra day of leap year would not fall in the same order as February 29 does now, but would be intercalated between the sixth and seventh months of the new calendar.

The extra month of the new calendar would be the seventh month. Dr. Marvin's reason for so placing it is that it would cause less trouble in the matter of displacement of familiar dates. By his new system, he says, "mankind will be spared the constantly shifting day names in the different years now experienced."

A slayer who pleaded guilty and refused the judge's offer of legal aid, was sentenced to death without a trial in London recently, the first case of its kind in thirty-five years.

To Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home

Has no equal for prompt results.
Takes but a moment to make.
Saves about $2

You know that pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several peculiar elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest. Pine is famous for this purpose.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup.

To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make a full pint—more than you can buy ready-made for three times the money. It is pure, good and very pleasant—children take it eagerly.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, orrmay be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—inflamed membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment.

Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Chicago is getting plenty of support for her Lakes-to-Gulf waterway plan. A recent dispatch from that city says that attorneys general of six states have agreed to back her demand for 10,000 cubic feet of water a second from Lake Michigan, for the canal to the Mississippi.

They represent Illinois, Kentucky, Tennessee, Arkansas, Mississippi and Louisiana. They will help defend the suit brought in the United States Supreme Court by Michigan, Wisconsin and other states bordering the Great Lakes, to keep lake water from being diverted in large quantity into the Mississippi.

They need 10,000 feet a second from Lake Michigan, they say, "to maintain permanent water levels in the lower Mississippi and assure year-round navigation."

On the other hand, several northern states say they need that water to maintain permanent water levels in the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence. Also that it is theirs, given them by nature, and other states have no right to it, no matter what their needs may be.

Manifestly it is a case for the highest court to settle, and it has been wise to carry it there and ask for prompt determination.

It is, moreover, the latest and most striking example of the value that water is coming to have in this country for transportation purposes, as well as irrigation, and the conflicting claims that are bound to arise in turning it to public use. The West has had its big dispute over the waters of the Colorado. The Middle West is now disputing about the water of the Great Lakes. Where will the next controversy arise?

Save Rubber

The saving to the American people affected by reducing federal taxes will be eaten up, twice over, by the increased cost of rubber. Present prices are said to be $700,000,000 a year more than the market ought to pay.

Our rubber consumption is mostly in the form of automobile tires. The alleged extortion costs the automobile owner $30 to $70 a year.

The consumer cannot beat this game, but he can help himself to a considerable extent. Secretary of Commerce Hoover says:

"We can reduce our consumption of rubber 25 per cent without decreasing the use of our cars by a single mile, if we will simply repair our tires in time and use them carefully."

Any repair man will save money for the automobilist if the latter can't make the necessary repairs himself, or doesn't want to. Any tire dealer will give general directions for getting the most wear out of tires.

Fast driving overheats tires and wears them out prematurely. Sudden starting and stopping is bad for them. Over-inflation encourages blowouts; under-inflation may break the fabric and ruin them. Moderate and careful driving, and filling holes or cracks in the outer layer of rubber as they develop, may double the life of any tire.

The idea that aristocracy dies out is all nonsense, if kings are aristocrats. You don't find much race suicide in royal families.

Congress always grants relief sooner or later, and so it is in order for a grateful nation to thank its lawmakers for voting to untax mah-jongg sets.

Speaking of feminine rule, "Ma" Ferguson blocks a special session of the Texas legislature and will do all the talking herself.

Mussolini has a heart, at any rate. He let the Italian royal family have a Christmas tree.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—Gotham's most famous citadel of the hang over is no more. The Murray Hill baths on Forty-second street have been ravaged, looted and knocked down under the auctioneer's hammer, even to the nude statue that stood in the foyer.

It was a soothing haven for the back wash of endurance poker siestas, farewell bachelor dinners and sundry high flings of social clubs. Men, bloated and unsteady, retired to the marble slabbed depths and were pummeled and sweated into pink of first class respectability.

No one was ever paged at the Murray Hill baths nor for an inquirer was anyone ever there. Once one left his clothes behind he might disappear as magically as a wraith of steam in one of the cubicle parlors of perspiration.

Every dawn in the old days showed a row of snoring revelers in winding sheets laid out with morgue-like precision. It could never be imagined that only a few hours before many had been the life of the party—little rays of sunshine illuminating the darkened corner of a grill.

For years stimulation oozed from the dexterous fingers of Bill Guldensuppe, a true Knight of the Bath, and best known among the army of rubbers. Then Bill became chief figure of an historic murder. He was slain by a woman and her lover and the lover was electrocuted at Sing Sing.

No one ever took his place, and the gradual decline of the Murray Hill baths set in. A new set of bloods sprung up and sought other baths and old patrons began to battle with their chronic neuresthenia at the fashionable European spas.

It was in front of the Murray Hill baths the famous "gray murder car" waited while Gyp the Blood, Whitey Lewis and Lefty Loule went forth to pistol the gambler Rosenthal as he stood in a garish rift of light at the entrance of the old Metropole.

No picturesques names now adorn gangland. The old timers—Big Jack Zelig, Kid Dropper, Louis the Lump, Kid Twist and Tanner Smith—died crop of gunmen, with the exquisite as they lived, by the gun. The new manners of their guild, use names that would snugly fit a dancing fop. They do not pounce in with a "Stick 'em up," but a "Pardon the intrusion." Their locks are Valentinoed and gestures are likely to be Brummelish and faces Byronic. They carry pistols and use them, too, but they are no more like the old time gangster than Chicago Red resembles Admiral Crichton. It is told that one in shirted turquise blue was picked up in a smart cafe while perusing "The Dial." He had that morning cleaned out a jewelry shop and shot two in the subsequent chase.

Monk Eastman, a species of the human fungi that grew in the dank East Side cellars, embarked early on a gangster career. He later "went straight" and made a record in the war, but old vices called him and he returned. Primed with drugs and on a sinister errand, he was found near Fourteenth street in a pool of his own blood—shot to death.

Some years ago I interviewed Big Jack Zelig for a New York paper. He as no other had thrown the gang terror into the hearts of stuss dealers and small fry merchants on the East Side. He seemed far removed from the gangster I imagined. He was neatly dressed and had the crisp and aggressive manner of the eminent Herbert Bayard Swope—Swope of the World.

I wished today for the murder lust of a gangster. A limousine rolled over a confused little dog on Park avenue and raced away without stopping.

HASKIN'S LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

The New Marvin Calendar

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 30.—The Gregorian year will lose eight days by the year 13,000. By the year 3600, one day will be irretrievably lost, and each year that passes sees the present method of reckoning time losing time at a definite rate. So, in order to prevent this and to standardize the calendar forever, Dr. Charles F. Marvin, of the United States weather Bureau, has proposed a new calendar which, he says, will stop the practice of wasting days and create a simpler arrangement of time keeping than now is in vogue.

Dr. Marvin's new day and year schedule will be an advancement over the Gregorian calendar, just as that was an improvement over the old Julian calendar. And the Julian calendar was a rather confusing thing. It was better than what had been used before, but it left much room for improvement. So Pope Gregory took advantage of the mistakes made by Caesar and made his own calendar. And now Dr. Marvin thinks Pope Gregory left room for improvement and proposes to correct matters.

The Julian calendar was not accurate. The fundamental purpose of any calendar is to measure and simplify the reckoning of the passage of time. It must be easy to understand, accurate, and convenient, for people will uplnot long tolerate inaccuracies in a calendar. Life is too short and too precious to have the passage of its days confused.

The Julian calendar, if it had not been discarded, would have produced, to say the least, a singular state of affairs. The merry Yuletide and New Year's would eventually have found themselves where the Fourth of July ought to be, while the glorious Fourth, displaced by the winter holidays, would have fled around the circle until it would have shivered and sky-rocketed in the wintry blasts of January. All this would prove rather annoying to tradition and department stores and Christmas verse writers.

Eleven Days Lost

The Gregorian calendar has been in use in England and America for less than 200 years. When George Washington was a stripling he celebrated his birthdays on the eleventh of February, as the Julian calendar was then in use. Just before he was 21, on the third of September, 1752, Great Britain changed calendars and her honest subjects found they were eleven days older and perhaps that many behind the rent. No one could die or be born on the eleven dates omitted, but Washington, at least, made it up, for he was not 21 until the twenty-second of February, 1753, so his year was just the same.

The Gregorian calendar came into almost universal use in 1923, when, on the fourteenth of October, the Greek Orthodox churches threw away the Julian system and adopted the more advanced style. They did this by calling the first of October the fourteenth, thus eliminating the 13 days of excess erroneously introduced by the Julian leap year rule. The Eastern churches, always strongly opposed on religious grounds to the adoption fo the Gregorian calendar, have set up a new and different rule which provides that all years divisible by four are leap years, except that only those centuries remain leap years when the century numbers divided by nine yield a remainder of two or six. This rule, according to Dr. Marvin, is slightly more accurate than the Gregorian rule, but not so accurate as the one he proposes, namely to omit four leap years in 500 years. Three leap years are now omitted in 400 years.

With these changes, for the first time since 1582, when the Gregorian calendar was introduced, 700,000,000 Christians are celebrating Christmas and Easter on the same days.

But Dr. Marvin declares that the calendar is not yet accurate enough. His scheme would standardize the year according to dates and would make this a universal system.

He has his opponents on religious grounds. These people are opposed to his plan because of the verse in the Bible which reads: 'Remember the Sabbath day, to keep it holy. Six days shalt thou labor and do all thy work." But to persons who voice such opposition, he answers that he intends to keep inviolate the seven day week, and that such antagonism usually arises from not understanding what he is trying to do.

Gives Us An Extra Month

Dr. Marvin's calendar would equalize the length of the months by making each of 28 days duration and adding an extra month to the year. By starting on the first of January, 1928, which falls on Sunday, this calendar could be brought into use without affecting the regular order of things. He would not attempt to compute the exact tally of days since the first Sabbath, since that is impossible, and the dates are hopelessly lost in the centuries that have elapsed, but by starting on New Year's Day, 1928, his result could be accomplished with little or no trouble to anybody.

According to this schedule each month would be of exactly four week's duration, thereby doing away with the extra two or three days in the months and in the case of leap year, one extra day in the year. The year 1928 is a leap year and must have 366 days. The new calendar, divided into thirteen months would provide for 364 days. But the two extra days that occur in leap year and the one extra day that occurs every common year would be taken care of by setting them aside and not giving them any week day name. They would be made public holidays and therefore would not interfere with any schedule. They would be skipped, or disregarded, as it were.

The 365th day of the year would fall in the same order as December 31 does now, and would not make any difference in the year. The extra day of leap year would not fall in the same order as February 29 does now, but would be intercalated between the sixth and seventh months of the new calendar.

The extra month of the new calendar would be the seventh month. Dr. Marvin's reason for so placing it is that it would cause less trouble in the matter of displacement of familiar dates. By his new system, he says, "mankind will be spared the constantly shifting day names in the different years now experienced."

A slayer who pleaded guilty and refused the judge's offer of legal aid, was sentenced to death without a trial in London recently, the first case of its kind in thirty-five years.

To Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home

Has no equal for prompt results. Takes but a moment to make. Saves about $2

You know that pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several peculiar elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest. Pine is famous for this purpose.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup.

To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make a full pint—more than you can buy ready-made for three times the money. It is pure, good and very pleasant—children take it eagerly.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—inflamed membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment.

Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

CHURCH CHOIR BOYS ATTEND YULE DINNER

Prof. Clark Host to St. Stephen's Singers.

AWARD SWEATERS

Dancing and Games Follow Parish House Banquet.

Members of the choir of the St. Stephen's Episcopal church and a group of friends were guests at a turkey dinner given by Prof. Albert E. Clark, choirmaster and organist, in the parish house, West Fourth street, at 6 o'clock last evening.

The dining room and the main assembly hall were decorated in keeping with the Yuletide season. The choir colors of red and black predominated in the effects.

The dinner, served by a group of church women, consisted of roast turkey, mashed potatoes, baked corn, dressing, celery, rolls, tarts, fruit salad, plum pudding and coffee. Prof. Clark was master of ceremonies.

Short talks were made by Albert Corns, Samuel Mountford, Vincent Meakin, Charles Nelson, W. C. Lynch, Harvey Price, William Kind, Miss Edna Betts and Mrs. W. C. Lynch.

Sweaters were awarded James Massey, John Pennybaker, James Bowen, Clyde Carke, Edwin Smith and Samuel Mountford, Jr. Gold crosses went to Joseph Simpson, Samuel Lowe and Ernest Lowe, while George Pennybaker received a flashlight. A special prize of a pen and pencil was awarded George Simpson. The prizes were furnished by Prof. Clark and W. C. Lynch.

Guests at Party.

Following the speaking, the evening was spent in dancing and games. Special guests, in addition to the choir, were Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Lynch, Vincent Meakin, Harvey Price, Miss Edna Betts, William Stevenson, Albert Corns, William Thompson, Mrs. James Price, Gilbert Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. George Clapperton, Naomi Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Berry, Frank Hancock and John MacDonald, Jr.

Humorist Dinner Guest

from another state but finally as a last resort were compelled to take a Hoosier.

"If there were more toastmasters like Mr. Wells and less speakers like me, banquets would be more popular," began Mr. Pugh in his address. "I am here tonight as a substitute for Ralph Bingham. A substitute, is never popular.

Pities Man Who Can't Laugh.

"I like the introduction which I received tonight. Whenever I hear an extravagant introduction before I am to speak, I look carefully around to see if there is any one in my audience who recognizes me.

"I pity the man, who can't laugh—the man who never has a good time except when he is attending a funeral. I heard of a man up in Michigan the other day, who broke his arm trying to pat himself on the back.

"There's no harm in telling a fish story," the speaker contined. "It's no sin, it's a gift. When you have stiff competition in story telling its a good policy to let the other fellow shoot first. My only reason for telling a mother-in-law story is that they come under the head of entertainment."

Advice to Public Speakers.

Mr. Pugh then gave a burlesque entertainment on "How to Become a Public Speaker."

"All you need to be a public speaker is the public. When you have a different audience each time it makes it easier, for the audience. A public speaker must have gestures to drive home his points. The first gesture is to shake your index finger and say, 'I view with alarm.' That will arouse the interest of your audience to its highest pitch.

"Then the next gesture is to twist your watch chain with your left hand and say, 'We are standing on the brink.' This will also prove a strong point. When you try to bring out a strong point in your address run your fingers through your hair, but be careful that you don't get splinters in them. Always remember, however, that the people you address are human beings.

"God forbid that I should ever tell a woman how to speak. They know how without being told. A woman can make a better speech with a 400-word vocabulary than the average man with 4,000 words at his command. I never alibi; I am married.

Returns To Indiana

"In Mexico, a man who runs for president runs twice—before he's through—once for office and once for his life.

"The measure of a man is the fight he shows when his back is against the wall in the face of difficulties. It takes a man to cheer when the other fellow stars."

The speaker closed his talk with a monologue, reciting a telephone conversation between a Negro servant and his employer over the subject of a balky mule.

Mr. Pugh left East Liverpool on a late car for Steubenville last evening, returning to Rushville, where he will spend New Year's day.

Steamer Calls for Help.

LONDON, Dec. 30.—Distress signals were received today from the steamer Coronado, caught in a violent gale off Landsend. The Coranado, with 60 passengers and a crew of 102, was bound for Jamaica.

Efforts to reach the Coronado later in the day have thus far been in vain.

Owners of the vessel said this morning that they had last heard from the vessel on Tuesday afternoon. There was nothing to indicate at that time that there was trouble.

Possibility that the distress call might have come from a United States shipping board vessel also named Coronado was suggested after owners of the Jamaica-bound vessel of that name reported they were unable to obtain confirmation of the call for help.

It was stated at the owners' office that the call might have come from the American ship.

AMSTERDAM, Holland, Dec. 30.—Six persons were drowned today when a violent wind swept a motorbus off a ferryboat.

A fierce gale was blowing throughout the kingdom today. Almost all the rivers have overflowed.

RUSSELS, Dec. 30.—Factories and private residences were reported under water as a result of the overflowing of rivers and canals under the heavy rainfall today.

Rhine Is Rising.

LONDON, Dec. 30.—The Belgian steamer Comtesse De Flanders has been driven ashore at Eastbourne. The crew has been taken off with great difficulty.

BERLIN, Dec. 30.—Extensive damage has been done by the flooding of the Rhine and all of its main tributaries.

Part of the city of Cologne is already inundated.

Traffic along the Rhine has been suspended. Numerous bridges are blocked.

No lives are reported lost but it is estimated that the economic damage will mount into millions of marks.

LONDON, Dec. 30. — Heavy rains continuing, rivers were overflowing their banks throughout England today. Many towns were isolated by the floods. Thousands of acres were reported under water.

WATCH NIGHT MEETING HERE

Services Will be Held in Nazarene Church Thursday Night.

Rev. Lulu Kell, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, announced today that watch night services would be held in the church Thursday evening following the close of the revival meeting.

The regular meeting will open at 7:30 when the sermon will be given by Rev. M. M. Bussey, of South Vineland, N. J. Special selections in songs will be rendered. The watch night program will begin with an old fashioned love feast, after which several short talks will be given by various speakers. The closing moments of the old year will be spent in prayer by members of the congregation.

Rev. M. M. Bussey.

Evangelistic meetings are being held nightly in the church in charge of Rev. M. M. Bussey. They will close on January 10. Three services will be held Sunday.

MANY TO ATTEND LAUGHLIN PARTY

Newell will be largely represented this evening at the Christmas party to be given in the East Liverpool high school auditorium under the auspices of the employes of the Homer Laughlin China company. Children of the McCullough home at Yellow Creek will be special guests and a number will take part in the program.

No admission fee will be charged, but a silver offering will be taken for the children. Parents are especially urged to bring their children.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS REOPEN MONDAY

Newell and Grant district school will re-open following the Christmas vacation period Monday, January 4. Many of the teachers who have been spending the holidays with relatives and friends in other places are expected to return here the latter part of the week.

Members of the Grant district board of education will probably hold a special session before the regular meeting to fill the vacancy in the teaching staff of the Newell school caused by the death of John William Ammons, who was accidentally killed late last week while visiting at the home of his parents near Fairmont.

CHURCH BODIES TO HOLD SESSION

Election of officers for the Sunday school and Epworth League of the First Methodist Episcopal church will be held Thursday evening in the church.

Following the election song and praise service will be held which will probably continue until the new year is ushered in at midnight.

Watch Parties Arranged.

Number of young people here have arranged to hold watch night parties Thursday evening to usher in the opening of 1926. Music and games will be the chief diversions at these events.

Mock Trial Held Here.

Prayer Services.

Pastors will be in charge of the regular mid-week services this evening in the various local churches.

COUNTY SCOUTS' JAMBOREE AT SALEM TONIGHT

AUTO CARAVAN

Affair Under Direction of County Executive Wilson.

Boy Scouts from Columbiana county council will assemble in the high school gymnasium at Salem at 8 o'clock tonight for their second annual mid-winter jamboree and circus.

Seven events have been listed, points to be awarded for first, second, third and fourth places. The Golden Eagle store of Salem will provide a silver cup for the troop making the largest number of points in the contest.

While the various contests will not start until 8 o'clock, roll call will take place at 7:30 o'clock. The affair will be directed by Harry Wilson, county scout executive, of this city. The public is invited to attend.

Most of the East Liverpool troops will make the trip in automobiles.

Among the guests will be the St. Aloysius Campfire Girls. They will be entertained at a party in the John H. McNicol home in Salem following the jamboree.

The events making up the program are: Inspection, knot tying, signaling, fire by friction, tug-of-war, dressing race and handicraft display. Five questions are to be asked each troop. Two entries may be made by each troop in the knot-tying contest. In signaling each team will be composed of four members. Teams in the tug-of-war must weigh less than 1,000 pounds, one entry to a troop is provided in the dressing race.

SOLONS ORDER FUND TRANSFER

Purchase Two Traffic Lights as They Sing Swan Song.

Singing their swan song, city councilmen last night passed an ordinance transferring $2,500 from the general to the safety fund to meet an outstanding bill for traffic lights and to purchase two additional lights. They also recommended that the incoming solons consider the request of residents of Pleasant Heights that a shed be built and a reel of hose purchased for fire prevention in that district.

The fund transfer measure, brought up for second reading, was passed unanimously under suspension of the rules. No remarks were made on the measure which had been held up at the last session pending conference with the city auditor regarding disposition of other funds.

Councilman Kerr informed council that he had been visited by a delegation from Pleasant Heights who urged better fire prevention. He said the hilltop residents were willing to supply a volunteer force of men if the city would erect a shed and furnish a hose reel. His motion that a recommendation be made to the new council was unanimously adopted.

Minutes of the meeting were read at the close and the solons adjourned sine die.

Smith, moored near Gallipolis, which is said to be in the pathway of the ice were also expressed today. An ice gorge, more than four miles long, is said to be forming just above the town.

The last time the Ohio river was frozen from shore to shore occurred in 1917. Many craft, including river packets, were torn from their moorings and destroyed by the gorges which followed the breaking up of the ice.

Except along the shore, the ice is rough. Several youths, taking advantage of the smooth surface near the wharf-boat, were skating there today.

The mercury last night dropped below zero, registering two and three degrees below early this morning. Rising temperatures are promised today or tomorrow.

Mother's Prayer Answered As Son's Opera Wins Success

BOSTON, Dec. 30.—Three o'clock on a wintry afternoon and a mother knelt in her modest Brookline home and offered up this prayer:

"Oh, God, be with Frank and let his opera be the success that he wants it to be."

At the same hour, half across the continent, in Chicago, (2 p. m. there) W. Frank Harling watched the start of his jazz opera, "A Light From St. Agnes"—saw that it was a mighty success.

Mrs. Joseph E. Harling, mother of the composer, told today of her prayer—told how a few hours later there came a telegram from Frank. "It was like a direct answer to my prayer," she said.

Unlike the proverbial mother-in-law, Mrs. Harling generously assigned all honor to her daughter-in-law, the former Lu Garda Mayer, concert soprano, now in Chicago sharing her husband's triumph. She said:

"I knew the whole opera almost by heart from hearing Frank and his wife—"Siwash" we call her—going over and over the score here in this very house. "Siwash" has been my boy's inspiration from the first."

Papa Harling, sexton in a Brookline church, rose to remark:

"Frank had it in him all the time."

Billy Harling, the composer's son, was a proud lad today. He exhibited a telegram from his father, telling of the success of "A Light From St. Agnes," mentioned that he had been given "A" in music at school and displayed a check for services as chorister at a Brookline church.

Harling, his folks revealed today, began the study of music here when he was a boy on 35 cents set aside each week by his parents.

Afternoon Court Session.

No cases will be tried by Judge Hanley during the forenoon. He will adjourn court at the conclusion of the inaugural cermonies until 1:30 o'clock New Year's afternoon when police court offenders will face him. These will be the only cases to require his attention on New Year's day, which is observed as a holiday in all courts of justice.

Carpenters are at work on the new court headquarters this week, placing it in readiness for sessions.

In the south-east corner of the main court room has been built the judge's bench. Another small platform for the witness chair has been erected. Opposite the judge's bench is the jury box.

Minor alterations are also being made on the second floor of the building where office for the judge, clerk and possibly other municipal officials will be established.

Less than 1,500 of the approximate 6,000 automobile owners in the East Liverpool district have secured 1926 licenses, Deputy Commissioner J. S. Hilbert announced today.

At noon 1,242 licenses had been issued for pleasure cars and about 200 taks for trucks. There has been a steady stream of applicants during the week, but because of the complicated form of the applications only a limited number can be handled each day.

Word from Columbus is to the effect that no time extension will be allowed. Drivers, who appear on the streets January 1, with 1925 plates will be subject to arrest and a fine. License plates have been on sale here since December 10.

The local license office is collecting bills of sale and filing them with the county auditor upon payment of the recording fee by the owner. No licenses will be issued without a bill of sale.

Our standard of living has changed. About 100 years ago only one workman in the United States could earn $1 a day all the year around.

Mr. Green of the American Federation of Labor predicts an early end of the coal strike, now distressing the east and other parts of the country. The thermometer at zero may help. Americans are "docile," as Northcliffe said. You must pinch their fingers with the cold or pinch their pockets hard to make them take action. And, unlike mine workers and owners, the people are not organized.

Wise officials of Silesia order cats, as well as dogs, muzzled. A good idea, but it isn't enough. Cats and dogs should be shaved, as well as muzzled, to make them safe for children that play with them.

If a mother, allowing her child to play with a cat, had microscopic eyes, and would see the disease germs that thrive in the cat's fur, she would shave that cat and wash it in a weak solution of carbolic acid.

CHURCH CHOIR BOYS ATTEND YULE DINNER

Prof. Clark Host to St. Stephen's Singers.

AWARD SWEATERS

Dancing and Games Follow Parish House Banquet.

Members of the choir of the St. Stephen's Episcopal church and a group of friends were guests at a turkey dinner given by Prof. Albert E. Clark, choirmaster and organist, in the parish house, West Fourth street, at 6 o'clock last evening.

The dining room and the main assembly hall were decorated in keeping with the Yuletide season. The choir colors of red and black predominated in the effects.

The dinner, served by a group of church women, consisted of roast turkey, mashed potatoes, baked corn, dressing, celery, rolls, tarts, fruit salad, plum pudding and coffee. Prof. Clark was master of ceremonies.

Short talks were made by Albert Corns, Samuel Mountford, Vincent Meakin, Charles Nelson, W. C. Lynch, Harvey Price, William Kind, Miss Edna Betts and Mrs. W. C. Lynch.

Sweaters were awarded James Massey, John Pennybaker, James Bowen, Clyde Carke, Edwin Smith and Samuel Mountford, Jr. Gold crosses went to Joseph Simpson, Samuel Lowe and Ernest Lowe, while George Pennybaker received a flashlight. A special prize of a pen and pencil was awarded George Simpson. The prizes were furnished by Prof. Clark and W. C. Lynch.

Guests at Party.

Following the speaking, the evening was spent in dancing and games. Special guests, in addition to the choir, were Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Lynch, Vincent Meakin, Harvey Price, Miss Edna Betts, William Stevenson, Albert Corns, William Thompson, Mrs. James Price, Gilbert Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. George Clapperton, Naomi Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Berry, Frank Hancock and John MacDonald, Jr.

The committee of women, who prepared the dinner included Mesdames Thomas Kind, Charles Nelson, Gilbert Simpson, James Stanley, Edward Chetwynd, Arthur Lowe, L. Watkins and R. Smith. The following girls served the dinner: Misses Lavina Kind, Theresa Kind, Mary Lowe, Grace Chetwynd, Nellie Chetwynd, Winifred Nelson, Edna Simpson, Dora Fitzjohn and Maud Williams.

from another state but finally as a last resort were compelled to take a Hoosier.

"If there were more toastmasters like Mr. Wells and less speakers like me, banquets would be more popular," began Mr. Pugh in his address. "I am here tonight as a substitute for Ralph Bingham. A substitute, is never popular.

Pities Man Who Can't Laugh.

"I like the introduction which I received tonight. Whenever I hear an extravagant introduction before I am to speak, I look carefully around to see if there is any one in my audience who recognizes me.

"I pity the man, who can't laugh—the man who never has a good time except when he is attending a funeral. I heard of a man up in Michigan the other day, who broke his arm trying to pat himself on the back.

"There's no harm in telling a fish story," the speaker contined. "It's no sin, it's a gift. When you have stiff competition in story telling its a good policy to let the other fellow shoot first. My only reason for telling a mother-in-law story is that they come under the head of entertainment."

Advice to Public Speakers.

Mr. Pugh then gave a burlesque entertainment on "How to Become a Public Speaker."

"All you need to be a public speaker is the public. When you have a different audience each time it makes it easier, for the audience. A public speaker must have gestures to drive home his points. The first gesture is to shake your index finger and say, 'I view with alarm.' That will arouse the interest of your audience to its highest pitch.

"Then the next gesture is to twist your watch chain with your left hand and say, 'We are standing on the brink.' This will also prove a strong point. When you try to bring out a strong point in your address run your fingers through your hair, but be careful that you don't get splinters in them. Always remember, however, that the people you address are human beings.

"God forbid that I should ever tell a woman how to speak. They know how without being told. A woman can make a better speech with a 400-word vocabulary than the average man with 4,000 words at his command. I never alibi; I am married.

Returns To Indiana

"In Mexico, a man who runs for president runs twice before he's through—once for office and once for his life.

"The measure of a man is the fight he shows when his back is against the wall in the face of difficulties. It takes a man to cheer when the other fellow stars."

The speake, closed his talk with a monologue, reciting a telephone conversation between a Negro servant and his employer over the subject of a balky mule.

Mr. Pugh left East Liverpool on a late car for Steubenville last evening, returning to Rushville, where he will spend New Year's day.

Steamer Calls for Help.

LONDON, Dec. 30.—Distress signals were received today from the steamer Coronado, caught in a violent gale off Landsend. The Coranado, with 60 passengers and a crew of 102, was bound for Jamaica.

Efforts to reach the Coronado later in the day have thus far been in vain.

Owners of the vessel said this morning that they had last heard from the vessel on Tuesday afternoon. There was nothing to indicate at that time that there was trouble.

Possibility that the distress call might have come from a United States shipping board vessel also named Coronado was suggested after owners of the Jamaica-bound vessel of that name reported they were unable to obtain confirmation of the call for help.

It was stated at the owners' office that the call might have come from the American ship.

AMSTERDAM, Holland, Dec. 30.—Six persons were drowned today when a violent wind swept a motorbus off a ferryboat.

A fierce gale was blowing throughout the kingdom today. Almost all the rivers have overflowed.

RUSSELS, Dec. 30.—Factories and private residences were reported under water as a result of the overflowing of rivers and canals under the heavy rainfall today.

Rhine is Rising.

LONDON, Dec. 30.—The Belgian steamer Comtesse De Flanders has been driven ashore at Eastbourne. The crew has been taken off with great difficulty.

BERLIN, Dec. 30.—Extensive damage has been done by the flooding of the Rhine and all of its main tributaries.

Traffic along the Rhine has been suspended. Numerous bridges are blocked.

No lives are reported lost but it is estimated that the economic damage will mount into millions of marks.

LONDON, Dec. 30.—Heavy rains continuing, rivers were overflowing their banks throughout England today. Many towns were isolated by the floods. Thousands of acres were reported under water.

WATCH NIGHT MEETING HERE

Services Will be Held in Nazarene Church Thursday Night.

Rev. Lulu Kell, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, announced today that watch night services would be held in the church Thursday evening following the close of the revival meeting.

The regular meeting will open at 7:30 when the sermon will be given by Rev. M. M. Bussey, of South Vineland, N. J. Special selections in songs will be rendered. The watch night program will begin with an old fashioned love feast, after which several short talks will be given by various speakers. The closing moments of the old year will be spent in prayer by members of the congregation.

Rev. M. M. Bussey.

Evangelistic meetings are being held nightly in the church in charge of Rev. M. M. Bussey. They will close on January 10. Three services will be held Sunday.

MANY TO ATTEND LAUGHLIN PARTY

Newell will be largely represented this evening at the Christmas party to be given in the East Liverpool high school auditorium under the auspices of the employes of the Homer Laughlin China company. Children of the McCullough home at Yellow Creek will be special guests and a number will take part in the program.

No admission fee will be charged, but a silver offering will be taken for the children. Parents are especially urged to bring their children.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS REOPEN MONDAY

Newell and Grant district school will re-open following the Christmas vacation period Monday, January 4. Many of the teachers who have been spending the holidays with relatives and friends in other places are expected to return here the latter part of the week.

Members of the Grant district board of education will probably hold a special session before the regular meeting to fill the vacancy in the teaching staff of the Newell school caused by the death of John William Ammons, who was accidentally killed late last week while visiting at the home of his parents near Fairmont.

CHURCH BODIES TO HOLD SESSION

Election of officers for the Sunday school and Epworth League of the First Methodist Episcopal church will be held Thursday evening in the church.

Following the election song and praise service will be held which will probably continue until the new year is ushered in at midnight.

Watch Parties Arranged.

Number of young people here have arranged to hold watch night parties Thursday evening to usher in the opening of 1926. Music and games will be the chief diversions at these events.

Mock Trial Held Here.

Prayer Services.

Pastors will be in charge of the regular mid-week services this evening in the various local churches.

COUNTY SCOUTS' JAMBOREE AT SALEM TONIGHT

Seven Events Listed in Mid-winter Circus.

AUTO CARAVAN

Affair Under Direction of County Executive Wilson.

Boy Scouts from Columbiana county council will assemble in the high school gymnasium at Salem at 8 o'clock tonight for their second annual mid-winter jamboree and circus.

Seven events have been listed, points to be awarded for first, second, third and fourth places. The Golden Eagle store of Salem will provide a silver cup for the troop making the largest number of points in the contest.

While the various contests will not start until 8 o'clock, roll call will take place at 7:30 o'clock. The affair will be directed by Harry Wilson, county scout executive, of this city. The public is invited to attend.

Most of the East Liverpool troops will make the trip in automobiles.

Among the guests will be the St. Aloysius Campfire Girls. They will be entertained at a party in the John H. McNicol home in Salem following the jamboree.

The events making up the program are: Inspection, knot tying, signaling, fire by friction, tug of war, dressing race and handicraft display. Five questions are to be asked each troop. Two entries may be made by each troop in the knot-tying contest. In signaling each team will be composed of four members. Teams in the tug-of-war must weigh less than 1,000 pounds, one entry to a troop is provided in the dressing race.

SOLONS ORDER FUND TRANSFER

Purchase Two Traffic Lights as They Sing Swan Song.

Singing their swan song, city councilmen last night passed an ordinance transferring $2,500 from the general to the safety fund to meet an outstanding bill for traffic lights and to purchase two additional lights. They also recommended that the incoming solons consider the request of residents of Pleasant Heights that a shed be built and a reel of hose purchased for fire prevention in that district.

The fund transfer measure, brought up for second reading, was passed unanimously under suspension of the rules. No remarks were made on the measure which had been held up at the last session pending conference with the city auditor regarding disposition of other funds.

Councilman Kerr informed council that he had been visited by a delegation from Pleasant Heights who urged better fire prevention. He said the hilltop residents were willing to supply a volunteer force of men if the city would erect a shed and furnish a hose reel. His motion that a recommendation be made to the new council was unanimously adopted.

Minutes of the meeting were read at the close and the solons adjourned sine die.

The last time the Ohio river was frozen from shore to shore occurred in 1917. Many craft, including river packets, were torn from their moorings and destroyed by the gorges which followed the breaking up of the ice.

Except along the shore, the ice is rough. Several youths, taking advantage of the smooth surface near the wharf-boat, were skating there today.

The mercury last night dropped below zero, registering two and three degrees below early this morning. Rising temperatures are promised today or tomorrow.

Mother's Prayer Answered As Son's Opera Wins Success

BOSTON, Dec. 30.—Three o'clock on a wintry afternoon and a mother knelt in her modest Brookline home and offered up this prayer:

"Oh, God, be with Frank and let his opera be the success that he wants it to be."

At the same hour, half across the continent, in Chicago, (2 p. m. there) W. Frank Harling watched the start of his jazz opera, "A Light From St. Agnes"—saw that it was a mighty success.

Mrs. Joseph E. Harling, mother of the composer, told today of her prayer—told how a few hours later there came a telegram from Frank. "It was like a direct answer to my prayer," she said.

Unlike the proverbial mother-in-law, Mrs. Harling generously assigned all honor to her daughter-in-law, the former Lu Garda Mayer, concert soprano, now in Chicago sharing her husband's triumph. She said:

"I knew the whole opera almost by heart from hearing Frank and his wife—"Siwash" we call her—going over and over the score here in this very house. "Siwash" has been my boy's inspiration from the first."

Papa Harling, sexton in a Brookline church, rose to remark:

"Frank had it in him all the time."

Billy Harling, the composer's son, was a proud lad today. He exhibited a telegram from his father, telling of the success of "A Light From St. Agnes," mentioned that he had been given "A" in music at school and displayed a check for services as chorister at a Brookline church.

CHURCHES PLAN WATCH MEETS

Watch night services will be held tomorrow evening in the First United Presbyterian, Nazarene and First Christian churches.

Meeting in the former church will begin at 8 o'clock. There will be a song service and a number of addresses by the pastor, Rev. W. J. H. McKnight, and members of the congregation.

Rev. Samuel Howell, of East Liverpool, will preach in the Nazarene church. Testimony meeting will be one of the principal features. Song and praise services will form part of the program.

Members of the Epworth League will have charge of the meeting in the First Christian church. An address will be given by the pastor, Rev. A. E. Sims. Short talks will be given by other members of the church.

The new year will be ushed in by various groups of young people in the city who have arranged for watch parties. Music and games will be featured.

SUNDAY SCHOOL OFFICERS NAMED

At the meeting of the Sunday school board of the Church of the Nazarene held Monday evening reports showed that there had been an increase of 60 per cent in attendance during the year. The cradle roll had an increase of 50 members with a total enrollment of 74. Finances increased on the same ratio.

The following officers were elected: Superintendent, Jackson Virden; assistant superintendent, Charles Wood; cradle roll superintendent, Mrs. Nelsie Murray; secretary, E. E. Brown; assistant secretary, C. A. Silverthorn; treasurer, E. E. Brown; librarian, Charles Carpenter; assistant librarian, Doll Doty; pianist, Gladys Wood; assistant pianist, Mrs. Pearle Carpenter.

"FATHER AND SON" BANQUET HERE

Approximately 80 persons attended the annual "Father and Son" banquet held last evening in the First Presbyterian church. Dinner was served by women of the congregation.

The principal address was given by Rev. L. J. Davison, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church of East Liverpool. Short talks were given by Rev. W. T. McKee, pastor of the church, and W. T. Parsons, superintendent of the Sunday school. J. L. Mayhew presided as toastmaster.

OFFICIAL BOARD TO HOLD MEETING

There will be a special meeting of the official board of the First Methodist Episcopal church this evening at the close of the mid-week prayer services.

Plans will be made at this session for the revival meetings which will open in the church the latter part of January.

"PASSION FILMS" WILL BE SHOWN

Rev. A. W. Bonnacci, pastor of the Italian mission, Wellsville, will show the "Passion Play" here this evening in the First United Presbyterian church beginning at 8 o'clock. This will be the first showing of the film in Chester and a large crowd is expected.

STATE TAX BOARD TO HOLD SESSION

A meeting of the state tax commission will be held in the next few days, Governor Gore said yesterday. There has been an exchange of views between the governor and members of the commission, resulting in an understanding that they would assemble here this week to perfect an organization and to plan their inquiry into the state's tax problems.

Floor Game Scheduled.

Large crowd is expected to witness the opening game of the basketball season here Saturday night on the Rock Springs park floor between Chester high and a team composed of former high school players. There will be a preliminary game starting at 7:30.

Revival Plans Completed.

Plans have been completed for the series of special meetings which will begin in the First Presbyterian church Sunday evening. Rev. C. G. Jordan, of New Castle, will give the sermons.

Many Attend Banquet.

Large crowd attended the high school banquet last evening in the Masonic temple, First street. Music was furnished by Sayre's orchestra.

Missionary Meeting.

Members of the Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church will meet at 7:30 tomorrow evening with Mrs. E. C. Caughey at her home in Indiana avenue. Regular program will be carried out during the evening.

WARNING GIVEN MACHINE OWNERS

Automobile owners who do not receive their license plates by tomorrow night will be unable to operate their cars beginning with the new year.

C. E. Hiner, member of the state road commission, stated yesterday that it would be impossible to grant any extension of time this year to car owners. There is a provision in the law, Mr. Hiner explained, that will not permit even Governor Gore to extend the time.

To Open Office Here.

Dr. Howard E. Matthew will open an office for the practice of dentistry next Monday in the office formerly occupied by Dr. Miller Wells. He is a graduate of the University of Cincinnati and has been in the office of Dr. J. A. Beiser at Marietta, O. Dr. Wells left several months ago for Florida.

Dr. Howard E. Matthew announces that he will open the office of Dr. Miller Wells, Chester, W. Va., for the general practice of Dentistry, January 6, 1926.

Ben Lyon in Star Role in Picture at American Theatre

Those who mourn the loss to the screen of the late Wallace Reid and the wholesome type of pictures in which he was starred should welcome Bn Lyon's newest picture, "The Pace That Thrills"—a First National production which opens tomorrow at the American theater.

Ben Lyon, who in less than two years has emerged from obscurity to high screen popularity, is considered the real successor to Wally Reid as a portrayer of exuberant youth.

In "The Pace That Thrills," Ben is co-featured with Mary Astor in a lively, rapid-fire comedy-drama which centers around the romance of a Hollywood sheik and the daughter of a film producer. A pampered and petted idol, the screen actor wakes to a realization that the world is laughing at his apparent cowardice. To prove that he isn't yellow, he jumps into a prize-fighting ring and wallops a champion, takes part in a bull fight, and then winds up by driving his car against professionals in an automobile race.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Company, Atlanta, Ga. (adv.)

Added Attraction On "Buzzin Around" Program at Strand

As an added attraction of Claude Long's Buzzin Around company presenting "Sweet Cookie," at the Strand tonight, there will be an old time auction run in conjunction with the regular performance. When the company appeared here several weeks ago they presented this auction and at the popular demand of the Strand patrons it will be repeated tonight after the first performance.

An entire spring outfit for a lady will be auctioned off to the highest bidder. One of the young ladies of the Buzzin Around company will appear as the model. As the articles are sold, the model will remove it from her person and hand it to the purchaser. The articles are of the highest grade merchandise, purchased from the city's leading stores. The money derived from the auction goes to the model and not to the management of the company or the theatre.

"Sweet Cookie" will be presented for the last time tonight. Starting with matinee tomorrow the company will be seen in an entire new bill, "Love Will Find Away." There will be all new specialties and musical numbers. The company will give a special midnight show tomorrow night.

A lovely skin

THAT'S what makes beauty—a lovely skin! A skin perfect in its texture—free from pimples, blackheads or blotches.

And how everybody loves to look at beautiful skin! How they admire the fresh, clean, healthy appearance a perfect skin gives!

And do you know what makes skin lovely? Well, it's healthy, rich, red blood. Healthy blood purifies the system—throws off the impurities that cause skin eruptions.

And S. S. S., that great blood cleanser and builder helps Nature make rich, red blood. You never have to worry with embarrassing skin blemishes when you keep your blood full of healthy red-blood-cells.

Take S. S. S. and have the beautiful skin that belongs to you. And while it's making your skin lovely, S. S. S. is giving you renewed strength and energy, too—building firm, plump flesh—increasing your appetite and making you healthy all over. It's the rich, red blood that S. S. S. helps Nature build that does it.

MACLEAN HEADS LOCAL ALUMNI

Named at Graduates' Annual Dinner-Dance.

Approximately 170 Wellsville high school alumni and friends attended the annual dinner-dance held by the graduates last night in the high school auditorium and gymnasium.

Raymond MacLean was named president of the association, for the coming year, during a brief business session. Other officers named by the graduates are: Vice president, John Grafton; secretary, Ruby Turner; treasurer, Eileen Todd.

Edward T. Fogo was toastmaster. Talks were given by Dr. R. E. Brenneman, of Pittsburgh; Loree Miles, of Paris, France; A. Dale Riley, of the Philippine Islands; Rev. J. K. Pollock, Sharpsburg, Pa.; Mrs. Naomi Forner and Miss J. J. Dickson. Mrs. Dorcas Rusher sang a solo.

CONLEY BROGAN HURT IN CRASH

Bruised and Cut When Autos Collide in Cambridge.

Conley Brogan, 35, former resident of Wellsville, is in a serious condition in the Cambridge hospital as a result of injuries he sustained Monday morning when a truck he was riding in collided with another truck in one of Cambridge's downtown streets.

Brogan, who is employed by the Orr Plumbing company of Cambridge, was in a semi-conscious condition when he was removed from the wreckage and taken to the hospital.

An examination by Dr. George Swan revealed a severe bruise on the left side of his head, a three-inch gash on top of his head and minor cuts and bruises about the head and body. Unless complications develop he is expected to recover, however.

The preliminary examination, according to the attending physician, failed to disclose evidence of a fractured skull.

McKINNON TAKEN TO COUNTY JAIL

William McKinnon, of East Liverpool, charged jointly with Lester Rowley, Anthony Dash and Raymond Carroll with second degree murder following the death of Charles Devle, of Pittsburgh, was taken to the county jail yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Lawrence Kindsvatter, in default of bail.

Bonds of McKinnon, Dash and Carroll were fixed at $3,000, and Rowley's at $5,000.

With the exception of McKinnon, the youths were released when bond was furnished by friends and relatives.

CHILD BURNED BY GRATE FIRE

Backs Into Flames While Playing With Toys.

Robert Sommers, aged 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Sommers, of Washington avenue, was badly burned about his body and legs yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock when he fell against a grate while playing with Christmas toys.

Although his condition was said today by relatives to be serious, the accident is not expected to prove fatal.

The child, apparently, stumbled in front of the fire and was thrown backward into the flames. His screams attracted the attention of his sister, Martha, who was in the room.

The girl, displaying presence of mind in the emergency, seized the youngster, threw him on the floor and rolled him over and over, extinguishing the flames, which almost burned the clothing from his body.

The mother, who was in the house at the time, immediately summoned Dr. J. M. King, who dressed the burns.

WOMAN BURNED BY EXPLODING GAS

Mrs. George Fassett, Sixth street, is suffering from the effects of burns sustained last night at 6 o'clock when gas, accumulated in a kitchen range, exploded in her face.

Mrs. Fassett had returned from East Liverpool and was getting ready to prepare the evening meal.

She struck a match to light the gas range and the explosion occurred. The gas, apparently, had been accumulating in the oven during the afternoon. Her head, face and arms were severely burned. Dr. M. C. Tarr dressed the wounds.

COTERIE PARTY TOMORROW NIGHT

Members of the Calendar Coterie of the Second Presbyterian church will meet tomorrow evening at the home of Mrs. John Lewis, Clark avenue. The affair will take the form of a watch party, the hours being 9 to 12.

The hostesses will be Mrs. John Lewis, Tom Grimes, Mrs. J. C. Davidson, Mrs. John Dustman and Mrs. Ida Patterson.

Mrs. A. J. Gloss will lead the devotionals.

A business session will open the meeting. A musical program will be given from 11 to 12.

Mrs. John Roberts Hostess.

Mrs. John Roberts will be hostess to members of the Cloverleaf Fancywork club this evening at her home in 1810 Danbury avenue. The regular business session and social hour will be followed by luncheon.

JAMES LOVE, 93, SERIOUSLY ILL

James Love, 93 years old, one of Wellsville's oldest citizens, is said to be in a serious condition in the East Liverpool City hospital following a three weeks' illness.

Mr. Love, a Civil war veteran, was taken to the hospital three weeks ago following a hemorrhage of the lungs.

He was a veteran railroad detective following his retirement from the service which he followed for over 40 years.

LOSES CLOTHING, CASH IN FLAMES

T. A. White, of Irondale, teacher in the New Somerset school, lost a trunk containing clothing and money in a fire which Monday razed a two-story fram dwelling owned by Mrs. Anna Cronin, of New Somerset. White roomed at the Cronin home.

The fire, which originated in the kitchen, destroyed the entire house and its contents.

ARREST WOMAN ON LIQUOR CHARGE

Mrs. Harvey Blackwell, arrested Monday by Marshal-Elect Maffett, of Toronto, after an all-night and all-day hunt in the Hollow Rock district, has been jailed in Toronto on a prohibition charge.

The Toronto officers are said to have discovered a still, one hundred gallons of mash, 20 quarts and four gallon jugs of liquor in the woman's house in Hollow Rock.

CHILD BURNED BY GRATE FIRE

Backs Into Flames While Playing With Toys.

Robert Sommers, aged 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Sommers, of Washington avenue, was badly burned about his body and legs yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock when he fell against a grate while playing with Christmas toys.

Although his condition was said today by relatives to be serious, the accident is not expected to prove fatal.

The child, apparently, stumbled in front of the fire and was thrown backward into the flames. His screams attracted the attention of his sister, Martha, who was in the room.

The girl, displaying presence of mind in the emergency, seized the youngster, threw him on the floor and rolled him over and over, extinguishing the flames, which almost burned the clothing from his body.

The mother, who was in the house at the time, immediately summoned Dr. J. M. King, who dressed the burns.

WOMAN BURNED BY EXPLODING GAS

Mrs. George Fassett, Sixth street, is suffering from the effects of burns sustained last night at 6 o'clock when gas, accumulated in a kitchen range, exploded in her face.

Mrs. Fassett had returned from East Liverpool and was getting ready to prepare the evening meal.

She struck a match to light the gas range and the explosion occurred. The gas, apparently, had been accumulating in the oven during the afternoon. Her head, face and arms were severely burned. Dr. M. C. Tarr dressed the wounds.

COTERIE PARTY TOMORROW NIGHT

Members of the Calendar Coterie of the Second Presbyterian church will meet tomorrow evening at the home of Mrs. John Lewis, Clark avenue. The affair will take the form of a watch party, the hours being 9 to 12.

The hostesses will be Mrs. John Lewis, Tom Grimes, Mrs. J. C. Davidson, Mrs. John Dustman and Mrs. Ida Patterson.

Mrs. A. J. Gloss will lead the devotionals.

A business session will open the meeting. A musical program will be given from 11 to 12.

Mrs. John Roberts Hostess.

Mrs. John Roberts will be hostess to members of the Cloverleaf Fancywork club this evening at her home in 1810 Danbury avenue. The regular business session and social hour will be followed by luncheon.

JAMES LOVE, 93, SERIOUSLY ILL

James Love, 93 years old, one of Wellsville's oldest citizens, is said to be in a serious condition in the East Liverpool City hospital following a three weeks' illness.

Mr. Love, a Civil war veteran, was taken to the hospital three weeks ago following a hemorrhage of the lungs.

He was a veteran railroad detective following his retirement from the service which he followed for over 40 years.

LOSES CLOTHING, CASH IN FLAMES

T. A. White, of Irondale, teacher in the New Somerset school, lost a trunk containing clothing and money in a fire which Monday razed a two-story fram dwelling owned by Mrs. Anna Cronin, of New Somerset. White roomed at the Cronin home.

The fire, which originated in the kitchen, destroyed the entire house and its contents.

ARREST WOMAN ON LIQUOR CHARGE

Mrs. Harvey Blackwell, arrested Monday by Marshal-Elect Maffett, of Toronto, after an all-night and all-day hunt in the Hollow Rock district, has been jailed in Toronto on a prohibition charge.

The Toronto officers are said to have discovered a still, one hundred gallons of mash, 20 quarts and four gallon jugs of liquor in the woman's house in Hollow Rock.

METHUSELAH'S WIFE

THIRTY-SIX.

Darkness had poured down the hill and engulfed all of Central City except Main street's brilliant "White Way" when Mrs. Gus Long issued from her half of the double-house and sat down in the squeaky porch swing, lightly humming. Her ear was tured to hear anything that might escape the slightly raised window on the Roester side of the house. Muffled sounds she had been hearing all day indicated that Mr. and Mrs. Roester were in disagreement upon some vital point. After a strained silence she heard the crack of the opening front door, and Mrs. Roester's head appeared.

"Pretty cool to sit out, ain't it?"

"Well, no, not if you've got on wraps enough. I just had to git some air. Com'n out.'

"I guess I will." After an appropriate interval, she appeared wearing the shawl that she liked so much to show off, grand extravagance of a drinking husband.

"How's Mr. Roester?" Mrs. Long asked guilelessly.

"He's feelin' pretty poorly. Bin sick today. Didn't work. It's his back, I guess. He's taken all kinds of bottles of stuff, but it don't seem to do him no good. I tell him he ought to go to a doctor, but he won't."

"That's what I think. I tell him he oughtta go to see a doctor, but he won't. The doctor could tell him what's wrong with him. That's why I want him to go and see a doctor."

"When a body's sick they oughta have something done for themselves," Mrs. Long repeated.

They sat in silence for a moment or two, the swing creaking an accompainment to the asthmetic breathing of "Poppy," the fat, indolent poodle that had followed Mrs. Roester from the house.

Mrs. Long and Mrs. Roester were acquainted with al the gossip of Central City. What they did not acquire from direct observation, they learned through the delivery boys and ice man, or over the clothes-line in the backyard from their more aristocratic neighbors' servants. Neither of these women was blessed with offspring; neither of them boasted any special connections. They had, however, each other. They were sufficient unto themselves. The double house in which they lived was situated midway up the two-block strip of Washington street that rises abruptly from Main street to High avenue and establishes class consciousness in Central City. The front porch of the double house was a reviewing stand from which Mrs. Long and Mrs. Roester watched Central City's social processes.

"Y'know 'twill. Probably have an orchestra."

"Of course they'll have an orchestra, maybe two. And good things to eat."

"Yes, they'll have things to eat, but it won't be no dinner, I guess it'll be a sort of lunch-stand fixed up."

"Yes, with butlers standing around to hand you a sandwich or a cup of coffee."

"They won't drink no coffee. You know they'll have wine."

They lapsed into silence momentarily to watch an automobile go by.

"I wonder if he's invited his first wife?" Mrs. Long giggled, wringing an appreciative response from her companion.

"They say he's been tryin' to send his daughter away to school, but she won't go. I guess he's trying to get her out of the way before her mother comes."

"Yes, and they'll be orchestras and wine. Won't be no prohibition raiders there." Mrs. Roester accompanied her remark with a laugh.

"I bet they won't either."

"Beer, too, I suppose. Well, as far as I'm concerned, I'd rather have beer any time than any wine or anything like that. My husband makes awful good beer.'

"I never have liked beer—except that beer that your husband made that you gave me. I'd rather have ice cream soda any time."

Fat "Poppy's" elaborate scratching held their attention for a moment in which both were quiet.

"They say this young wife of hisn ain't doin' so well. I never did think they'd get along. And people has seen that Wyman Holt around there. . . . You know she don't love no man old enough to be her father.'

"Well, his daughters will watch her. You know they want to get somethin' on her. That married daughter of hisn is oldern she is, y'know."

"Seems like he'd get wise if that Wyman Holt was around there too much."

"Well, if he hadn't been an old fool, he wouldn't have married her."

"His first wife will have a thing or two to say when she gits here."

"You KNOW she will." They laughed ominously.

What they did not acquire from direct observation, they learned through the delivery boys and ice man, or over the clothes-line in the backyard from their more aristocratic neighbors' servants. Neither of these women was blessed with offspring; neither of them boasted any special connections. They had, however, each other. They were sufficient unto themselves. The double house in which they lived was situated midway up the two-block strip of Washington street that rises abruptly from Main street to High avenue and establishes class consciousness in Central City. The front porch of the double house was a reviewing stand from which Mrs. Long and Mrs. Roester watched Central City's social processes.

"Y'know 'twill. Probably have an orchestra."

"Of course they'll have an orchestra, maybe two. And good things to eat."

"Yes, they'll have things to eat, but it won't be no dinner. I guess it'll be a sort of lunch-stand fixed up."

"Yes, with butlers standing around to hand you a sandwich or a cup of coffee."

"They won't drink no coffee. You know they'll have wine."

They lapsed into silence momentarily to watch an automobile go by.

"I wonder if he's invited his first wife?" Mrs. Long giggled, wringing an appreciative response from her companion.

"They say he's been tryin' to send his daughter away to school, but she won't go. I guess he's trying to get her out of the way before her mother comes."

"Yes, and they'll be orchestras and wine. Won't be no prohibition raiders there." Mrs. Roester accompanied her remark with a laugh.

"Beer, too, I suppose. Well, as far as I'm concerned, I'd rather have beer any time than any wine or anything like that. My husband makes awful good beer.'

"I never have liked beer—except that beer that your husband made that you gave me. I'd rather have ice cream soda any time."

Fat "Poppy's" elaborate scratching held their attention for a moment in which both were quiet.

"They say this young wife of hisn ain't doin' so well. I never did think they'd get along. And people has seen that Wyman Holt around there. . . . You know she don't love no man old enough to be her father.'

"Well, his daughters will watch her. You know they want to get somethin' on her. That married daughter of hisn is oldern she is, y'know."

"Seems like he'd get wise if that Wyman Holt was around there too much."

"Well, if he hadn't been an old fool, he wouldn't have married her."

"His first wife will have a thing or two to say when she gits here."

"You KNOW she will." They laughed ominously.

YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE ANSWERED.

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

The answer to questions printed here each day are specimens picked from the mass of inquiries handled by the great information bureau maintained by The Review-Tribune in Washington, D. C. This valuable service is for the fre use of the public. Ask any question of fact you may want to know and you will get an immediate reply. Write plainly, enclose two cents in stamps for return postage, and address The East Liverpool Review-Tribune Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C.

Q. How many telephones are there in the world? C. W. G.

A. The American Telephone and Telegraph company says that according to data at hand they estimate the total number of telephones in the world on January 1, 1925, as 25,982,000, and the total telephone wire mileage as 76,114,000. Since some figures are not yet available the figures given are subject to revision.

Q. Does the Dipper really revolve around the North Star? D. J. T.

A. The Naval Observatory says that the motion of the Dipper is only apparent, the real motion being that of the earth. The axis on which the earth rotates points nearly to the North Star, which therefore appears to remain nearly stationary with the other stars circling it.

Q. Can a submarine send a radio message when the boat is submerged? H. A. B.

A. There is a limit to the depth at which messages can be sent satisfactorily. This depth is about 30 or 40 feet.

Q. How do the distances over which the record throw of a lacrosse ball, cricket ball and baseball compare? A. C. M.

A. T. S. Andrews' World's Sporting Annual Record Book says that a lacrosse ball was thrown 497 feet 7½ inches by B. Quinnn, Ottawa, in September, 1902; a cricket ball was thrown 422 feet by R. Percival, Durham Sands, England, April, 1884; a baseball was thrown 426 feet 9½ inches by Sheldon LeJeune, October, 1910.

Q. When a bee stings an insect will the bee die? E. D.

A. The Department of Agriculture says that when a bee stings another insect it can, as a rule, withdraw its stinger, thereby doing no harm to itself.

Q. Where is the pearl essence obtained that is used to cover pearl beads? M. E. R.

A. Pearl essence is obtained by rubbing off a substance from the scales of certain fish, freeing from foreign matter and suspending in water or other suitable liquid. In this country the scales of herring and menhaden are used.

Q. Is the expression, "flaming youth," a quotation? C. E. M.

A. It is a quotation from Shakespeare's Hamlet, Act III, scene 4, occurring in the clause "To flaming youth let virtue be as wax and melt in her own fire."

Q. Is Texas considered a fig producing state? A. R. T.

A. The fig industry in southeastern Texas is growing rapidly and possibly not more than half of the trees have yet come into bearing. Thousands of acres have been planted during the last two years and several large plantings will be put in this coming winter, according to local reports. This seems to be the crop best adapted to the fertile, level, coastal-plain country of Texas.

Q. Can you suggest a way of cleaning a violin? M. P.

A. To clean guitars, violins, etc., mix equal quantities of linseed oil, turpentine and water. Shake well to form an emulsion or cream. Rub the instrument with a cloth dampened in this cream, wipe dry and polish with a woolen cloth, chamois or velveteen.

Q. Can an architect's plans be protected by a patent? N. R.

A. Not by a patent. However, they are entitled to protection under the copyright laws.

Q. Are any of the Bonapartes living in France? C. G. R.

A. Various members of the Bonaparte family are still living in France. Among them is Prince Roland Bonaparte, the great nephew of Napoleon I.

When Your Furnace Fire Falls Down on the Job

THE surest, cleanest, cheapest way to get abundant warmth any hour of the day or night at a moment's notice is a Welsbach Radiant Heater. You have merely to twist the self-lighter—no matches are required—and a broad expanse of ember-like glowers leape into flame and floods your room with healthful, high-powered, instant warmth.

What a difference such heating service will make on icy mornings before the furnace gets on the job, or through long, cold winter evenings. Once installed in your home and working for your comfort, day by day, you'll wonder how you ever got along without it.

NEWS FROM TOWNS IN TRI-STATE DISTRICT

LISBON

M. K. Zimerman, West Park Ave. Phone 319-R. Lisbon, O.

GRAND JURY TO MEET NEXT WEEK

More Than 60 Cases to Be Investigated by Jurors.

Preparation for work that will be laid before the grand jury when it convenes next Monday morning has created unusual activity about the office of Prosecuting Attorney Robert M. Brookes, who with his assistant John E. Banuknecht of East Palestine will present probably 60 cases to the jury. This means the heaviest grand jury in this county in recent years.

Transcripts from lower courts continue to be received by Clark of Courts Frank Ballantine.

More than 100 witnesses will be summoned to appear before the grand jury from present indications. There may be more. Up to the close of business Tuesday afternoon 53 transcripts had been filed from lower courts, and at least six more are known to be ready for filing.

Sheriff George Wright, who left Lisbon Monday night for the east to conduct a probe concerning in important case that has been brought to the attention of Prosecutor Brookes will not return until Thursday.

Charges vary from the robbing of poultry houses to the furnishing of liquor that resulted in a death. One charge of arson is to be probed. Cases against W. C. Beverly and Edward Postal charged with shady stock transactions will be probed. Beverly is out on $5,000 bail, while Postal is in jail under $25,000 bond.

One of the last transcripts to be filed came from the court of Mayor Galen Lodge, Leetonia.

In this instance John Fagan has been arranged on a charge of arson, being charged with the buring of a coal house owned by Camella Mauro of Leetonia, and valued at $100. He is now held in default of $1,000 bond.

Charges of highway robbery have been filed against others now being held in the county jail.

Several cases wherein different men have been charged with complicity in the same crimes have been consolidated, and this will tend to relieve the work of the grand jury.

It is the desire of Prosecutor Brookes to have the grand jury report to the court Thursday afternoon of next week if possible, but there is no assurance at this time that such a fast schedule will be maintained, owing to the volume of cases that are to be investigated.

Final Sheep Claims Approved by Board Of Commissioners

Last sheep claims for the current year have been approved for payment by the county commissioners. Records in the office of County Auditor Charles E. Hamilton show that 417 sheep were killed during the last year and 90 were injured. One hog was killed and two cows. Between $3,000 and $4,000 in claims have been approved for payment.

Ralph Myers of West township had 22 sheep killed during 1925, which is the record single claim filed. Several claims for 18 sheep killed appear on the record.

Hereafter all sheep claims will be paid annually in December as provided by a recent law and which is now in effect.

All of the sheep claims were paid on the basis of the valuation placed upon them by their owners at the time personal tax returns were sworn to and filed last April. Where the valuation of a sheep was placed at $5 and it was killed, and the claim was put in at $10, it was paid on the basis of the $5 valuation.

Where the valuation was placed at $10 and the claim was for $10, such claims were also approved. Sheep claims were paid twice during the current year, but here after the claims will be paid in December only. Money for these claims is taken from the dog and kennel fund, which is created by the payment of the dog license tax

Bulletin Received.

County Agent Floyd Lower has received from the state department of Agriculture a bulletin entitled "Potato Growing in Ohio," of which N. W. Glines, extension specialist in vegetable gardening is the author. This bulletin is an exhaustive study of potato culture in this state, and goes into detail relative to the culture.

The bulletin is for free distribution to those who are interested in potato growing, and a copy may he had by filing an application with the county agent.

Bank Meets Called.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Firestone National and the People's State bank of Lisbon will be held the afternoon of January 13, it was announced at both banks Wednesday.

At these meetings boards of directors will be chosen for the new year, and organization meeting will likely follow. On account of the death of H. F. Wilson, another will be chosen to succeed him on the board at the Firestone bank.

Plant Opening Delayed.

On account of the delay in the receipt of new machinery, operations will not be resumed at the plant of the Summitville Brick company until probably February, it was announced by J. L. Johnson, general manager. The capacity of the plant has been increased by a larger brick machine being installed, and a larger dry press. Orders continue to be received, and the company will be in a position to operate steadily when all machinery is received and installed.

DEEDS FOR LAND STILL UNFILED

"No deeds have been filed with the county commissioners for land for right of way purposes for the proposed highway from Stop 55 at the Lincoln Highway south to join with Intercounty highway 502 or the East Liverpool-Youngstown intercounty highway," announced Clerk L. H. Johnson Wednesday.

Several months ago property owners along this proposed road filed with the commissioners an offer to deed a 60-foot right of way paralleling the Y. & O. road from Stop 55 south, and this agreemnt was accepted by the board. Recently the commissioners in sonsidering the grading program for 1925 mentioned this road, but as no deeds have been filed the matter has been placed on file.

GRAND JURY TO MEET NEXT WEEK

More Than 60 Cases to Be Investigated by Jurors.

Preparation for work that will be laid before the grand jury when it convenes next Monday morning has created unusual activity about the office of Prosecuting Attorney Robert M. Brookes, who with his assistant John E. Banuknecht of East Palestine will present probably 60 cases to the jury. This means the heaviest grand jury in this county in recent years.

Transcripts from lower courts continue to be received by Clark of Courts Frank Ballantine.

More than 100 witnesses will be summoned to appear before the grand jury from present indications. There may be more. Up to the close of business Tuesday afternoon 53 transcripts had been filed from lower courts, and at least six more are known to be ready for filing.

Sheriff George Wright, who left Lisbon Monday night for the east to conduct a probe concerning in important case that has been brought to the attention of Prosecutor Brookes will not return until Thursday.

Charges vary from the robbing of poultry houses to the furnishing of liquor that resulted in a death. One charge of arson is to be probed. Cases against W. C. Beverly and Edward Postal charged with shady stock transactions will be probed. Beverly is out on $5,000 bail, while Postal is in jail under $25,000 bond.

One of the last transcripts to be filed came from the court of Mayor Galen Lodge, Leetonia.

In this instance John Fagan has been arranged on a charge of arson, being charged with the buring of a coal house owned by Camella Mauro of Leetonia, and valued at $100. He is now held in default of $1,000 bond.

Charges of highway robbery have been filed against others now being held in the county jail.

Several cases wherein different men have been charged with complicity in the same crimes have been consolidated, and this will tend to relieve the work of the grand jury.

It is the desire of Prosecutor Brookes to have the grand jury report to the court Thursday afternoon of next week if possible, but there is no assurance at this time that such a fast schedule will be maintained, owing to the volume of cases that are to be investigated.

Final Sheep Claims Approved by Board Of Commissioners

Last sheep claims for the current year have been approved for payment by the county commissioners. Records in the office of County Auditor Charles E. Hamilton show that 417 sheep were killed during the last year and 90 were injured. One hog was killed and two cows. Between $3,000 and $4,000 in claims have been approved for payment.

Ralph Myers of West township had 22 sheep killed during 1925, which is the record single claim filed. Several claims for 18 sheep killed appear on the record.

Hereafter all sheep claims will be paid annually in December as provided by a recent law and which is now in effect.

All of the sheep claims were paid on the basis of the valuation placed upon them by their owners at the time personal tax returns were sworn to and filed last April. Where the valuation of a sheep was placed at $5 and it was killed, and the claim was put in at $10, it was paid on the basis of the $5 valuation.

Where the valuation was placed at $10 and the claim was for $10, such claims were also approved. Sheep claims were paid twice during the current year, but here after the claims will be paid in December only. Money for these claims is taken from the dog and kennel fund, which is created by the payment of the dog license tax

Bulletin Received.

County Agent Floyd Lower has received from the state department of Agriculture a bulletin entitled "Potato Growing in Ohio," of which N. W. Glines, extension specialist in vegetable gardening is the author. This bulletin is an exhaustive study of potato culture in this state, and goes into detail relative to the culture.

The bulletin is for free distribution to those who are interested in potato growing, and a copy may he had by filing an application with the county agent.

Bank Meets Called.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Firestone National and the People's State bank of Lisbon will be held the afternoon of January 13, it was announced at both banks Wednesday.

At these meetings boards of directors will be chosen for the new year, and organization meeting will likely follow. On account of the death of H. F. Wilson, another will be chosen to succeed him on the board at the Firestone bank.

Plant Opening Delayed.

On account of the delay in the receipt of new machinery, operations will not be resumed at the plant of the Summitville Brick company until probably February, it was announced by J. L. Johnson, general manager. The capacity of the plant has been increased by a larger brick machine being installed, and a larger dry press. Orders continue to be received, and the company will be in a position to operate steadily when all machinery is received and installed.

DEEDS FOR LAND STILL UNFILED

"No deeds have been filed with the county commissioners for land for right of way purposes for the proposed highway from Stop 55 at the Lincoln Highway south to join with Intercounty highway 502 or the East Liverpool-Youngstown intercounty highway," announced Clerk L. H. Johnson Wednesday.

Several months ago property owners along this proposed road filed with the commissioners an offer to deed a 60-foot right of way paralleling the Y. & O. road from Stop 55 south, and this agreemnt was accepted by the board. Recently the commissioners in sonsidering the grading program for 1925 mentioned this road, but as no deeds have been filed the matter has been placed on file.

Seeks Citizenship.

George Theiss, aged 19, a laborer, and a native of Rumania, has filed his declaration of intent to become a citizen of the United States. He resides at 118 Fair street, Salem, and arrived in the United States June 18, 1907.

A similar declaration has been filed by John Rushton, aged 21 years, a laborer, residing on the Lincoln highway, Liverpool township. He is a native of Burslem, England, and arrived at New York March 4, 1925.

Dr. Church to Retire.

Dr. T. T. Church, of Salem, county health commissioner, will retire from office Thursday after completing two years' service. He will be succeeded by Dr. C. H. York, a recent medical graduate, and who will enter upon a new phase of work.

Mrs. Helen O Brien, of Lisbon, will continue as clerk to the board for the next fiscal year, while Miss Nellie Masters will continue as public health nurse. Dr. Church will continue the practice of medicine at Salem, in addition to his activity with the Salem board of health.

Filing Sale Bills.

With the filing of 265 automobile bills of sale with Clerk of Courts Frank Ballantine Tuesday, all previous filing records were broken. The previous peak was 193 attained last week.

Should the activity continue, Clerk Ballantine is of the opinion that the record for the month will go between 2,500 and 3,000 bills, which will be the heaviest recording since the law became effective.

Salineville

Mrs. J. H. Lewey, aged 50, sister of Rev. W. S. Martin, pastor of the Salineville Presbyterian church, died Monday at her home in Bluefield, W. Va. She had been an invalid for 10 years. She leaves her husband and three sons and two daughters: Doyle, Kennedy, Frank, Gertrude and Mrs. Robert Heard, all of Bluefield; one sister, Mrs. G. E. G. Munsey, Eggleston, Va., and one brother, Rev. W. S. Martin. She was a member of the Methodist church. Rev. Martin was unable to attend the funeral owing to poor train connections.

Repairs have been completed to the First Presbyterian church and the edifice will be opened Sunday evening with a program as follows: "Old Hundred," invocation; hymn No. 252; scripture lesson by visiting minister, solo, Boice James; hymn, No. 203; prayer by visiting minister; selection, Salineville male quartet; sermon, Rev. H. M. Peebles, pastor of the Millport Presbyterian church; duet, "My Wonderful Dream;" report of building committee; offering; selection; quartet; benediction.

Improvements cost approximately $4,000 and include new pews and carpet, with the addition of a balcony and six Sunday school rooms. Members of the various churches and pastors are invited to attend. The committee in charge is composed of W. S. Martin, chairman; S. B. Larkins, secretary; O. M. Ashbaugh, treasurer; Allen Maple, Herman Graubner and Charles Johnson.

Alumni and High Basketball Teams Set For Clashes Tonight

Double Bill Will Ring Down Curtain On 1925 School Athletics Here

Strength of Both Graduate Teams Indicates Pair of Hard Fought Contests; Feminine Athletes to Play at 7 O'clock; "Slim" Bromby, Mt. Union Star, Unable to Get Into Lineup as Result of Injured Knee.

THE Blue and White will bid adieu to sport activities of the year 1925 tonight on the school gymnasium in their annual clash with graduate stars of E. L. H. S.

A two-ply card has been arranged for the occasion with both girls' teams and boys' fives in action, the feminine contingents being slated for the preliminary engagement, which, Athletic Director Boone announced today, will start promptly at 7 o'clock, quarter of an hour earlier than customary. And, as a result, the main go will be launched at 8 o'clock.

Saying it with baskets, Coach Lorah's lads realize, will be no easier tonight than it was a couple of weeks ago against Franklin & Marshall, for the Alumni quintet lined up for the occasion is composed of performers who, save possibly one or two exceptions, are in top trim as a result of basketball activities with other teams.

Bob Pusey, heavier and faster than a year ago when he was in school here, and with his experience at Franklin & Marshall as an additional aid, will be stationed at one of the Alumni forwards. Don DeBolt, of W. & J., one of the most brilliant scorers turned out by the school in recent years, will be at the other. Pusey is a bear on floor work and DeBolt is equally as good at counting up the points. Firth Smith, who lost his chance to star for high school a year ago when he injured an arm in football, will be jumping center. Smith has been working with Denison college cage teams and will be capable of holding up his end of the assignment.

Little comment is needed for the guards — "Chuck" McConville, also one of Sam Taylor's F. & M. lads, and Dale Liebschner—they speak for themselves, and they also play scholastic basketball in a way that's hard to criticize.

Bromby Unable to Play.

Colin "Slim" Bromby, of Mt. Union, former scholastic star here, has been aching to get into the tussle but he won't be physically able.

Bromby was a member of last year's Ohio Conference team turned out at Mt. Union by Raymond Detrick, former Wittinberg luminary, and, prior to going to Mount, athletic director at Wellsville.

Last football season he injured a knee. Ligaments were torn loose and other physical damage caused. Bromby, anxious to get back into harness, in face of a stiff conference schedule, did not give the injured knee sufficient time to heal and it was hurt again, with the result that he was taken out for the season. And, besides, he has been unable to work out with the Mount basketball squad.

Tom Pusey and either Elmer English or Wilson will start at forwards for Lorah, with Bough at center. Paul English will draw one of the guard assignments with Vincent or Allison at the other. Vincent is a new recruit this fall. He comes from Germantown high, near Philadelphia, where he was a first string performer last year. Although he has been slow in getting started with the Blue and White he finally unlimbered last week and displayed enough stuff to warrant Lorah giving him a tryout against the kind of basketball they play in eastern Ohio.

McElravey, D. Cooper, Kannall and G. Weaver of last year's girl's team will be with the Alumni lassies tonight, along with Hoffman and Leona McConville, captain two years ago.

Bill Watkins, noted Tri-State referee, will handle the main go.

Boys.

Alumni.		High School.
Bob Pusey	F	Tom Pusey
DeBolt	F	E. English, Wilson
Smith	C	Bough
McConville	G	P. English
Liebschner	G	Vincent, Allison

Girls.

Alumni.		High School.
McElravey	F	Corns
Kannall	F	C. Imbrie
Hoffman	F	Gilliland
D. Cooper	G	Wilson
L. McConville	G	Barnhart

M'GRAW FAILS TO MAKE ANY CLUB CHANGES

Announces Practically Same Players Pirates Beat.

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—Headed south for Florida where spaces are sub-divided and men are reitors, John McGraw left in his immediate rear a list of 38 ball players who will be taken to the training camp of the Giants and the general impression that either he has conceded the 1926 pennant to the Pittsburgh Pirates or that he has an advantageous deal in prospect. The roster made public contains virtually the same personnel that finished second to the Pirates in 1925.

McGraw cannot afford to stand pat. Yet, ostensibly, that is what he is planning to do. He said he would return to New York for the February baseball meetings, at which, he intimated, something might happen. He gave the bland impression of one who didn't care whether anything did or not.

It was hardly the attitude of a manager who has allowed his club to grow old in spots.

Banks on New Catcher.

He seemed to think that Hugh McMullen, a young man who poined the club late in the 1925 season, will add the necessary sparkle to the catching staff, the remainder of which is made up of Frank Snyder and Grover Hartley. These worthies are somewhat aged.

So is Heine Groh, slated to start at third base unless young Lindstrom shows a return of his 1924 form. Lindstrom was more or less of a flop last year. A new centerfielder to replace Bill Southworth, who seems definitely to have lost the ability he knew in Pittsburgh and Boston, also is needed. Al Tyson was a riot in Louisville but full many a small time wonder has proved a big time Boloney.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

By Norman E. Brown

The boxing game is made up of many types of fighters—the "smart" fighters, the "hit and get away" type, the haymakers, the "shadow boxers" and others. There is one class, too, which is referred to commonly as the "tough birds."

Ask any of the leading fighters in any division to meet one of the "tought birds" and he'll balk. Pressed for a reason he'll assume a very intelligent air and tell you: "Well, you see, he's just a dummy. He swings wildly and without any knowledge of boxing, and it's hard to dope him out."

JOHN R. SKO

Now the real reason for the hesitancy is, however, an inborn fear that one of those wild, unorthodox swings will land flush on the leading light's jaw and leave him in a very undignified albeit an entirely orthodox position on the canvas.

These hard boys, as a rule, entered boxing in the belief that one's ability to sock an opponent for a goal in the shortest possible time was the measure of his success in the ring.

And, having started out with that idea, to the mutual advantage of himself and his manager, he has failed to acquire the knowledge that this good old K. O., while a money maker, is more exacting than other methods of fighting which, properly applied, will draw a gate. The more shrewd boxer, meanwhile, has come to the realization that fancy footwork, proper pressagenting and skillful matching can be employed to kid the public as to his real worth.

John Risko, Cleveland heavyweight, is an example of a "tough bird." Risko is so tough that most of the leading heavies and light heavies want none of his stuff. This includes Paul Berlenbach, light heavyweight champ, who turned down a chance to meet him.

Sully Montgomery, looming up big at the time as a heavy possibility, was signed with Risko at the time Berlenbach had the chance. Montgomery's reach, weight and speed (for a young heavy) made him a heavy favorite, except with those who knew Risko.

Montgomery outboxed, outstepped and outgeneraled Risko, but the latter kept hammering back and was still up and at Sully at the final bell.

Jack Renault, Canadian heavy and once rated at least as a "logical successor" to Jack Dempsey, accepted a bout with Risko. The former's rep had traveled ahead of him and impressed everyone in Cleveland but Risko, who proceeded to give the Canadian all he had for 12 rounds.

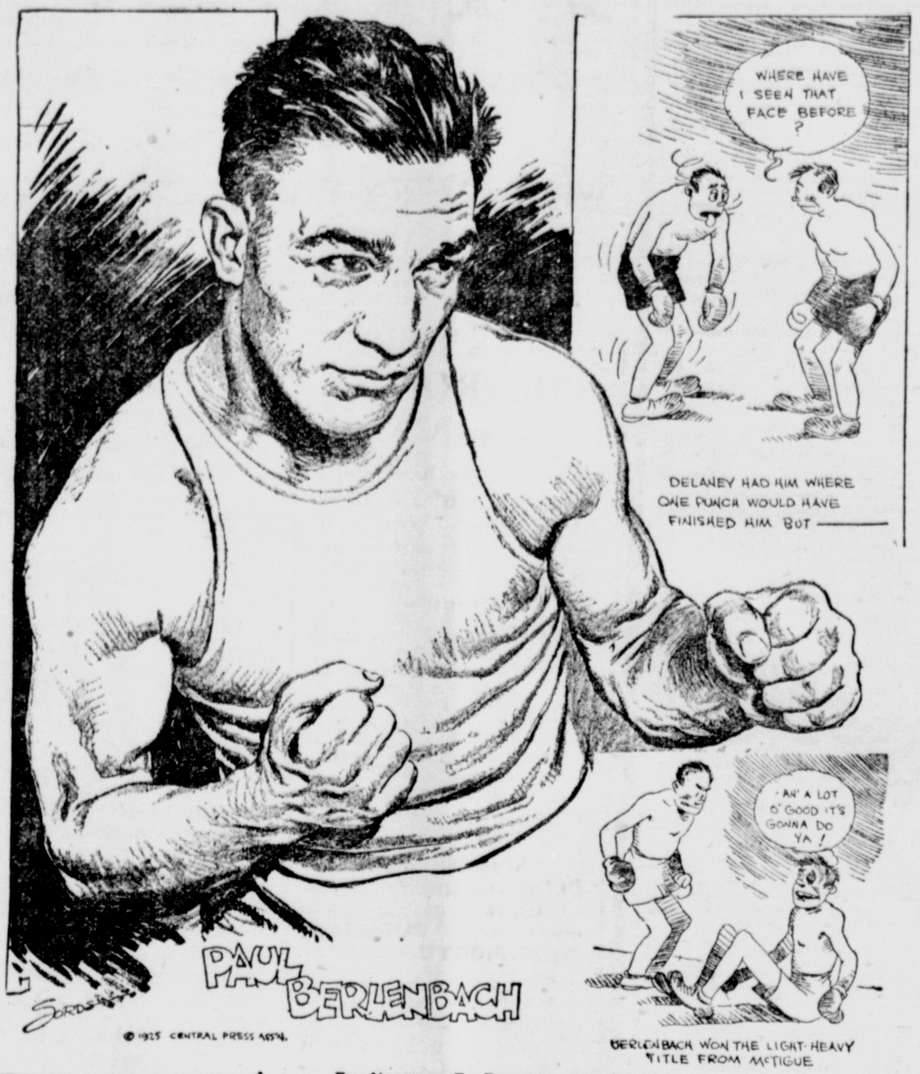

No one in Risko's town had ever viewed him in the light of a championship contender when he was matched with Gene Tunney, one of the outstanding challengers for Dempsey's title. To Tunney the bout loomed like a workout. As it turned out Gene had 12 rounds of splendid opportunity to perfect his defense—if you want to be kind to Gene. For Mr. Risko apparently hadn't heard about Gene's victory over Gibbons et al. He just waded in and was still wading at the end of 12 rounds. Tunney, not in the best of shape, made a sorry showing.

When Promoter Paul Hamilton signed Risko to meet Young Bob Fitzsimmons (son of old Bob, of course) in Cleveland Jan. 4, the bout wasn't made with the idea of selecting someone Risko could lick. It was a case of getting someone who would fight Risko. Not because Risko is a great fighter. Not because he is a championship contender. Not because he is a heady, brainy boxer with a wallop. But simply because he is one of the "tough birds"—and the wise boys want none of his stuff. He makes 'em all look bad.

More miles of federal-aid roads were completed in 1925 than in any other year, 11,329 miles.

Berlenbach's Greatest Victory of The Year

Was Over Joe Precedent and He Won by a Punch

BERLENBACH WON THE LIGHT-HEAVY TITLE FROM MCTIGUE

By Norman E. Brown.

The most active man in the boxing "400" in 1925—that exclusive circle which includes major and minor champions and near champs who are worth more to the game than some of the kings—was Mr. Paul Berlenbach.

Paul not only grabbed off one of the minor headpieces for himself—the world's light heavyweight crown—but fought in defense of his title, which is more than any other honest-to-goodness champ did during 1925. One or two others dawdled around a bit, of course, but the fights were little play hours.

Paul won his title by defeating the smiling, willing, crafty, beautiful defensive fighter, Michael Dublin McTigue. Whatever luck should have accrued to Mike through winning the title from a black man on St. Patrick's day deserted him on the night he fought Paul. The green tights meant not a thing to Paul, who proceeded to make Mike's tummy a brilliant pink with body punches.

This is Paul's Second Start.

Berlenbach started a couple of years ago to seek the light heavy title. He was going great guns when Delaney stepped into the ring against him. Jack, a French Canadian, started talking lumber camp Latin to him and while Paul was trying to parse some of the verbs Delaney sunk him.

Now it is tradition that an up and coming youngster, socked on the button at the critical period in his career, never regains the confidence, the complete absence of fear, that he had in his first spurt. Thus handicapped he begins to fight cautiously. He carries a tendency to dog it when the going gets rough.

Jimmy Slattery was aware of that when the Buffalo youngster was offered a match with Berlenbach. But Burlenbach fooled him and his adherents. The Jersey lad fought a confident, heady battle throughout the bout, which ended with Slattery sleeping on the floor.

Despite this surprising showing Jack Delaney laughed a bit when offered a return bout with Berlenbach. That laugh, lingering a bit until the late rounds of the fight, was his undoing.

Delaney was in poor shape when the chance was offered him to meet Pushing Paul. The former had been ill with pneumonia. His friends advised him that three months was a short period in which to regain his health and tune himself for a battle.

"But I can lick him. I've got his number," said Delaney.

When the two met it seemed for a time as though Delaney was right. In the fourth round, for example, he floored Berlenbach with the same punch which had spelled disaster in the first encounter. Berlenbach was groggy. His knees caved. His brain was fogged. One more punch, timed perfectly, would have brought the end. But Delaney must have been too confident of the result, unless dumb to take advantage of the opening. Whatever the reason Jocko failed to shove over that last punch. He fiddled around—while Berlenbach shook his brain clear and gathered a bit of strength in his legs.

From that point on Berlenbach turned the tables against Delaney. It was Jack and not Paul who fought on the defensive. And now Paul is on the high road again. The year 1926 should bring him a large bundle of coin, if he is properly handled. If he retains his present willingness to mix it with the best of them he should be one of the busiest men in the ring game.

Heavens knows the sport needs someone who can fight.

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—Warren F. Coen, Jr., 14-year-old entry from Kansas City, was one of the notable survivors today when the fourth round of the National Junior Tennis championship and the third round of the boys' event started at the Seventh Regiment armory. The youthful middle westerner won two matches in each of the championships yesterday and has come to be regarded as a serious contender in both.

Among the other survivors of the boys' championship this morning included Judson Morris, Hartford, Conn.; Le Roy Voorheis, Cincinnati; Donald Frame and Fred Roll, local entries; Frank Shields, runner-up in 1924, and Walter Thomas, Elmore, N. J., the favorite.

Some of those who remained in the junior championship, in addition to Coen, were Edward Jacobs, Baltimore City college; John Millen, University of Pennsylvania; Donald Strachan, Philadelphia; Caesar Cone, University of North Carolina; Gregory Mangan and Lemoine Heuser, Montclair, N. J., and Edward Jenkins and Julius Seligson, of New York.

FORECAST BANNER YEAR FOR HOCKEY

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—Although definite forecast is impossible because the full season overlaps into 1926, early indications are that hockey will enjoy its greatest year. Tex Rickard has organized a team in New York and nightly crowds of 15,000 have been no novelty. The team is a member of the National Hockey league, which also has clubs in Pittsburgh, Boston, Ottawa, Montreal and Toronto.

Pacific Coast Guard To Pilot Pro Eleven

SAN FRANCISCO—"Buck" Bailey, one of the greatest guards ever developed in Pacific coast football, has turned professional, and will captain a team to play Red Grange's Chicago Bears next month.

Muldoon and Farley To be Reappointed

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—Reappointment of James E. Farley and William Muldoon as members of the New York State Athletic commission by Governor Smith is freely predicted in sport and political circles here. Their terms expire tomorrow. The term of George E. Brower, third member of the board, has another year to run.

CAGE CHAMPS EASY VICTORS

M. P. Quint Runs up 75-19 Score on Penn Ave. Five.

M. P. quint of the Sunday school cage circuit added another victory last night on the M. P. court when they swamped the Penn Ave. passers by the count of 75 to 19.

The avenue outfit offered little opposition to the league champions, who cinched the game in the first half with a 36 to 13 score. The second period was a repetion of the first, the M. P.'s running up the record score, thus far, of the season.

Mackey found the baskets for 16 double pointers and four foul goals, breaking the individual scoring record for the season. Ankrim and Todd followed Mackey in scoring, while the work of Carey and Weikart at the guards was of high order.

Staley, E. Rose, McKim and H. Rose performed the best for the avenue lads. The lineup:

First M. P.		Penn Ave. M. E.
C. Mackey	F	Staley
Ankrim	F	Sanford
Todd	C	E. Rose
Weikart	G	McKim
Carey	G	H. Rose

Substitutions — Boyd for Ankrim, Bailey for Boyd, Heath for Sanford.

Referee—Canne.

PARK PASSERS RALLY TO BEAT BAPTIST QUINT

PARK BOULEVARD basketballers were too strong for the Baptists in a church league contest last night on the I. O. O. F. court, winning by the decisive count of 33 to 17.

The Boulevard lads outclassed the opposition in general team work but they were off in their shots for the basket during the first three periods of the game, and, as a result, the Baptists were in the lead for the majority of the engagement. The Parks found the hoops in the final period to win.

The Baptists were ahead at the end of the first period, 5 to 3, and increased it to 11 to 6 at the half. The Boulevard five rallied in the third quarter and deadlocked the score at 15 to 15.

Barnes was first to count in the final canto. Hall tied it up with a field goal. F. Kirkham's double decker put the Parks in the lead again and after that they never lost it, raining shot after shot through the Baptists' basket. In all around performance, O. Kirkham starred for the winners and G. Mackey, Hall and Kittridge were the chief performers for the losers.

The lineups:

Park Boulevards		Baptists
Barnes	F	G. Mackey
Azdell	F	Hall
O. Kirkham	C	Parsons
F. Kirkham	G	Kittridge
Crawford	G	Fugate

Field goals—O. Kirkham 7, Barnes 3, F. Kirkham 2, Hall 4, Mackey 4.

Foul goals—O. Kirkham 4, F. Kirkham 2, Crawford 2, Barnes, Hall.

Referee—McConville.

Presby. Jrs.		Baptist Jrs.
Burbick	F	Fugate
Doe	F	Lane
Orr	C	Kittridge

Alumni and High Basketball Teams Set For Clashes Tonight

Double Bill Will Ring Down Curtain On 1925 School Athletics Here

Strength of Both Graduate Teams Indicates Pair of Hard Fought Contests; Feminine Athletes to Play at 7 O'clock; "Slim" Bromby, Mt. Union Star, Unable to Get Into Lineup as Result of Injured Knee.

THE Blue and White will bid adieu to sport activities of the year 1925 tonight on the school gymnasium in their annual clash with graduate stars of E. L. H. S.

A two-ply card has been arranged for the occasion with both girls' teams and boys' fives in action, the feminine contingents being slated for the preliminary engagement, which, Athletic Director Boone announced today, will start promptly at 7 o'clock, quarter of an hour earlier than customary. And, as a result, the main go will be launched at 8 o'clock.

Saying it with baskets, Coach Lorah's lads realize, will be no easier tonight than it was a couple of weeks ago against Franklin & Marshall, for the Alumni quintet lined up for the occasion is composed of performers who, save possibly one or two exceptions, are in top trim as a result of basketball activities with other teams.

Bob Pusey, heavier and faster than a year ago when he was in school here, and with his experience at Franklin & Marshall as an additional aid, will be stationed at one of the Alumni forwards. Don DeBolt, of W. & J., one of the most brilliant scorers turned out by the school in recent years, will be at the other. Pusey is a bear on floor work and DeBolt is equally as good at counting up the points. Firth Smith, who lost his chance to star for high school a year ago when he injured an arm in football, will be jumping center. Smith has been working with Denison college cage teams and will be capable of holding up his end of the assignment.

Little comment is needed for the guards — "Chuck" McConville, also one of Sam Taylor's F. & M. lads, and Dale Liebschner—they speak for themselves, and they also play scholastic basketball in a way that's hard to criticize.

Bromby Unable to Play.

Colin "Slim" Bromby, of Mt. Union, former scholastic star here, has been aching to get into the tussle but he won't be physically able.

Bromby was a member of last year's Ohio Conference team turned out at Mt. Union by Raymond Detrick, former Wittinberg luminary, and, prior to going to Mount, athletic director at Wellsville.

Last football season he injured a knee. Ligaments were torn loose and other physical damage caused. Bromby, anxious to get back into harness, in face of a stiff conference schedule, did not give the injured knee sufficient time to heal and it was hurt again, with the result that he was taken out for the season. And, besides, he has been unable to work out with the Mount basketball squad.

Tom Pusey and either Elmer English or Wilson will start at forwards for Lorah, with Bough at center. Paul English will draw one of the guard assignments with Vincent or Allison at the other. Vincent is a new recruit this fall. He comes from Germantown high, near Philadelphia, where he was a first string performer last year. Although he has been slow in getting started with the Blue and White he finally unlimbered last week and displayed enough stuff to warrant Lorah giving him a tryout against the kind of basketball they play in eastern Ohio.

McElravey, D. Cooper, Kannall and G. Weaver of last year's girl's team will be with the Alumni lassies tonight, along with Hoffman and Leona McConville, captain two years ago.

Bill Watkins, noted Tri-State referee, will handle the main go.

Boys.

Alumni.		High School.
Bob Pusey	F	Tom Pusey
DeBolt	F	E. English, Wilson
Smith	C	Bough
McConville	G	P. English
Liebschner	G	Vincent, Allison

Girls.

Alumni.		High School.
McElravey	F	Corns
Kannall	F	C. Imbrie
Hoffman	F	Gilliland
D. Cooper	G	Wilson
L. McConville	G	Barnhart
G. Weaver	G	Waggle

M'GRAW FAILS TO MAKE ANY CLUB CHANGES

Announces Practically Same Players Pirates Beat.

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—Headed south for Florida where spaces are sub-divided and men are reltors, John McGraw left in his immediate rear a list of 38 ball players who will be taken to the training camp of the Giants and the general impression that either he has conceded the 1926 pennant to the Pittsburgh Pirates or that he has an advantageous deal in prospect. The roster made public contains virtually the same personnel that finished second to the Pirates in 1925.

McGraw cannot afford to stand pat. Yet, ostensibly, that is what he is planning to do. He said he would return to New York for the February baseball meetings, at which, he intimated, something might happen. He gave the bland impression of one who didn't care whether anything did or not.

It was hardly the attitude of a manager who has allowed his club to grow old in spots.

Banks on New Catcher.

He seemed to think that Hugh McMullen, a young man who poined the club late in the 1925 season, will add the necessary sparkle to the catching staff, the remainder of which is made up of Frank Snyder and Grover Hartley. These worthies are somewhat aged.

So is Heine Groh, slated to start at third base unless young Lindstrom shows a return of his 1924 form. Lindstrom was more or less of a flop last year. A new centerfielder to replace Bill Southworth, who seems definitely to have lost the ability he knew in Pittsburgh and Boston, also is needed. Al Tyson was a riot in Louisville but full many a small time wonder has proved a big time Boloney.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

BY NORMAN E BROWN

The boxing game is made up of many types of fighters—the "smart" fighters, the "hit and get away" type, the haymakers, the "shadow boxers" and others. There is one class, too, which is referred to commonly as the "tough birds."

Ask any of the leading fighters in any division to meet one of the "tought birds" and he'll balk. Pressed for a reason he'll assume a very intelligent air and tell you: "Well, you see, he's just a dummy. He swings wildly and without any knowledge of boxing, and it's hard to dope him out."

JOHN R.SKO

Now the real reason for the hesitancy is, however, an inborn fear that one of those wild, unorthodox swings will land flush on the leading light's jaw and leave him in a very undignified albeit an entirely orthodox position on the canvas.

These hard boys, as a rule, entered boxing in the belief that one's ability to sock an opponent for a goal in the shortest possible time was the measure of his success in the ring.

And, having started out with that idea, to the mutual advantage of himself and his manager, he has failed to acquire the knowledge that this good old K. O., while a money maker, is more exacting than other methods of fighting which, properly applied, will draw a gate. The more shrewd boxer, meanwhile, has come to the realization that fancy footwork, proper pressagenting and skillful matching can be employed to kid the public as to his real worth.

John Risko, Cleveland heavyweight, is an example of a "tough bird." Risko is so tough that most of the leading heavies and light heavies want none of his stuff. This includes Paul Berlenbach, light heavyweight champ, who turned down a chance to meet him.

Sully Montgomery, looming up big at the time as a heavy possibility, was signed with Risko at the time Berlenbach had the chance. Montgomery's reach, weight and speed (for a young heavy) made him a heavy favorite, except with those who knew Risko.

Montgomery outboxed, outstepped and outgeneraled Risko, but the latter kept hammering back and was still up and at Sully at the final bell.

Jack Renault, Canadian heavy and once rated at least as a "logical successor" to Jack Dempsey, accepted a bout with Risko. The former's rep had traveled ahead of him and impressed everyone in Cleveland but Risko, who proceeded to give the Canadian all he had for 12 rounds.

No one in Risko's town had ever viewed him in the light of a championship contender when he was matched with Gene Tunney, one of the outstanding challengers for Dempsey's title. To Tunney the bout loomed like a workout. As it turned out Gene had 12 rounds of splendid opportunity to perfect his defense—if you want to be kind to Gene. For Mr. Risko apparently hadn't heard about Gene's victory over Gibbons et al. He just waded in and was still wading at the end of 12 rounds. Tunney, not in the best of shape, made a sorry showing.

When Promoter Paul Hamilton signed Risko to meet Young Bob Fitzsimmons (son of old Bob, of course) in Cleveland Jan. 4, the bout wasn't made with the idea of selecting someone Risko could lick. It was a case of getting someone who would fight Risko. Not because Risko is a great fighter. Not because he is a championship contender. Not because he is a heady, brainy boxer with a wallop. But simply because he is one of the "tough birds"—and the wise boys want none of his stuff. He makes 'em all look bad.

More miles of federal-aid roads were completed in 1925 than in any other year, 11,329 miles.

Berlenbach's Greatest Victory of The Year

Was Over Joe Precedent and He Won by a Punch

BERLENBACH WON THE LIGHT HEAVY TITLE FROM MCTIGUE

By Norman E. Brown.

The most active man in the boxing "400" in 1925—that exclusive circle which includes major and minor champions and near champs who are worth more to the game than some of the kings—was Mr. Paul Berlenbach.

Paul not only grabbed off one of the minor headpieces for himself—the world's light heavyweight crown—but fought in defense of his title, which is more than any other honest-to-goodness champ did during 1925. One or two others dawdled around a bit, of course, but the fights were little play hours.

Paul won his title by defeating the smiling, willing, crafty, beautiful defensive fighter, Michael Dublin McTigue. Whatever luck should have accrued to Mike through winning the title from a black man on St. Patrick's day deserted him on the night he fought Paul. The green tights meant not a thing to Paul, who proceeded to make Mike's tummy a brilliant pink with body punches.

This is Paul's Second Start.

Berlenbach started a couple of years ago to seek the light heavy title. He was going great guns when Delaney stepped into the ring against him. Jack, a French Canadian, started talking lumber camp Latin to him and while Paul was trying to parse some of the verbs Delaney sunk him.

Now it is tradition that an up and coming youngster, socked on the button at the critical period in his career, never regains the confidence, the complete absence of fear, that he had in his first spurt. Thus handicapped he begins to fight cautiously. He carries a tendency to dog it when the going gets rough.

Jimmy Slattery was aware of that when the Buffalo youngster was offered a match with Berlenbach. But Burlenbach fooled him and his adherents. The Jersey lad fought a confident, heady battle throughout the bout, which ended with Slattery sleeping on the floor.

Despite this surprising showing Jack Delaney laughed a bit when offered a return bout with Berlenbach. That laugh, lingering a bit until the late rounds of the fight, was his undoing.

Delaney was in poor shape when the chance was offered him to meet Pushing Paul. The former had been ill with pneumonia. His friends advised him that three months was a short period in which to regain his health and tune himself for a battle.

"But I can lick him. I've got his number," said Delaney.

When the two met it seemed for a time as though Delaney was right. In the fourth round, for example, he floored Berlenbach with the same punch which had spelled disaster in the first encounter. Berlenbach was groggy. His knees caved. His brain was fogged. One more punch, timed perfectly, would have brought the end. But Delaney must have been too confident of the result unless dumb to take advantage of the opening. Whatever the reason Jocko failed to shove over that last punch. He fiddled around—while Berlenbach shook his brain clear and gathered a bit of strength in his legs.

From that point on Berlenbach turned the tables against Delaney. It was Jack and not Paul who fought on the defensive. And now Paul is on the high road again. The year 1926 should bring him a large bundle of coin, if he is properly handled. If he retains his present willingness to mix it with the best of them he should be one of the busiest men in the ring game.

Heavens knows the sport needs someone who can fight.

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—Warren F. Coen, Jr., 14-year-old entry from Kansas City, was one of the notable survivors today when the fourth round of the National Junior Tennis championship and the third round of the boys' event started at the Seventh Regiment armory. The youthful middle westerner won two matches in each of the championships yesterday and has come to be regarded as a serious contender in both.

Among the other survivors of the boys' championship this morning included Judson Morris, Hartford, Conn.; Le Roy Voorheis, Cincinnati; Donald Frame and Fred Roll, local entries; Frank Shields, runner-up in 1924, and Walter Thomas, Elmore, N. J., the favorite.

Some of those who remained in the junior championship, in addition to Coen, were Edward Jacobs, Baltimore City college; John Millen, University of Pennsylvania; Donald Strachan, Philadelphia; Caesar Cone, University of North Carolina; Gregory Mangan and Lemoine Heuser, Montclair, N. J., and Edward Jenkins and Julius Seligson, of New York.

FORECAST BANNER YEAR FOR HOCKEY

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—Although definite forecast is impossible because the full season overlaps into 1926, early indications are that hockey will enjoy its greatest year. Tex Rickard has organized a team in New York and nightly crowds of 15,000 have been no novelty. The team is a member of the National Hockey league, which also has clubs in Pittsburgh, Boston, Ottawa, Montreal and Toronto.

Pacific Coast Guard To Pilot Pro Eleven

SAN FRANCISCO—"Buck" Bailey, one of the greatest guards ever developed in Pacific coast football, has turned professional, and will captain a team to play Red Grange's Chicago Bears next month.

Muldoon and Farley To be Reappointed

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—Reappointment of James E. Farley and William Muldoon as members of the New York State Athletic commission by Governor Smith is freely predicted in sport and political circles here. Their terms expire tomorrow. The term of George E. Brower, third member of the board, has another year to run.

CAGE CHAMPS EASY VICTORS

M. P. Quint Runs up 75-19 Score on Penn Ave. Five.

M. P. quint of the Sunday school cage circuit added another victory last night on the M. P. court when they swamped the Penn Ave. passers by the count of 75 to 19.

The avenue outfit offered little opposition to the league champions, who cinched the game in the first half with a 36 to 13 score. The second period was a repetion of the first, the M. P.'s running up the record score, thus far, of the season.

Mackey found the baskets for 16 double pointers and four foul goals, breaking the individual scoring record for the season. Ankrim and Todd followed Mackey in scoring, while the work of Carey and Weikart at the guards was of high order.

Staley, E. Rose, McKim and H. Rose performed the best for the avenue lads. The lineup:

First M. P.		Penn Ave. M. E.
C. Mackey	F	Staley
Ankrim	F	Sanford
Todd	C	E. Rose
Weikart	G	McKim
Carey	G	H. Rose

Substitutions — Boyd for Ankrim, Bailey for Boyd, Heath for Sanford.

Referee—Canne.

PARK PASSERS RALLY TO BEAT BAPTIST QUINT

PARK BOULEVARD basketballers were too strong for the Baptists in a church league contest last night on the I. O. O. F. court, winning by the decisive count of 33 to 17.

The Boulevard lads outclassed the opposition in general team work but they were off in their shots for the basket during the first three periods of the game, and, as a result, the Baptists were in the lead for the majority of the engagement. The Parks found the hoops in the final period to win.

The Baptists were ahead at the end of the first period, 5 to 3, and increased it to 11 to 6 at the half. The Boulevard five rallied in the third quarter and deadlocked the score at 15 to 15.

Barnes was first to count in the final canto. Hall tied it up with a field goal. F. Kirkham's double decker put the Parks in the lead again and after that they never lost it, raining shot after shot through the Baptists' basket. In all around performance, O. Kirkham starred for the winners and G. Mackey, Hall and Kittridge were the chief performers for the losers.

The lineups:

Park Boulevards		Baptists
Barnes	F	G. Mackey
Azdell	F	Hall
O. Kirkham	C	Parsons
F. Kirkham	G	Kittridge
Crawford	G	Fugate

Field goals—O. Kirkham 7, Barnes 3, F. Kirkham 2, Hall 4, Mackey 4.

Foul goals—O. Kirkham 4, F. Kirkham 2, Crawford 2, Barnes, Hall.

Referee—McConville.

Presby. Jrs.		Baptist Jrs.
Burbick	F	Fugate
Doe	F	Lane
Orr	C	Kittridge
Blake	G	O'Brien
Ward	G	Serafy

Foul goals—Burbick.

First Half must be paid not later than January 20th, 1926. Last Half must be paid not later than June 20th, 1926.

The correct way to pay a full year's tax without penalty is to pay in December for December and the following June.

Penalty on delinquent Real Estate and Personal Property is 10 per cent.

When writing for a statement of your taxes, remember property appears on the Treasurer's books in the name of the person having title on April, 12, 1925, and that the law requires the Treasurer's books and receipts to be made out in the name of the party owning property when the lien took effect.

Lisbon, Ohio, 1925.

In writing for statement of taxes, always send last receipt, or give name fo owner in April, 1925, stating plainly in what city, town or township located, and whether real or personal property.

When you write for statement or pay by mail, enclose a self addressed stamped envelope for reply.

Examine your receipts and see that they are correct before you leave the Treasurer's Office.

Treasurer's Office will be open from 7:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m.

JO PIKE,
County Treasurer,

First Half must be paid not later than January 20th, 1926. Last Half must be paid not later than June 20th, 1926.

The correct way to pay a full year's tax without penalty is to pay in December for December and the following June.

Penalty on delinquent Real Estate and Personal Property is 10 per cent.

When writing for a statement of your taxes, remember property appears on the Treasurer's books in the name of the person having title on April, 12, 1925, and that the law requires the Treasurer's books and receipts to be made out in the name of the party owning property when the lien took effect.

Lisbon, Ohio, 1925.

In writing for statement of taxes, always send last receipt, or give name fo owner in April, 1926, stating plainly in what city, town or township located, and whether real or personal property.

When you write for statement or pay by mail, enclose a self addressed stamped envelope for reply.

Examine your receipts and see that they are correct before you leave the Treasurer's Office.

Treasurer's Office will be open from 7:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m.

JO PIKE,
County Treasurer,

Published at East Liverpolo, Ohio, in the Review-Tribune, December 16, 26, 30, 1925 and January 6, 13 and 20, 1926.

'No, No, Nanette,' World-Wide Musical Hit, Here Tomorrow

"No, No, Nanette" in its conquering sweep around the world, comes to East Liverpool Thursday night at the Ceramic theatre.

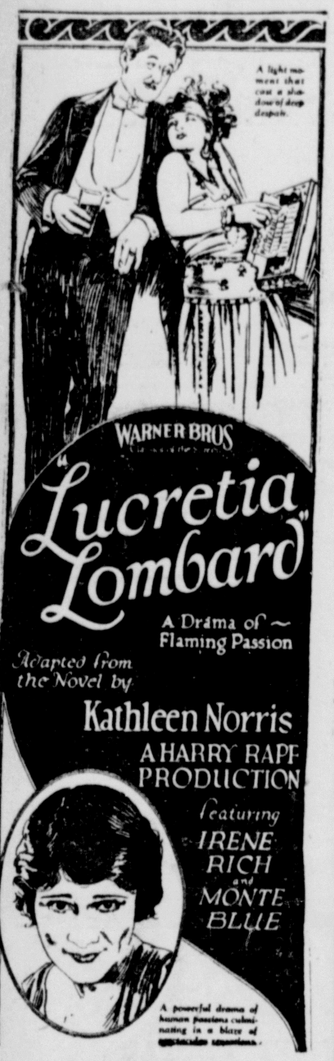

This musical comedy sensation, sparkling with the life and joyousness of youth, has far surpassed the success of any other musical production of this generation. It is something to have a production so new and fresh and merry as "No, No, Nanette" in all the splendor and enthusiasm of its first performance, untouched and unmarred by the wearing process of the road.

Rarely have critics everywhere spoken with such enthusiasm of a new play; and everywhere the response on the box office is overwhelming. The lines and situations of Mr. Mandel and Mr. Harbach's book are received with unceasing laughter; the well tuned lyrics of Irving Caesar have caught the popular fancy; while in the songs the youthful composer, Vincent Youmans, has rivalled even his own "Bambalina" and other hits in "Wildflower." Scarcely is there a number that does not win from two to four encores. The various comedians and other principals spring into instant favor and beauty and skill of Mr. Frazee's "Gorgeous garden of girls" will challenge any ever introduced by Mr. Zeigfield. Best of all is "No, No, Nanette" in its evident good taste in every moment of the performance. There is no attempt at the undraped costumes or other appeal to the sense; its one reason for being in the cast of this delightful musical play, is expressed in its chief song hit, "I Want To Be Happy."
